TO THE EDITORS OF THE WEEKLY OBSERVER.
Gentlemen: The exposition of the misconduct of the City Watch, to which you have so ably and so judiciously called attention in your issue of Friday last, has been read by me with much interest and sympathy. I have, on several occasions, heard complaints of the inactivity and want of vigilance of the Watch; and have formerly made representations to the proper authorities, to that effect; but without avail. I trust there is now an end to such apathy, and that, where so much money is drawn out of the pockets of the Public, it will be seen, it is not so drawn out in vain. I shall preserve the "British Colonist" above-mentioned, to wait the result of this appeal; and if nothing satisfactory does result, I, together with a numerous body of my neighbours, will resist the payment of any future Watch Tax. Yours, A CITIZEN.

The Observer.

SAINT JOHN:
TUESDAY, AUGUST 4, 1829.

We have received a Boston paper of the 25th ult. containing European dates one day later than those brought by the June Mail. There is nothing new. It seems generally understood that no measures would be proposed in Parliament for alleviating the distresses of the country. Indeed, we believe, it is quite beyond the wisdom and the power of our Legislators so to do. Political Economy seems as yet in its absolute infancy. Whilst property must be protected, and the Law, which is sufficiently express in its enactments to repress disorders, must be enforced, those wretched creatures now doomed to penury, doubly wretched from their moral obliquities and physical sufferings, can be afforded nothing but sympathy, and even that must be withheld from them if they bear not their misfortunes with a becoming spirit. The present state of things is not by any means novel, indeed such depressions and fluctuations are now of such frequent recurrence that there is some reason to apprehend that a crisis of no ordinary magnitude is approaching. "If we are to keep our place, however," say the Quarterly Reviewers, "it is indispensably necessary that every incumbrance should be removed which clogs the activity and energy of individuals or the government. Every part of the machine of society must be adapted to the increased exertion it is called upon to make. It is utterly impossible that every thing established by our ancestors should remain forever untouched, either in form or substance."

OFFENCES.—We are sorry to say that we have this week to record an unusually large number of such, in the shape of nocturnal depredations, both in the City and out of it. On Monday last, near the dead hour of night, the house of Mr. REID, at Gondola Point, was forcibly entered, and cash and goods to upwards of £20 value were abstracted. The following night the habitation of Messrs. DANIEL PEATMAN, WM. LAWSON, and JAMES BULYEA, in the Parish of Greenwich, King's County, were robbed of four watches and other articles of less value, by some person or persons unknown, and of whom no trace has yet been found. We hope the offenders in all these cases will not long escape the eye and hand of justice, as a description of the property and of certain suspected persons, has been published.—On Sunday night the large tenement of Mr. STANTON, in Dock-street, in which is the drug store of Mr. SMITH, was again clandestinely entered, but the villains did not get beyond the front door when they were scared. This, however, did not make them abandon all attempts upon that hopeful building, for the lower part of it, occupied as a Dry Good Store by Mr. T. PARKS, was actually entered, but nothing to their liking having come readily to hand, they took their departure without committing any act of theft.—On Wednesday night last, a ladder was observed at one of the front windows of the house occupied by Mr. DAVIES, in Princess-street, which being thought rather a suspicious circumstance, it was removed by the person who discovered it, and thus the plan of the designing party who placed it there was fortunately frustrated. But no thanks to our City Watchmen, who could not be aroused from their slumbers till their presence was rendered unavailing by the previous flight of the banditti. When we consider the sum annually raised by taxation for the support of such an establishment, we think we are entitled to have a more efficient Police. One quality which every Watchman ought to possess is, strict sobriety, for a person in that capacity having any thing of a tipping propensity will be sure to gratify it before he goes on his nocturnal duties, which cannot fail to be very ill performed when we consider the tendency to sleep which is induced by the intoxicating draught, to say nothing of its other injurious effects. We trust these recent evidences of glaring inefficiency on the part of the Police, will have the effect of exciting attention to that most important branch of our municipal establishment.

While on this subject we cannot forbear noticing with peculiar abhorrence the demoralizing influence of a class of Grog Shops, unhappily too numerous in our City. They seem devoted to tippling and falling both day and night, and are really nuisances to decent and orderly citizens when going about their lawful callings. One evening last week, at no later an hour than 7 o'clock, and not a hundred miles from the City Hall, a man in a state of beastly intoxication was dragged out of one of these haunts of profligacy, where he had been helped to the stupifying cordial till his appetite could no longer be a source of profit to the unprincipled vender, and was then laid down against the house exposed to public view. We fear that such occurrences are so frequent that they have ceased to produce that horror in the spectator which they ought to excite, and consequently that their utility as beacons to warn others of their danger is nearly at an end. But we hope not only the finger of scorn will be pointed at the keepers of such disorderly houses, but that the strong arm of the law will be exerted to check the gross abuses of which they are the fruitful sources.

