Cannot Recover the Goods.

Judge McDougall gave judgment resterday in the suit of E. R. C. Clarkson against the firm of Belding, Clarkson against the firm of Belding, Paul & Co., dismissing the action with costs. Plaintiff asked that $200 worth of goods, obtained by defendants from the Worsted and Braid Company, which assigned to Mr. Clarkson last August, should be declared to have been the property of the latter company at the time of the assignment and should have been included in the goods assigned. Defendants contended that the goods were given as collateral security for a debt.

to 65%c before there was a rally. Nearly all of the loss was then regained upon the announcement of 160,000 bushels taken here for shipment. Foreign markets were all lower and apparently weak, supposed to be due to freer offerings from the Argentine. For the first time in a week the bears showed some activity, and when the price got under 60c they sold freely and it was their covering which was mainly responsible for the rally. Unless the export demand improves we think the market will work a cent or so lower, when it may be a good purchase again.

Provisions easier under receipts of 31,000 hogs, which was in excess of estimates, and caused rather general selling. The buying was largely by the Cudalys, who are builish on the situation for a long pull. Receipts of hogs at seven points 54,000, against 108,000 a year ago, which augurs well for a heavy decrease in the packing between now and April 1. The market continues to rule dull, both as to speculation and consumptive demand, and may drag some lower, but we think purchases now on the weaks spots will prove profitable, particularly on lard and ribs.
