

THE Springfield Weekly Republican

BY SAMUEL BOWLES & COMPANY,
SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

The Representative New England Journal, and the best general Newspaper in the Country.

This is a large, first-class quarto sheet of eight pages and forty-eight columns, printed every Friday, and containing the news by telegraph from all quarters up to that morning.

Among its Editors are SAMUEL BOWLES, Dr. J. G. HOLLAND, ("Timothy Titcomb,") JOSEPH E. HOOD, WILLIAM M. POMEROY; and among a large variety of local and general correspondents, are WILLIAM S. ROBINSON, of Boston, ("Warrington,") D. W. BARTLETT, of Washington, ("Van,") Mrs. M. C. AMES, Miss C. S. WHITMARSH, (now writing from Europe,) Rev. WILLIAM L. GAGE, (also now writing from Europe,) and "Straws, Jr.," from New York and Newport.

Its aim and its reputation are of the leading and representative Journal of New England,—compassing the news of New England, and interpreting, intelligently and liberally, soberly but sharply, the distinctive ideas of New England. Freedom from mere party bonds, a Free and Liberal Church, Universal and Enforced Education, an Impartial and Intelligent Suffrage, the Use and Improvement of all the means of elevating Society, dignifying labor, cultivating Art and Literature,—these are some of its objects and devotions; these its New England Ideas. The effort of its conductors is to make not a Springfield, nor a Boston, nor even a Massachusetts journal, but, more particularly, a National New England one; such as will be the worthy companion and representative of all New Englanders, at home or in the South and West, and the instructor of all who wish to know what is passing in the New England States, and of what fibre is their intellectual and moral and religious growth.
