FIFTEEN MINUTES FOR PARKING CARS

Is Recommendation of Advisory Committee on Traffic Regulations.

The committee of representative men appointed recently to discuss traffic regulations with the police department, in efforts to arrange regulations for handling vehicular traffic on the downtown streets, met yesterday afternoon behind closed doors in the office of Chief of Police Grasset. The meeting was held in the office of Chief of Police Grasset, and the committee's recommendation will be sent on to the board of police commissioners, suggesting that a 15-minute period be allowed motorists to park their cars on downtown streets. Deputy Chief S. Dickson favored the elimination of the privilege of allowing cars or wagons to remain on the downtown streets for a longer period than to take on or discharge passengers or the unloading of trucks. He stated that owing to the heavy traffic on the streets between Queen, Church, York and Wellington, much difficulty was experienced by the police in handling the traffic, on account of the congestion caused thru cars being left standing at different intervals. "Certain portions of the intersections," he said, "should be free from standing vehicles."

Others present thought this would be dealing too drastically with the persons concerned, and the amendment that a period of 15 minutes for parking be allowed was made. The conference was then adjourned to allow the police to draw up new regulations, and a final meeting will be called by Col. Grasset. When regulations are drawn up that are approved by both sides, they will be forwarded to the police board to be made law. If the new scheme does not prove satisfactory, Deputy Chief Dickson said more drastic rules would be enforced. Among those who attended the meeting yesterday were, P. Hubbard, assistant manager of the Toronto Street Railway Company; J. Hobson, president of the Ontario Motor League; B. Morley, president of the Ontario Safety League; W. H. Alderson, vice-president of board of trade; A. Bennett, of the Rotary Club; Chief Grasset, Deputy Chief Dickson, Assistant Deputy Chief Geddes, Inspector Bond and Inspector Mackie.

PLAYS, PICTURES AND MUSIC

"Roly Boly Eyes."

The attraction at the Princess Theatre next week will be John Cort's musical comedy "Roly Boly Eyes," with Eddie Leonard, which comes to this city direct from a six months' run at the Knickerbocker Theatre, New York, with the original cast, chorus and production. There is no time for the serious affairs of the work-a-day world to intrude themselves on the minds of "Roly Boly Eyes," with music by Eddy Brown and Lewis Gruenberg. Lifting melodies, clever lines, graceful dancing, innumerable specialties, an ingratiating chorus, and a constellation of favorites—all connecting in a breathless rush. Heading the cast is Eddie Leonard, the black-face comedian, who has brought the lost art of minstrelsy to the American stage. In Bob Warren, the young hero, Mr. Leonard has a part well tailored to his measure, for one of the specialties of the piece is a minstrel show in which Mr. Leonard has an opportunity to sing and spin yarns and to take the audience into his confidence in a manner all his own. Those in support of Mr. Leonard are May Boley, Queenie Smith, Margaret Edwards, Kate Pullman, Eddie Mazzer, Earl Gates, Grace Leigh, Hume, Chivers, Adora Andrews, Dan Kelly, Clark Ross, G. Clayton Frye, Henry A. Truax and George Pierce, and a chorus of 30 sirens of song and syncopation.

At Loew's Next Week.

"Sadie Love," adapted from the famous stage success of the same name, with Billie Burke in the stellar role, will be shown next week at Loew's Yonge Street Theatre and Winter Garden. The yaudiville comprises six all-star acts, presenting Julian Rose, foremost of all character delineators, portraying his famous Levinsky characterization; Marie Russell, in true Kentucky atmosphere and humor; the Al Golden Troupe, the Parisian marvels; Stuart Black and his Scotch players in "Sandy's Wedding Present"; Eckhoff and Gordon, the musical laughmakers, and Leonard and Wright, the versatile entertainers. Loew's Picture Weekly and the "Mutt and Jeff" cartoons will also be shown.

Sir Oliver Lodge at Massey Hall.

Sir Oliver Lodge, who will lecture in Massey Hall Saturday, March 13, has added his contribution to the popular discussion concerning the possibility of communicating with Mars. The eminent British scientist is convinced that not only is there a spirit world associated with the earth, but that most of the planets contain some kind of intelligent life. The seat sale opens Tuesday, March 9.

"The Unknown Purple."

