

Honey from the Rock of Ages. Full of Pointed Pungent Truths Exposing Pride, Hypocrisy, Roguery and Formalism on the One Hand, and Showing the Power of Divine Grace on the Other. A companion volume to Bible Salvation.

It treats on such subjects as Marks of Genuine Love, Practical Sanctification, Band Society Rules of the M. E. Church in 1840, Commercial Lying, The Way to Heaven, Scriptural Giving, The Proper Training of Children, Chaff and Wheat, Dr. Talmage and Secret Societies, Selling Dead Horses, Worldly Conformity, The Happy Man's History, Rev. John Wesley on Congregational Singing, The Remarkable Conversion of Lady Ann Erskine, A Dozen Good Rules and many other chapters on vital religion.

We firmly believe that such truths as this work contains need to be widely circulated in these days. This is our only apology for its publication. No doubt some portions of it will be considered unpalatable to the tastes of this Laodicean age; but we have not written to gratify itching ears, or to pamper to the modern demand for a religion made easy. We are profoundly more concerned to promote vital godliness and to encourage those who are enquiring for the old paths than to secure the applause of men.

Suitable for Young Christians.—"This book has for its object an excellent purpose, and in a very pleasant way reaches its purpose. The chapters are complete in themselves and are thus suited to busy people who read in odd moments. In all of them there is food for thought as well as comfort, admonition, reproof and instruction. . . . It is one of the books we can commend to our readers with delight, and especially to young Christians."—Bible Standard.

Shows What It Costs To Be a Christian.—"Mr. Sims believes that it costs something to be a real Christian, and makes a number of valuable practical points."—Montreal Witness.

Has an awakening influence.—"Is intended to awaken the slumbering consciences of men—turn them from simple churchianity to Christianity, from mere formalism to true holiness."—Rev. L. L. Pickett. Those who have read Bible Salvation will want this book also.

One man bought 464 copies!

Cloth 1.00; Paper 25c.