Strikers and Police Battle With Bullets

Serious Rioting at Fort William When Striking Longshoremen Attack Special C. P. R. Constables.

WINNIPEG CAVALRY ARE HURRIED TO THE SCENE FORT WILLIAM, Ont., Aug. 12.—(Special.)—In a clash between special C.P.R. constables and a crowd of striking longshoremen this morning bullets flew promiscuously for a few minutes. Revolvers and rifles were the weapons and while there were no fatalities, several men were seriously wounded. The casualty list includes: CHIEF BALL of the C.P.R. police, wounded in abdomen. SERGEANT TAYLOR of city police, slightly hurt. C. M. DICKINSON, reporter for Times-Journal, slightly hurt. W. C. CARRUTHERS, C. P. R. constable, knee badly smashed. STRIKERS: Foreign leader shot thru groin; another thru arm; several others slightly wounded. For some time, things have been threatening among the foreigners who constitute the freight handlers, and it is feared that they will use 200 mauler rifles in these now lawless hands. Threats have openly been made as to the appearance of the militia and prominent officials, including the chief of police, would be murdered, this last being attributed to a well-known Italian agitator. Martial Law Declared. This afternoon a detachment of the 9th Regiment was called out. Mayor McTavish read the Riot Act, and the waterfront was declared to be under martial law. The Riot Act was never before read in Fort William. Assembled were about 120, while thousands of citizens thronged the streets and heard the mayor, the chief of police and Col. Steele give addresses. It is safe to say that neither side were so many people in that district south of the main line of the C. P. R., for from the first crossing of Simpson-street to the freight wharf on the other end, the sidewalk and streets were thronged with people, so thick that it was hard to elbow a way thru them. It was not until after 5 o'clock tonight that the militia, about 120 men, put in an appearance. They were lined up on McTavish-street from the freight wharf to the east side of the street, front and rear, and then from a box Mayor Pelletier harangued the crowd, explaining that it was owing to them having disregarded his advice and his efforts to make a settlement which had made necessary the calling out of the soldiers. He trusted that they would be quiet and orderly and that there would be no further shooting. This was interpreted in various languages, the soldiers standing with fixed bayonets.

Sheltered by the corners of houses, they continued the skirmish and showed no signs of retreating. The men with rifles were encouraged by their fellow-strikers, and two or three could be seen in group around a man with a gun, showing him how to use it. PETAWAWA CAMP, Aug. 12.—(Special.)—"Baddeck No. 1," the new Canadian aerodrome, at 5.30 to-night for the first time left the ground, making a short "hop" of about seventy feet in length and rising 9 to 10 feet from the surface. Only one test was made. The aerodrome went along the roadway for nearly half a mile at a rate of at least thirty miles to the hour. When J. A. D. McCurdy, the aviator, turned the controller upwards, the drome gracefully shot into the air, but he once turned the controller down again and the drome took the ground easily. Then the aerodrome, keeping to the roadway, ran back towards the shed and was shovled in there. McCurdy does not consider this an ascent; "merely a little hop," said he. "We will make another for three or four days we have got to make little hops like that to get acquainted with the ground."

THAW'S MOTHER BERATES JEROME "Arrogant, Vindictive Persecutor of a Sane, Acquitted Man," She Declares. WHITE PLAINS, N.Y., Aug. 12.—This afternoon a statement from Harry Thaw came indirectly from the jail physician, Dr. William J. Meyers, who testified at the hearing as one of the prisoner's witnesses and declared Thaw perfectly sane. Thaw told him, Dr. Meyers said, that while he was disappointed by Justice Miller's decision to-day, declaring him insane he had no intention of giving up the fight. "I am determined to make my final effort to secure a trial by jury," said Thaw. "I am more sorry for my mother than for anybody else. When I first got the news of Justice Miller's decision, I called my sister Alice on the telephone and asked her to give my mother the news of my acquittal. I was shocked at it as much as possible. "My fight is now centered upon the appeal to the court of appeal thru which I hope to secure a hearing before a jury." Late to-night, Mrs. Thaw, after talking over the situation with her son, wrote out the following statement for the Associated Press: "Let no one imagine for a moment after reading this opinion of Justice Miller, that it means a victory for the district attorney of the county of New York. "One by one the delusions which he and his assistants started out were proven, each by the mouths of several witnesses, to be stubborn facts, that would not drop at his bidding. Compliments For Jerome. "Every word was taken into consideration, and I am under the impression that no man under that arrogant, vindictive persecutor of a sane, acquitted man. "So baffled was he that when he rose to make his closing speech, for argument it was not, he had more the appearance of a school boy compelled to say a piece than the sometimes courageous, mature sophist, that dominated the courts of his own judicial district, except when wealthy malefactors are under trial. "The license allowed him during the entire hearing to torture and insult in every possible way the man who at every turn showed himself reasonable, courteous, and every way a superior to—appeared to all unprejudiced minds to indicate but one thing. To all it looked as if the judge in allowing such unparalleled opportunity for every form of brutality was actuated by a desire to prevent his charging at the end that he had not had every opportunity to strain to the utmost the powers of endurance of the man who for the time is in his power. "It is impossible to fathom the workings of the human mind, and the reason for this totally unexpected and cruel decision of the trial judge must remain a mystery. "I will continue struggle. "Meanwhile my son's daughter and I have no alternative but to take up again the burden I had every reason to believe was behind us forever. We, exiled from our country, and the regular flow of life, will remain close to the gate, and so help the son and brother to endure an existence which, in the official will be a long and death itself, trusting in God's overruling providence in His good time to vindicate the right. "Signed Harry Copley Thaw." In his hour of decision, Justice Miller gently chided Mrs. Thaw for her previous census of District Attorney Jerome of whom she said, "I am sure of the evidence of any heartlessness or undue zeal on his part." "Not the least significant sentence in Justice Miller's opinion, and the opinion of lawyers is one which declares that Thaw's delusions had become fixed and established prior to the time of his marriage. It is pointed out that this sentence may be desired, providing grounds for proceedings by Mrs. Evelyn Thaw for the annulment of her marriage.

SHERRIFF WOULDN'T EVICT Striking Tenants of Pittsburg Car Company Get Respite. PITTSBURG, Pa., Aug. 12.—The sheriff of Allegheny County late to-day refused to continue the work of evicting strikers and their families from houses owned by the Pittsburg Steel Car Company at McKee's Rock. Acting under court order the sheriff and his deputies early in the afternoon began the work of conveying the goods from the strikers' homes to the streets. The sheriff asked the company to give him men to carry out the furniture and household effects, but the company, it is said, refused. "Then I will not allow my deputies to carry out another piece of furniture," declared the sheriff. The Pittsburg Car Company will now be forced to carry out their own evictions.