With the credit of a year's run at the Lyric Theatre, New York city, and a three months' engagement at the Majestic Theatre, Boston, Roland West's tremendously thrilling mystery play, "The Unknown Purple," comes to the Royal Alexandra all next week, commencing Monday evening, with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday. The local engagement follows the Boston run of the play, and will bring here that sterling actor, George Probert. He will be remembered as having played here with William Gillette and William Faversham. His character of "the stranger" in "The Unknown Purple" is considered quite the best thing Probert has done. In association with him are such well-known artists as Miss Marion Rogers, Benedict MacQuarrie, Joseph Slayton, Henry Redding, Miss Vivian Allen, Miss Eveta Knudson, Arthur LeVein, Herbert Ashton, Grant Sherman and E. L. Duane, who is particularly requested that the patrons of "The Unknown Purple" be seated before the rise of the curtain on the prolog, as no one will be seated during the action of the same. The curtains will rise sharp in the evenings at 8:15 and matinees at 2:15.

Next Week at Gayety.

When Barney Gerard's 1919 edition of "Follies of the Day" opens at the Gayety Theatre next Monday the patrons of that popular playhouse will have an opportunity of witnessing one of the best attractions on the wheel this season, for Mr. Gerard has not only written an entire new book and score, but has also given his creation, which is entitled "Polly's Going Up," and is in two acts, an entire new dress both from a scenic as well as costuming standpoint.

At the Allen.

"Pinto," a western comedy of high order, and "By Right of Purchase," a drama of present day life, together with a very attractive musical program, are the offerings at the Allen next week.

Mabel Normand, who has established immense popularity in her recent horse-and-comedy productions, is starring in "Pinto," while Norma Talmond, equally popular in her class, is the principal in "By Right of Purchase."

Fiske O'Hara at the Grand.

"Down Limerick Way" is the title of the new Irish romantic comedy which will be presented by the popular Irish actor-singer, Fiske O'Hara, at the Grand Opera House next week. The new play is said to be the brightest comedy offering of his career, brilliant with wit and humor, and containing sweet interludes of sentiment. Mr. O'Hara has a role ideally suited to him, and the new ballads he will sing will be a joy to his admirers. Among the notable song hits are "Down Limerick Way," "Dear Little Angel From Heaven" and "If They'd Only Give Old Ireland to the Irish." The cast supporting Mr. O'Hara includes Patricia Clary, Nan Bernard, Mary Louise Malloy, Laurette Allen, Robert H. Irving, J. P. Sullivan, J. E. Miller, W. T. Sheehan and Norman Post. During the week matinees will be given on Wednesday and Saturday. The popular star has many admirers in Toronto, and so heavy has been the demand for seats that arrangements are being made to extend the engagement one more week.

Constance Binnie at Regent.

Toronto will be absolutely thrilled, amazed, delighted with Constance Binnie in "Erstwhile Susan" at the Regent Theatre next week. The success which attended Miss Binnie's performances in New York in this production has followed her and already Regent patrons are looking forward to this picture with great delight. "Erstwhile Susan" is the story of a modern Cinderella. The heroine is Barnabette Deary, the only daughter of a stern, brutal farmer. Left motherless at a very early age Barnabette is known neither for laughter. Her time is too occupied with serving her father and her two brothers. Later, however, Barnaby marries and it is the stepmother who helps the girl blossom into glorious and beautiful young womanhood. The story is told in such a sympathetic way and the splendid humor is portrayed so well that this picture, from the novel "Barnabette," by Helen R. Martin, is bound to be a tremendous success here. As a splendid added attraction the sensational comedy success, "A Twilight Baby," will be presented in four acts.

At the Star.

All who go to the Star Theatre next week, when W. Thos. Beatty's "Oh, Frenchy" will be the drawing card, will spend two and one-half very enjoyable hours following the surprising adventures of the two comedians—Bert Weston and Mitty Devers—who are no let-up to the comedy, and it is the spontaneous kind which forces the laughs from you whether you came in with the intention of maintaining a snore or not. In addition to the superior comedy, there are a great many entertaining musical numbers, in which a ravishingly beautiful chorus figures; several interpolated specialties which are out of the ordinary, and a scenic and wardrobe magnificence which is the acme of burlesque. Bertha Le Costa, the diminutive prima donna, heads the female contingent of principals, while Peggy Connors and Martha White are well known to burlesque patrons.

Alhambra Theatre.

Cecil De Mille's famous picture, "Male and Female," will be shown again today at the Alhambra Theatre. So great has the demand been by patrons of the theatre to see the great play that the management decided to extend the engagement, making it a week's run. There will be a complete change of program Monday, when Mary Miles Minter will be seen in "Ann of Green Gables," a story from the four Ann books. Miss Marjorie Stafford, soprano, will sing at every performance next week.

