

heart, to see the look of happiness on this mother's face, when she heard her son's decision, and then of his desire to go to school and obtain an education. Her husband is anxious for her conversion, and we trust the way of life will soon be plain to her.

Since my return to college, I have heard from a friend in the work there, concerning another family whom we visited together. The wife was a staunch Catholic, who seemed quite indignant when we spoke about salvation to her, saying, that her religion was just as good as ours, etc. She has at last seen her error and has accepted Christ.

I hope the friends of Hull and Ottawa are intending to obtain a building of their own for French and English services. It is expected that this field will have student labor next summer. Much more might be said of the great opening for work in the Ottawa Valley.

GEO. R. MACFAUL.

OTTAWA.

For many years we have employed colporteurs, missionaries and students at intervals at various places near Ottawa. Student Geo. R. MacFaul occupied this field last summer and met with encouragement both in preaching and in personal conversation with Catholics.

As a result one Catholic is attending the Grande Ligne School and it is hoped one family have come into the light of the Gospel. The Board have appointed Mr. B. Frappier as colporteur who will labor principally in Ottawa and Hull. The ladies of Ottawa have promised $75.00 towards his support and it is expected most of the balance will be provided in that District.

He will visit other points as opportunities offer to present the written Word, or to converse with Catholics.

One of the newly appointed members of our Board, Mr. Jno. A. Cameron, assisted by Deacon Lamb and Mrs. Dr. Edwards, will have the local over-sight of the colporteur's work.
