Controller Spence has discovered one vulnerable point at which the street railway may be attacked, namely, the rates and secure full discount.

He pointed out to his colleagues yesterday that altho the street railway agreement gave the city engineer power to control transfers, the company citizens were being put off the cars and others given police court summonses for not abiding by the railway's auto-cratic regulations. The controller also inveighed against the injustice where-by citizens had to wait at transfer points in all kinds of weather.

Mr. Taft stands emphatically for justice to the negro; favors adequate navy; stands by platform for more elastic currency; urges postal savings banks, and says:

"If I am elected president, I shall urge upon congress, with every hope of success, that a law be passed requiring a filing in a federal office of a statement of the contributions received by committees and candidates in elections for members of congress, and in such other elections as are constitutionally within the control of congress."

The Prince of Wales' first engagement this morning was the planting of a tree at Victoria Park. The park is a splendid arena on the flats north of the city, the land having been reclaimed from the river. The approach is not inviting, but flag and bunting decorations made the streets very gay. Traffic was suspended on the leading thorofares like St. Joseph and Crownstreets, and the populace lined the route and cheered H.R.H. heartily. At the park near the fine statue of her late Majesty, which was rejected by Toronto, it is stated, on account of its beauty and grace, troops were drawn up near the statue and a large crowd gathered, but no great degree

His official notification combined a political jubilee for the City of Cincinnati and its environments and an historic gathering of national party leaders, and an occasion for the announcement by the candidate of his political tenets, designed as the text of Republican oratory thruout the campaign.

In his speech of acceptance, Mr. Tart said, in part:

"The strength of the Republican cause in the campaign at hand is in the fact that we represent the policies essential to the reform of known abuses, to the continuance of liberty and true prosperity, and that we are determined, as our platform unequivocally declares, to maintain them and carry them on.
