

iated. Miss Craig delighted everyone with an interesting recitation and the popular Men's Chorus Club excelled themselves. Promenading, interspersed with refreshments, was much indulged in, and evidently thoroughly enjoyed. Quite properly so, for indeed all things were propitious; the rain threatened but refrained, the teachers serenely beamed upon everyone, and nobody had to teach for two whole days. It is hoped that of this part of our college work "still there's more to follow."

What became of Macdonald's third promenade?

Ask B-ch-n to tell you his experience of dark halls.

Will the gentleman who thinks he knows Miss D-r-ton, kindly give heed to his discriminatory powers?

The Literary Society.

On the first Friday in the term, Oct. 5th, the Literary Society was organized, the following officers being elected:

Hon. { J. A. McLellan, M. A., LL. D.
Presidents, { R. A. Thompson, B. A.
Patron—Dr. Woolverton.
President—A. W. Keith, B. A.
1st Vice-President—Miss M. L. Bollert, B. A.
2nd Vice-President—Miss E. C. Weaver, B. A.
Rec. Secretary—J. J. Bailey.
Cor. Secretary—Miss I. A. Powell.
Treasurer—P. C. Dobson, B. A.
Curator—Miss E. L. Keddle.
Councillors—Miss I. S. Butterworth, B. A.,
Miss A. St. O. Cole, B. A., Miss C. L. Good,
H. H. Smith, B. A., W. H. Thompson, B. A.,
E. E. Wood, B. A.

Many and laughable were the complications arising from the fact that for the most part the members of the society were strangers to one another. But notwithstanding this drawback the two hours spent in the election resulted not only in an enjoyable time, but also in the choice of an efficient executive under whose management the affairs of the society will receive able handling.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 12TH.

After the business of the afternoon, viz., the appointment of the editorial staff of the MONTHLY, had been disposed of, with the result elsewhere indicated in this issue, the president delivered his inaugural address and the society proceeded to the enjoyment of the programme which had been provided. Mr. Hogarth gave an interesting talk on the "Tendencies of the Present Age," while Mr. Wood and Mr. Miller discussed various aspects of the social problem suggested by "The Man with the Hoe." This weighty matter was interspersed with selections from the Men's Chorus and Mr. Philips.

Owing to the intervention of Thanksgiving festivities, and then, in the following week, of that memorable "At Home," it was three weeks before the society again met in its regular session on

FRIDAY, NOV. 2ND.

At the meeting on November 2nd, it was decided that party government is detrimental to the best interests of our country. Probably there will soon be a change in our national politics. The debaters on the affirmative side, who were successful in convincing the judges, were Mr. Black and Mr. Langford; the supporters of the negative, Mr. Dolan, B. A., and Mr. Gunn, B. A. The ladies received much (too much) applause for their chorus. The other numbers on the programme were a recitation by Miss Ball and a solo by Mr. Newcombe.

Athletics.

THE first organization about the college to come into being and activity was the Men's Athletic Association. A meeting was called soon after the opening of the term and officers and committees appointed as follows:

Hon. Presidents— { Hon. R. Harcourt.
                                  { Principal Thompson.
Vice-President—Mr. Balfour (C. I.)
Secretary—Mr. Morris (C. I.)
