We Are "Specialists"

WE Have Hit the Nail Squarely on the Head—Specialization is doing the trick. Our "Mill-to-Man" proposition is appealing not only to men with an eye to economy, but to all men of common sense. We are concentrating all the skill, brains and money of our entire organization on the production of one thing ONLY—

High-Grade SUITS Made-to-Measure

Your Choice of any Material

No Room in Business Today for the Jack-of-all-Trades. This is an age of specialization. Those who mark find the rule of concentration better than the shotgun of scatteration. Doing one thing only, and doing that better than anyone else, is the surest way to achieve success.

GOOD RECORD OF NORTH SHORE

At a recruiting meeting in Newcastle this week, Lieut. Smith reported that the North Shore had done very well in volunteering. About 200 had offered for the first contingent; about 200 for the second and about 100 since. For the 50th Battalion, Campbellton had sent seventeen men, Chatham sixteen, and Newcastle fifteen already. The following recruits have been secured by Lieut. Murray—Wm. Sullivan, Grey Rapids; David Gordon, Maple Glen; Eugene Landry, Laketon, Kent Co.; Pat

Richards, Aldoune, Kent County; Joseph Piper, Nelson; Levi White, Rogersville; Dennis Herbert, Rogersville; Albert P. Doucette, Collette; Anthony Bastarache, Acadieville; Frank Knight, Millerton; Wm. Thibideau, Bathurst; Mark Hambrook, Grainsfield; Arthur Arbour, Blackville; Harry Murphy, Bridgetown; also two other men.

Derby parish has given fifteen recruits. Some men of Redbank have already volunteered. Stanley Parks is missing after the battle of Langemarck; and among the others serving are: Warren Gulliver at the front; Garvie Rae with the 20th Mounted Infantry, Amherst; and Lorne Powers, with the 3rd Contingent.

Another former member of the 12th Battalion who has just been wounded is Pte. Chesley Gray of Mill Bank. He was one of the many recruits from the Miramichi with the First Contingent and was sent forward from England recently with the reinforcements and joined the 15th Battalion in Belgium. Mrs. Queenie Gray, of Mill Bank, received word Sunday that her husband had been wounded.

Rev. L. A. Foster, rector of Bay du Vin, received word last week that his brother Cyril, who went from Vancouver in the first Canadian contingent, is wounded and a prisoner in the hands of the Germans. A letter received by a Chatham man from a friend in London, says that Andrew Baldwin, who was wounded in battle is now well on the road of recovery. He is in the Duchess of Connaught hospital. It is hinted that Mr. Baldwin has been reported for great bravery shown on the battlefield. Major Norman Edgar, 8th Battalion, reported wounded, was one of the best known military officers in the west and was one of the original officers of the 15th. He is a native of Chatham.

Bells were made in India and China before Europe, and used in temples. They were mostly struck by hand.

Was Troubled With Eczema.

Would Nearly Yell With Pain.
BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS CURED HIM.

Mr. R. J. Swales, Harriston, Ont., writes: "I have been a great sufferer with eczema. I tried all kinds of salves, but they did me no good. Sometimes I would nearly yell with the pain, and would pass little white worms. I was told to get at the blood, so I used four bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters, and it has made a complete cure."

All skin diseases such as eczema or salt rheum, itching or burning rashes, boils, pimples, eruptions, ulcers, etc., are all caused by the blood becoming impoverished, and while not usually attended with any fatal results, may sooner or later develop into some serious blood trouble, and the entire system become affected.

Burdock Blood Bitters will cleanse the blood of all its impurities and by this means cure all skin and blood troubles. This valuable preparation has been on the market for the last forty years, so you do not make any experiment when you give it a trial.

WILL TOMMY HOWE NEVER QUIT BALL?

Is Practising With a Halifax Nine and is Still Some Player

Amherst Guardian—Well, well, well, the next thing we know Methuselah himself will be reappearing and working for Ban Johnson or some of these other slave owners whose chattels play baseball. Tommy Howe is turning out for practice with a Halifax nine! Can you beat it?

Tommy Howe was playing ball when some of the fellows who will be his team-mates this year were probably still running around in dresses. Honest, he was.

Tommy Howe first saw the baseball light of day up in Fredericton. He guarded the hot corner for the Fredericton Tartars or went in the box when the opposing teams showed too great a liking for the shots served up by Dick Tibbitts. And Tommy was both some third baseman and some pitcher, though he gave up the pitching end of the business a few score years ago—more or less.

