Maclean's Better Life Series

A Series of Studies in Christian Living.
By REV. JOHN MACLEAN, M.A., PH.D.

Cloth, each 50c, net, Postpaid

THE MAKING OF A CHRISTIAN—Second Edition Studies in the Art of Holy Living

REV. G. R. TURK: "The charm of the style is its rugged Anglo-Saxon, the language of the Bible and of 'Pilgrim's Progress.' It fairly bristles with monosyllabic sword-points. It may be the enthusiasm of recent contact, but I know of no book of its class to excel, and very few to equal, 'The Making of a Christian.'"

PROF. RIDDELL, in Vox Westeyana: "This is a strong and wholesome work . . . the form of life presented as the ideal of a Christian is singularly high and worthy."

BETTER LIVES FOR COMMON PEOPLE Studies of the Way of Peace

The Canadian Epworth Era: "Such books ought to have a wide circulation among our young people. They will help wonderfully in the development of Christian character."

The Christian Guardian: "It presents the reader with a thoroughly New Testament ideal of Christian Living."

The Methodist Times (London England): "We have enjoyed this book. The style is elegant, the illustrations are chaste and plentiful, and the teaching is sane and helpful."

THE DESTINY OF TO-DAY Studies in Conscience and Character

REV. DR. WITHROW, in Onward: "Dr. Maclean is rendering important service to his Church, to all the Churches, by his admirable books on Christian themes. They not only present the very marrow and fatness of the Gospel, but present it in a literary form that will make it attractive to every reader. . . . They are as good in their way as Dr. Van Dyke's or Hamilton Wright Mabie's."