"The Passing Show."

Yielding to the unprecedented demand on the part of its patrons, the Royal Alexandra will play a special engagement of the big New York Winter Garden revue, "The Passing Show," week beginning Monday, March 15, with matinees Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday.

The cast now contains Willie and Eugene Howard, Roy Cummings, John Burke, Will H. Philbrick, Edward Basse, Helen Carrington and a score of others.

The revue is in fifteen colossal scenes, some of them rivalling in splendor an oriental pageant, and the costumes are fresh from the big Winter Garden costuming departments, and are models of the last word in feminine attire. Mail orders are now being received. Seat sale opens Thursday.

"In Old Kentucky"—Strand.

Today at the Strand Theatre the last showings will take place of the romantic mystery play, "His Wife's Friend," starring beautiful Dorothy Dalton. All next week at the Strand the great and spectacular drama of the south, "In Old Kentucky," featuring Anita Stewart, will be the notable attraction. This wonderful picture makes absolutely real all the thrills which the famous stage play could frequently only suggest. The race track scenes are the greatest which have ever been made, over 55,000 people appearing in them. Another exciting moment is when Anita Stewart, on horseback, leaps a 100-foot deep chasm. It is a play so tremendous in its scope that it simply cannot be described. It is essentially a horse-racing drama, in which Madge Brierly, whom Anita Stewart characterizes as the lovable waif of the Kentucky hills, rides Queen Bess to victory in the great horse race scene. Then there is the excitement of the war of the feudists, the thrill of the night riders, the dynamite plot, the fox hunt, and over all is the wonderful atmosphere of southern romance. There are countless thrills in this stirring story of old days in the southland, of beautiful women, fast horses, and adventurous fighting men.

Oratorio Concerts.

Karleton Hackett, writing in The Chicago Post two weeks ago, speaking of the playing of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, under Oesp Gabrieliowitsch, says:

"Yesterday afternoon in the orchestra hall we were taken on a great Russian adventure thru the Tchaikovsky Fifth Symphony by Oesp Gabrieliowitsch and his orchestra from Detroit. It was not merely a brilliant display of the virtuosity of the modern orchestra under the hand of a master. This was to be expected, and I was prepared for a Slavic tone picture of striking force. But what we had was a kind of spiritual faring forth into strange land under the guidance of one who could illumine for us the very soul of another race. It was an extraordinary experience."

Oesp Gabrieliowitsch is a born conductor. He has the faculty of instilling into his men something of the intensity of his own emotional reaction, and of moulding them into an instrument so responsive that their playing seems but the expression of his will."

Fine Bill at Madison.

It is a splendid double-header bill which will be presented at the Madison Theatre the first half of next week. One of the two features will be the great stage success, "The Lincoln Highwayman," with William Russell in the title role. The other attraction will be Larry Senon, "the comedy king," in "The Grocery Clerk."

Paulist Choristers.

One of the most unique bodies of singers in America, the Paulist Choristers of New York is booked to sing at Massey Hall on April 9. The choir is not only a great liturgical choir for the services of the church in a great basilica in New York city, but it is claimed to be the most famous virtuoso concert organization of men and boys on this side, and, perhaps, in the world.

Galt, Ont., March 5.—(Special)—

During the coming year the Grand River and Lake Erie and Northern railways will spend the sum of $1,500,000 on improvements to their lines, according to an announcement made today by General Manager Matt Kirkwood. Plans for extensions and improvements amounting to this sum have been approved by head officials of the C.P.R. at Montreal, and work will be started immediately. A feature of the improvements is the changing of voltage operation of the Grand River to 1,500 volts to correspond with the L. Revision of Locations.

There is to be a revision of locations in Galt and Kitchener, where the Grand River will run over private right of ways. Tracks will be taken from Water street in this city and at the head of Main street two lines will connect at a $42,000 depot to include general offices of the companies will be built there.

As a result of increasing the voltage, a new overhead wire system will have to be installed on the entire Grand River system, a new power station built at Preston, while a $15,000 addition will be made to the Preston car barn. From Preston, a subsection to the north of Hagey's Crossing the line will be double-tracked and this is a forerunner of more double-tracking. In the Kitchener end of the line the only expenditure will be $60,000 on a new location. Manager Kirkwood announces that work on the new program will start at once and some work has already been contracted for, while tenders are being called for rolling stock and equipment.
