

November 28th, 1927.

Professor James T. Shotwell, 405 West 117th Street,
New York City.

Dear Jim:-

I should have written before this in reply to your letter of the 18th of November.

We are going down on the night of the 12th and therefore arriving on the morning of the 13th. I haven't heard from Carter as to any arrangements he may be making for accommodation, but if he does nothing we shall go to the Hotel Plaza. I had thought of coming back on the night of the 14th, but whether we do or not we must see something of you and the family.

We are expecting Mr. Tsurumi to stay with us over next week-end, while the following week-end Sir Frederick Whyte will be in town. It has not yet been definitely settled whether he stays with us or Professor Meakins, who is an old Edinburgh friend.

We are looking forward to seeing you. Love to all.

Yours faithfully,