Since writing the above, we have understood that on Saturday last three men and a woman were brought up before Justices WETMORE and M'LEOD, at Kingston, charged with having entered the dwelling houses of Messrs. PEATMAN, BULYEA, and LAWSON, on the Tuesday night previous, and stolen several watches and other articles. After a full and lengthy examination of a number of witnesses, the men were committed to gaol to take their trial for Burglary. No testimony came out sufficient to justify the Magistrates in committing the woman, although it was evident she had previously been in company with these men, under circumstances which proved her to be a woman of abandoned character and depraved habits. The men had been passing through the Country in the character and under the garb of tinkers, and from the access they professionally obtained to the different houses in the day time, they were enabled, with less chance of detection, to commit their nightly depredations.—The names of the men are John Burns, Patrick Riley, and Thomas Ryan; we are happy to hear the Magistrates and Inhabitants were most active in their exertions to secure the thieves. The gaol of King's County now contains two other Prisoners; one, a man charged with Grand Larceny and Arson; the other, a woman charged with murdering her infant.—We hear an application will be made to His Honor the PRESIDENT, to allow a Special Court to be held in King's County, and we hope the application may not be unsuccessful, as the Circuit Court will not be held in that County until January next, and we believe one of the prisoners now confined in gaol, has been nearly twelve months in custody, awaiting a Court of competent jurisdiction to try him.

STREETS.—The following is an outline of the improvements on our streets, both as in progress and as contemplated. The plan is certainly judicious, and cannot fail eventually to give perfect satisfaction. As to the injury that may be done to the property of some individuals, and the expense that others may be put to in consequence of the reducing as well as elevating scheme adopted, we can only say that we sympathize with the sufferers, and while we hope they will be reconciled to their fate from the consideration that private sacrifices must sometimes be made for the public good, we would at the same time hint that some reasonable allowance should be made by the Corporation to such as have on more than one occasion been subjected to great inconvenience and pecuniary loss even in so good a cause. To those who are disposed to censure (whose number, we believe, is very small) we would just repeat the well known proverb "fools and children should not see things half done."—Operations have vigorously commenced and are going rapidly on to a successful termination in Prince William-street (the second from the water, the first being already in good order.) All undue elevations are cut down, and places too low are raised up, thus bringing the whole to its intended permanent level. There will naturally follow similar improvements on the next street in order, running in the same direction, (namely, Germain-street.) When these two are completed, we believe it is intended that the cross streets between them be finished, namely, Princess, Duke, and Queen-streets. Any one who witnesses the present state of these last mentioned, cannot fail to perceive that no ordinary labour and expense will be required to bring them into any thing like good order. But it is clear that by dint of perseverance in the plan adopted, in a few years we may calculate on having some commodious and even handsome streets. There is an obvious propriety, however much it may exercise the patience of those who are in the back ground, in commencing with the streets where the greatest thoroughfare is and always will be, and also in completing the improvements on each in regular succession. In consequence of a different arrangement having been followed in past times, much of the labour and expense devoted to our streets for 12 or 14 years by-gone have been thrown away, as the gravel then carted will now either be carried away altogether, or buried under the stuff put down to bring the street to its permanent elevation. Wounds should not be skinned over, but probed to the bottom, otherwise no remedy can be applied with any prospect of permanent advantage.

With regard to the Statute Labour Law, we would humbly suggest, that it stands in need of alteration and amendment in as far as least as regards this city, the comparative wealth of the people living here and in the country making it apply unfavourably to the former. If the Law were to authorise the Common Council to assess in such a way as to bring the poor man to do work on the streets in some proportion to his limited circumstances, we would soon observe a marked change for the better, as the more wealthy classes would pay money instead of personally doing work: Say, not over 50 days for any, nor less than 2 for any, (or let the maximum and minimum be fixed according to something like an equitable scale,) and the sum of 5s. considered as equivalent to a day's work, the public coffers would soon be in a flourishing condition, and much good could be done.

DOGS.—Though there have not lately been any cases of canine madness in this City or neighbourhood, yet we regret to state that our streets are still infested by numbers of useless dogs, which we are sorry to say are not always harmless. Last week a woman was bit by one, and yesterday morning a child met with the same fate. Many people have indeed killed their dogs from a sense of duty to themselves, their families, and the public; and the Constables, &c. have been diligent in putting them to death when found at large, but many of these animals are still left loose at night and on Sundays. To dog-killers, we would recommend remote or retired corners for the exercise of their functions, as it is revolting to the feelings of humanity and in every view disgusting to see the butchery of dogs upon the streets or highways. To the owners of dogs, we would suggest the propriety of confining such as are really useful, and destroying such as they can spare, if it were from no other considerations than those of common humanity, and a regard to their own families, for how awful the thought to a parent, were his negligence in this particular to be the means of exposing one of his own children to the assault of a rabid animal, fed and cherished under his own roof!

