THOUSANDS INSPECT FINE LAWN HOUSES THANKSGIVING DAY

Commission's Dwellings Are
Subjects of Favorable
Comment—Forty-Six
Building.

Although the Housing Commission has been in existence two years, most Londoners have had but a hazy notion of the work which it has accomplished. There are now, however, a large proportion of them who have an excellent first hand knowledge of it, because they were present to the number of 3,000 at the opening of the Pine Lawn development project Thanksgiving Day.

Most of them were amazed at the amount of work accomplished. They discovered that there will be 46 houses built and occupied there before the end of the year on the new streets, Madison avenue and Pine Lawn avenue. Most of them they found well under way, while several were finished, and one was furnished from top to bottom. This house naturally was the chief centre of interest. It was a one-story frame dwelling on Madison avenue, and gave a fair indication of what all the houses will be like when completed. Each room was completely equipped with carpets, furniture, pictures and all the other accessories. Water and electric fixtures were installed ready for use as soon as the necessary outside extensions have been completed by the Public Utilities Commission. Hundreds of people made a careful inspection of the dwelling. F. B. Lander, business agent for the commission, was in charge, and conducted visitors through the house. He used the opportunity to give valuable information about the work of the commission, both by the distribution of literature, and by personal interviews with many of the citizens. Another house which drew much attention was a stucco dwelling of rather unique design.

Chairman E. R. Dennis was on the site during the afternoon, and was assisted by the other commissioners, R. H. Hessel, J. W. Cunliffe and Victor Jackson, in showing the development to the citizens who took advantage of the commission's invitation to gain first hand knowledge of the efforts being made to relieve the housing shortage in London.

The Evening Mothers' Club, under the direction of its president, Mrs. W. Mason, and its secretary, Mrs. W. Rake, held a most successful sale of refreshments in aid of the Sick Children's Hospital. Permission to hold the sale on the Pine Lawn site was readily granted by the Housing Commission. About $20 was received.

De Laval Separators

Are By Far the Most Economical! Real economy is never short-sighted. It never confuses PRICE with VALUE. PRICE is what you pay for an article. VALUE depends upon the amount and quality of service the article gives you.

You get by far the greatest actual value for your money when you buy a De Laval—BECAUSE a De Laval will give you much better and longer service than any other cream separator.

From the standpoint of its greater durability alone the De Laval is the most economical cream separator to buy, and when you also take into consideration its cleaner skimming, easier running, greater capacity and less cost for repairs, the price of the "cheapest" machine on the market is most exorbitant compared with that of the De Laval.

And there is no reason why you should let its FIRST COST stand in the way either, because the De Laval may be purchased on such liberal terms that it will actually pay for itself out of its own savings.

Call on the nearest De Laval agent, or write our office.

SECRETARY TO INQUIRE ABOUT PAY AT BYRON

Committee of Patients Request G. W. V. A. To Publish Their Grievances.

John Cunliffe, secretary of the Great War Veterans' Association, stated to The Advertiser last night that he would leave no stone unturned in his efforts to adjust the wrongs in the system of pay at Byron Sanatorium. He received word from a committee of patients at the institution explaining the matter. According to Mr. Cunliffe the monthly pay for a patient, his wife and two children is but $39.80.

Following is the letter which he has his possession and which was written to him by a committee of patients at the sanatorium:

"We being the patients at Byron Sanatorium, do earnestly request that you give the utmost publicity to the following grievances regarding pay. On the 1st of September last the D. S. C. R. (Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment) through its representatives in the district decided to change the system of bi-monthly payments. This in itself entailed much hardship, especially to the married men and their families, as the pay and allowance have been hopelessly inadequate for some time, as recognized by the recent increases granted by the D. S. C. R.

"In spite of the fact that our dependants received two weeks' pay and were expected to carry on for a month on this amount, up to date (the 18th) we have not received any pay. Thanksgiving Day means nothing to the men who suffered so much for their country, when their wives and children are hungry, while the D. S. C. R. officials celebrate with apparently no thought of the inconvenience and suffering which their negligence has caused.

"The trades people, who have large financial obligations to meet, naturally find it difficult to extend indefinite credit, and the same applies to the landlords. Several of the patients have been compelled to dispose of personal effects to purchase the bare necessities of life for their families.

"We think the time has arrived when some action should be taken to obtain prompt payment of pay and allowances, as the worry entailed is retarding the progress of patients towards recovery."

Secretary Cunliffe intends to acquaint the authorities at Ottawa with the facts of the case. One year ago R. H. Young, first vice-president of the G. W. V. V., proved that the system of monthly payments was a failure.

ELBERT HUBBARD II, AD CLUB'S SPEAKER

Ladies Invited To Interesting Meeting At Tecumseh House Next Monday.