Later on, he was in the New England League for a short season. Rumor had it that Tommy didn't like the manager's way of bossing the players and the manager didn't like Tommy's way of dialling his way. The inevitable happened, and Mr. Howe came back to the maritime provinces. For a time he was with the Alerts—or was it the Roses?—in St. John. Latterly, he has been living in Halifax and still holding down that difficult corner on the diamond. But, hullo, see, think of him being still in the game! Why, it's almost like cruelty to the aged. Yet it's a safe bet that he'll play better ball this summer than some of the younger fry who haven't the respect they should have for their elders, for Howe was a mighty good ball-player for this part of the world when he was in his prime as an athlete.

PLAYERS WE KNOW FIGURE IN GAMES

Former N. B. & Maine Leaguers Take Part in Holiday Attractions

(Fredericton Glenora.) Former New Brunswick and Maine League players figured in many of the baseball attractions for Memorial Day in the New England States.

Ray Tift and Jack Deidrick, two former Fredericton pitchers, opposed one another at Winsted, Mass. The Winsted pitchers bunched their six hits off Deidrick and five runs by the St. Joseph's Club of Lynn, who had borrowed Deidrick from the New England League club of that city for the occasion, aided them materially. Deidrick struck out eight batters, but lost floor control, giving three bases on balls, and being charged with two wild pitches.

Bete Condon, playing with the Maples of Salem, Mass., and helped them win by 6 to 4, after the Reading, Mass. club on the holiday.

Kid Ingalls, another former Fredericton pitcher, figured in the outfield for the Marlboro club when they lost in the afternoon game to the Pilgrim A. A. of Boston, 9 to 8. Ingalls had one of his club's ten hits.

"Chick" McLaughlin, a former Harvard pitcher who was with the Woodstock club, was the big noise of the Pilgrim team in that game, contributing two home runs while playing first base.

In the morning McLaughlin pitched and lost by a score of 7 to 6.

Stanley Bates, another former Fredericton pitcher, turned up with the Makarias of Quincy, his old club, and won a game from the Red Men A. C. also of Quincy, holding his opponents to five hits.

Pat Duggan put in a good day's work for the Fitchburg club, the New England League, having two hits in each of the two games played on the holiday against the Lowell club. Fitchburg won both games by close scores, the morning contest, 4 to 3, although they were outbatted by 12 to 4 hits, while in the afternoon they won at Lowell by 7 to 5 in eleven innings.

Louis Woodcock, pitcher, won another game for the Hartford club, leaders in the Colonial League on Memorial Day, the Springfield club being beaten by 5 to 2. Joe Neptune, with two hits, and Charlie O'Brien, with one safety, contributed materially to the Hartford club's victory.

A certain war correspondent hated the "fakin'."

Dining with a faking writer one evening in New York, he said:

"So, Bill, now that faking has gone out of fashion you claim that you never faked, eh? Well, you remind me there of Uncle Peleg."

"I'm 91 years old said Uncle Peleg, solemnly in the general store, and I don't remember ever to have told a lie."

"Well, of course, uncle," said a young farm hand, "you can't expect to have a very reliable memory at your age."

CANDLING EGGS.

Live Stock Branch, Ottawa, May 26.

Editor Times:—

Sir—The season is drawing near when an increasingly large number of bad and inferior eggs reach the larger markets or are offered for sale locally and it occurs to me that your readers may be interested in the information given out by this branch relative to the practice of candling eggs. I am enclosing, therefore, a pamphlet (Pamphlet No. 8, Foultry Division, revised edition) entitled "The Candling of Eggs," a copy of which we shall be pleased to furnish free to any of your subscribers together with one of the candling appliances described therein. The latter may be utilized either for commercial purposes or for domestic use.

Yours faithfully,
JOHN BRIGHT,
Live Stock Commissioner.

Great Britain now adopts

what Canada has enforced since 20 years

Spirituuous liquors in Great Britain have hitherto been sold without guarantee of maturity.

Lloyd George, ex-Chancellor of the Exchequer, laid a bill before Parliament which requires that liquors be matured for three years before being sold to the public. It has been found that immature spirits are causing much of the troubles amongst the working classes. Great Britain is only now finding out what Canada has known for years. The law in Canada says spirituuous liquors shall be matured for years before being sold.

GOLD CROSS GIN

is the only Gin made in Canada — is matured for years in bond under the supervision of the Government. You have no such guarantee with Imported Gin. Foreign Gins come into this Country raw — destructive to human body. Ask for CANADIAN made Gin.

Look for the Government label on every bottle
