DIRECTOR for the Week. Mr. S. Wiggins. DISCOUNT DAY. Bills, intended for DISCOUNT, should be lodged with the Cashier before the Discount Day.

His Excellency the LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR arrived in town last evening from Fredericton.

WEST INDIA TRADE.

In opening his scheme for extending our West India Trade to Foreigners, Mr. Robinson announced his intention, and obtained leave accordingly, to introduce the Bill into Parliament. A printed copy of one of these (as pending in the House of Commons at our latest date) we have seen; but the Bill proposed that is to regulate the Trade between Europe and His Majesty's Possessions in America and the West Indies, we believe has not reached this country.

We offer to our readers the following outline of the most interesting parts of the Bill, with the perusal of which we have been favoured.

A Bill to regulate the Trade between His Majesty's Possessions in America and the West Indies, and other Places in America and the West Indies.

All existing Statutes solely affecting West India and American Trade are repealed, including the Free Port Acts of Bermuda, Nova Scotia, and New Brunswick.

Into certain Colonial Ports, not named, but to be specified in a Table referred to, certain Articles also to be specified in another Table, may be imported from all foreign Places in the West Indies and on the Continent of America, in British Vessels, and in such foreign Vessels only as belong to, and come directly from, the Country of which the imported Articles are the growth, produce, or manufacture.

Out of the same Colonial Ports, any Articles of whatsoever nature (Arms and Naval Stores excepted) may be exported by any British or foreign Vessels, provided that the foreign Vessels give Bonds to carry direct, and deliver their cargoes at some Port or Ports in the Country or State to which such Vessels respectively may belong; or the Port or Ports of delivery to be specified in the Clearance and Bonds given at the shipment.

The certain Articles imported as above, into the certain Colonial Ports, may, in British Vessels only, be carried to any other British Port of America or the West Indies, or may be produced in such cases that the Duties thereon have been regularly paid at the first Place of their importation. And such imported Articles may also be carried from such Colonies to the United Kingdom, under the Rules, Restrictions, and Conditions established by the following Statutes, viz. 13th Charles 2d, 22d and 23d Charles 2d, and 20th George 3d.

The Privileges given to foreign Ships are confined to the Vessels of such Nations only as afford the like Privileges to British Ships in their Ports; for which purpose His Majesty may by Order in Council at any time suspend the operation of this Act in favour of the Vessels of any Nation, when it may appear to His Majesty that British Vessels do not in the Ports of such Nation or Country, enjoy the like Privileges as are herein afforded to foreign Vessels.

His Majesty, after the passing of this Act, may extend by Order in Council, the list of Articles to be imported into the Colonies, and also increase the number of Ports into which such Importation may be made.

Forfeitures of Vessels and Cargoes incurred, in case of importation into the Colonies beyond the limitations of this Act. No allusion is made to any Duty on foreign Tonnage entering Colonial Ports.

COMMUNICATED.

A lamentable circumstance occurred on the Richibucto about two months ago. A poor man in the employment of Mr. Wm. Davidson, died of disease, cold, and hunger. The overseer a few days before his death, had sent him some raw meat and Indian meal, but the wretched man, being unable to cook it, was obliged to devour it undressed. The neighbours, we are sorry to understand, did not extend the fostering hand of charity, and amidst the horrors of a loathsome disease, and the gloom of solitude and poverty, he was allowed miserably to expire. Mrs. Powell, whose humanity to the unfortunate is as well known and conspicuous as her hospitality to strangers, did not know of the poor man's situation until human assistance was too late, and he had rendered his soul to his Maker. In the absence of the Coroner, S. C. Hewes, Esq. the body was interred without any Inquest being held.

On the evening of the 13th May, as a Sailing Boat was descending the Harbour of the Richibucto, with a strong wind, it was suddenly overset, and a lad who was in it of the name of Richard, of French parents, aged 16, was unfortunately drowned. Two of his brothers were in the boat at the time of the accident, but escaped. The body was found the following day, and an Inquest was going to be held.