Elbert Hubbard, II, son of the famous philosopher and founder of the Roycroft community at East Aurora, will address the London Advertising Club on Monday, October 25.

While his appearance in London has been arranged by the advertising men of the city, almost all of whom are familiar with the debt that the advertising business owes his father, it is the intention of the advertising men to make the occasion an open night, to which all citizens are invited.

Ladies will also be welcomed, and it is expected that the evening will partake of the nature of a social reunion of all those who have studied or admired the work emanating from the little town of master craftsmen.

Elbert Hubbard II has taken on the work of his father with remarkable success since the latter went down on the Lusitania. The son has perpetuated and kept alive the spirit that inspired all those who gathered under the banner of his father.

It is said that several hundred sets of Elbert Hubbard's Little Journeys will have been sold in London during the past year, and it is believed that this will mean a large attendance of citizens.

The dinner is to be held at the Tecumseh House, and the price will be either $1.00 or $1.25, to be announced later.

FALLS FROM TREE; CONDITION CRITICAL

George Hevey, 9, in St. Joseph's Hospital—Examination Today.

George Hevey, nine-year-old son of J. P. Hevey, Talbot street, is in St. Joseph's Hospital in a precarious condition, because of injuries sustained when he fell out of a tree on Monday morning. The hospital authorities announced early this morning that he was still unconscious. Doctors will make an examination of the injured lad today.

ITALIAN PENTECOSTAL MEETING IN LONDON

Among the most recent of new religious movements to invade London is the Italian Pentecostal movement, which holds services Sundays and two other nights a week in a tiny mission hall on Clarence between King and York streets. The local assembly was organized several weeks ago by Luca di Marco of Toronto, and is now in charge of James Jorgis. Some six or seven converts to the faith have been made in London, the society claims, and it is backed by 200 Italian Pentecostals in Toronto, and 500 in Chicago, where the movement originated about 18 years ago. The tenets of the Italian society are identical with those of the Pentecostal assemblies holding meetings in London, it is stated, by the leaders.

EGERTON B. Y. P. U. WINS PENNANT AT STRATHROY RALLY

Baptist Young People of Middlesex and Lambton in Conference.

DELIGHTFUL PROGRAM
More Than 350 Delegates
Heard Intensely Interesting Addresses.

[By Staff Reporter.]

STRATHROY, Oct. 18.—The annual rally of the Baptist Young People's Union of Middlesex and Lambton counties was held here today, the ceremonies taking place in the Baptist Church, with Rev. A. C. Bingham of the Egerton Street Baptist Church, London, officiating. The afternoon session opened with a song service and devotional exercises, led by A. A. Barnes of Watford. The minutes of the last rally were read and adopted. The financial statement showed that $200 had been collected to support young men who are studying for the ministry in McMaster University, Toronto.

According to the registration book more than 350 were present, it being the largest attendance at any rally so far held. The Egerton Street Church was successful in capturing the big pennant for the largest attendance by a majority of one having 67 present, while the local B. Y. P. U. had 66 on roll call. Owing to the rally being held here they turned the pennant for second honors over to the Wortley Road Union, which held third place.

Lively Debate.

Probably the most interesting part of the program was the debate between Wortley Road and Arkona. After strong argument had been presented for "The prayer meeting to meet, naturally derived from the Young People's Unions," the judges decided in favor of Arkona. Those who participated in the debate were: Mrs. Edward Dixon, Basil Hobbs and Miss Grace McLachlan for Arkona, and Miss Winnie Stewart, Mrs. Ethel Southcott and Maurice Brown for the Wortley Road Church.

Rev. A. C. Bingham was re-elected president of the union, Rev. L. S. Haverstock of Strathroy, was elected second vice-president, and Mr. J. H. Ineson of Arkona, secretary treasurer.

Miss L. Pratt, formerly of this district, and who has been engaged for a visit after acting as missionary in India, put forth a strong appeal to the young people to go to these countries that need Christian service. Now is the time to prepare, she said, and if the young people knew what good they could do they would not hesitate in making ready to hear the call of these countries.

She gave a vivid account of conditions in India and the large fields which the missionaries are now at work to have to cover. There are doctors, she claimed, that have as many as 50 schools and 15 to 20 churches making a hospital to attend to, and the schools and churches in that country are far scattered.

Teachers Needed.

She said that a new law was shortly going to go into effect in India whereby the Indians would have control of the educational work in the Christian churches do not answer the call the education of the children will tend to follow the Hindu belief instead of the Christian. There is a great need for industrial workers in India. This is a branch which the missionaries are working strongly to believe it will greatly help to turn the Indians to Christianity.

