THE LATE DUKE OF CLARENCE AND AVONDALE.

Sir JOHN THOMPSON. In accordance with the resolution which the House carried yesterday on the subject of the Address proposed by the Senate to Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen, I beg leave to move, seconded by Mr. Laurier, that:

The said Address of the Senate to Her Most Gracious Majesty, be concurred in by the House, and the blank therein filled up with the words "House of Commons."

I have only to say, in making this motion of concurrence, that this Address states, what is undoubtedly the fact, that the people of Canada have learned with universal and deep sorrow of the affliction which has befallen Her Gracious Majesty by the bereavement referred to in the Address. There is expressed in the Address the sentiment that our people, represented by this House, pray that Divine Providence may aid and console Her Majesty in this great affliction, and the sentiment, likewise, that the universal sympathy which has been felt throughout the Empire with Her Majesty and with the Prince and Princess of Wales may, to some extent, aid in affording them that consolation which is so deeply needed on an occasion of this kind. Under these circumstances and in view of the expressions of sympathy already made by this House, it is only necessary for me to make these few observations in asking the House to concur in this Address.

Mr. LAURIER.—It was my privilege some days ago to express the feeling which we on this side of the House entertain in reference to the subject contained in this Address. At the present time I can only say that I fully concur in and endorse all the sentiments so well and gracefully expressed by the Minister of Justice, and I heartily second the motion.

Motion agreed to.

Sir JOHN THOMPSON moved:

That the said Address be engrossed.