MELANCHOLY ACCIDENT.—On Sunday morning last, a young man of the name of FELIX M'CLASKY, very recently from Ireland, went in to bathe at the Breakwater, and was unfortunately drowned. He went out but a little way, and whether he was taken with cramp or was unskilful in swimming, is unknown. His sinking first excited the attention of a young man who was in the water at the same time, but at some distance; and although the young man made several efforts to save M'Clasky, at the imminent risk of his own life, unhappily they were unsuccessful. We learn he was unmarried, and has left three affectionate sisters in this place to lament his untimely fate. The body was soon found, and an Inquest held upon it—Verdict, Accidentally drowned.

MIRAMICHI NEWSPAPER.—The first number of The Gleaner, and Northumberland Schism, a new paper in room of the Mercury, published at Miramichi, reached us last week. The selections are judicious, the paper is good, and the general execution promises very fair. We wish the enterprising Editor a larger share of Fortune's favor than he has ever yet enjoyed.

We regret to observe that the Rev. Mr. BACON and Mrs. BACON, of Miramichi, met with a serious accident in travelling lately by the Stage Coach from Pictou to Halifax. The vehicle upset, and Mr. B. had three of his ribs broken, and Mrs. B. was severely bruised.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.—Pursuant to public notice, a general meeting of the Members of the Chamber of Commerce was held on Wednesday last in the News-Room.

In consequence of the absence of Z. Wheeler, and J. R. Partelow, Esquires—R. W. Crookshank, Esq. was called to the Chair; who opened the meeting by stating the principal object of its being held, viz. the choosing of Members to fill up the elective part of the Committee for the present year, conformably to the new Rules and Regulations of the Institution. The Rules and Regulations having been read and approved of, the following gentlemen were elected:

L. Donaldson, Esquire, Chairman.
William Lovell, and J. Esquires, Deputy Chairmen.
Isaac Woodward, Mr. James Robertson, Jan. Secretary.
George D. Robinson, John Robertson, James Kirk, Esquires, Ordinary Members of Committee.
T. L. Nicholson, W. Walker.

The non-elective part of the Committee consists of Members of the Assembly for the City and County of Saint John—making the Members, in all, fifteen.

In consequence of Mr. Wheeler and Mr. Crookshank signifying to the meeting that they declined accepting of any official situation, though they still continued members of the Chamber; a vote of thanks to them both was unanimously passed, for their exertions in promoting the objects of the establishment, during the time they filled their official situations.

Several instances of the attention of Government to the representations made by commercial bodies in the colonies, having lately been observable; we congratulate our mercantile friends on the late revival of the "Chamber of Commerce" of this place.—Courier.

It is with pleasure we record the agreeable fact that two steamers, these few days, sailed from this port. We are not positively certain whether these vessels will bring their return cargoes hither or not, but our want of information on this head does not detract one iota from the pleasure we feel in witnessing the resuscitation of an old principle, and its introduction into our commercial system.—Miramichi Gleaner.

From the Boston Patriot of July 25.
Two days later from England.—The packet ship Mermaid, arrived at Philadelphia from Liverpool, bringing a Liverpool paper of June 8, and a London of June 7.—There is nothing of importance, in addition to the news by the Britannia at New-York. The report that the Duke of Wellington was about to proceed to Vienna, after the rising of Parliament, is contradicted. There was a report that the Russians had been defeated at Czernobova. The health and spirits of the King of England are declared "excellent."

M. de Chateaubriand has had frequent private audiences of the King of France. Important changes were expected to take place in the French Ministry. It was believed that Mr. Brougham had been invited to accept office by the Duke of Wellington.

The Great Seal, says the Standard, is immediately to pass into new hands. Whether voluntarily or otherwise, Lord Lyndhurst must retire forthwith. Mr. Peel will retire also, but, perhaps, not so soon. Who is to succeed Lord Lyndhurst, we are unable to say; Mr. Brougham, we suppose, in compliance to the King and the tory party. Mr. Peel's removal will make room for some other Whig, Earl Grey, perhaps, or perhaps some Major-General.

Notwithstanding the seeming details of certain papers, we believe it is now generally understood that Mr. McLane is charged with a mission to the British government relative to the Tariff.—United States Gazette.

PASSENGERS in the Steam-boat St. John from Eastport.
General Gaines, Major Townsend, and Lieut. Butler, of the United States Army, on their way to Houston, on a tour of inspection; Mr. Austin and Mr. Dorr, of Boston. Passengers in the Ann, for Liverpool, on Sunday last.—H. H. Carmichael, Esq. and Lady.