Evening Session.
At the evening session, Rev. R. White of Brantford gave an illustrative address on four elements in holiness—strong willpower, conscience, a loving mind, and a feeling of sin. He outlined each element with a touch that appealed strongly to the young people. He told stories relating to himself to illustrate the meaning of each. Probably the most interesting element was feeding the mind. He said today and which appeals to so many young people. He reminded his hearers that good literature can be obtained at the public library.

WEDDING BELLS

MINNES-SLATER.

A very quiet but pretty wedding took place at St. Thomas Anglican Church, Toronto, on Friday last, when Jessie Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Slater of Waterloo street, became the bride of Mr. William Grant Minnes, son of Mr. W. T. Minnes of Kingston, the Rev. C. K. Sharp officiating at the ceremony. The charming bride, who was given away by her father, entered the church to the strains of the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin, wearing a pretty navy gown with hat to match, and corsage of Ophelia roses and orchids. She was unattended.

The wedding dinner was held at the Carlisle, the bride's table being prettily decorated with Ophelia roses and fern. Margerida and autumn leaves lent their beauty to the decorations as so. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Minnes, Miss Minnes, Miss Nell Minnes, Miss Bicknell, and Mr. Robert Richardson of Kingston; Mr. George Hare, Mrs. Hare, Mr. Bicknell, Mr. James H. Slater and Miss Lockhart of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Slater of London, and Miss Myrtle Slater of Walkerville.

For going away, the bride donned a

Men Have Shown a Keen Appreciation in This Store's Clothing Service

There is a smartness about our clothes that gives men of all ages individual distinction, and that distinction makes men ask the question, "WHO IS YOUR TAILOR?" And what a satisfaction when you can answer "Smallman & Ingram," and that you are not ashamed to state the price you paid. Wearers of our clothes are frequently asked the question—why? because every suit looks as though it were made for the wearer, with all the niceties of style that only the most fashionable tailors know how to incorporate, without becoming foppish.

The most attractive thing to man as well as woman is value, and it is the mighty purchasing power of this store that gives the customer better and larger values.

AND SERVICE—This department store has learned many things in its service to women, and these lessons are applied to men—and so today, here is your men's shop.

SLATER-LOCKHART.
St. Andrew's Church, Hespeler, was the scene of an exceedingly pretty wedding on Saturday afternoon, when Helen Isabel Lockhart of Toronto, daughter of the late Dr. R. J. Lockhart and the late Mrs. Lockhart of Hespeler, was united in marriage to James H. Slater of Toronto, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Slater of 465 Waterloo street. Autumn leaves, ferns and brilliant salvia formed a pretty background for the bride, who entered the church on the arm of Mr. George D. Forbes of Hespeler. The bride was wearing a becoming suit of ming blue velvet, with beaver trimming and beaver brown hat, carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia and Sweetheart roses and wore the gift of the groom, a diamond bar-pin set in platinum. Miss Myrtle E. Slater of Walkerville, sister of the groom, attended her as bridesmaid, wearing a smart suit of wistaria with beaver trimmings, black picture hat and carrying pink roses. The only other attendant was little Miss Peggy Hall, who made a charming flower girl in a frock of yellow taffeta and carried a miniature shower bouquet of Sweetheart roses.

Mr. Arthur Neiles of Toronto acted as best man and ushers were Mr. Jack Todd and Mr. Wylie Wilkinson of Galt, and Mr. Everett Weaver and Mr. Alex. Forbes of Hespeler. Throughout the ceremony the wedding music was played by Miss Helga of Kitchener, and during the signing of the register Mrs. Pearce of Hespeler sang "Love's Coronation." About 40 invited guests accompanied the pews, roped off with white ribbon and marked by clusters of gladioli and asparagus fern, while between one hundred and two hundred others stood in the church to witness the ceremony.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs.

Forbes, Silver Heights. The mother of the groom wore a handsome gown of navy chamoisee, feather turban and seal scarf, while Mrs. Forbes was wearing sapphire blue velvet with ermine scarf and gold-draped turban with paradise plume. Yellow mums and rose petals were arranged throughout the house in a delightful manner.

Mr. and Mrs. Slater left for New York, and on their return will be at home at 16 McMaster avenue, Toronto. Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Slater of London, Mr. James Forbes of Toronto, Miss Helen Schell of Woodstock, Miss Margaret Bell of Niagara Falls, Miss Agnes Main of Hamilton, Mr. George Chater and Mr. Norman Chater of Toronto, Miss Kate Gray of Guelph, Miss Helen Maxwell of St. Marys, Miss Marion Weatherall of Southampton, Mr. Fred Irwin of Toronto, Miss Norma Eby of Kitchener, Miss Irene Cranston, Mr. and Mrs. William Linton, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Wilkinson and Miss Marion Wilkinson, all of Galt.
