

TRADING QUIET ON TORONTO EXCHANGE

Maple Leaf Milling Has Two-Point Rally, and General Tone is Steady.

SUGAR IS NEGLECTED

Extreme dullness marked trading on the Toronto exchange yesterday, making it even more strikingly evident than on Thursday that the measures deemed necessary to stabilize Victory bonds are exerting a restrictive influence upon market operations in general. Odd-lot dealings were prominent and only a handful of listed stocks could show transactions of more than 100 shares.

The day's transactions: Listed stocks, 1,049, including 383 mining; bonds, $39,900; unlisted stocks, $3,280, including 1,260 mining.

PORCUPINE CROWN STILL ASCENDING

Schumacher Also Strong—Lake Shore and Dome Lake Show Weakness.

Apart from an upward tendency in Porcupine Crown and Schumacher, and a movement in the contrary direction by Lake Shore and Dome Lake, the mining market was pretty much at a standstill yesterday.

Traders are showing an apathy which is disappointing after the burst of promise with which the year opened, but it must be remembered that the financial situation, world-wide, is approaching the chaotic, that Wall Street is filled with rumors of gloomy prospects, and that a period of greater disposal to the clouds roll over the northern mines can face whatever the future has in store.
