ck in the century class and Mede and Jenkins in the nineties they led fifty-eight pins more than their bonents. For the Hawks, Power had and Downing 92.

The second string was another story, Kipling says. With Power having olutely no regard for the pin boys rolling 120 and McAuliffe in the try class the Hawks won by twenty-pins. For the Robins, Cusack had excellent score of 115.

The third string was all Hawk. With the third string was all the third the thir

"I would sooner race him in Australia than anyone else."

"He is a much-looked-for man in Australia. They would dearly love to see him, and if any syndicate or bunch of English supporters will help him to make the journey, well, I can assure them they will be doing a great thing to bind sport between the two countries."

New York, Nov. 20—George Gibson, former American League catcher and manager last season of the Toronto Internations, will be tendered a contract to manage the Pittsburg Pirates by Owner Barney Dreyfuss at the National League meeting here early in December, according to reports here today. Amherst News: Next summer, if all goes well, an Amherst baseball team will tour the maritime provinces and Maine. Five years ago tentative dates had been made in this connection, but the outbreak of war caused the plans to be dropped. The team would probably consist of about twelve players, With the superb pitching staff that Amherst now has it will take some aggregation of pill tossers to defeat the wouldbe travelers.

The Journal of fact, and not as an evidence of spiritual conflict, he said public opinion was against the Catholic church because the powers that created it were against her. He said the press was and is inimical to the Catholic church. He did not mean any particular paper but the formidable ensemble with financial backing and world-wide information services. The total suppression of truth and facts, the conspiracy of silence, deceptive headlines, he said, were some of the strategies against the Catholic church. The Pope and the War—Quebec and the War—the blank silence on President Wilson's visit to the Vatican, he said, were recent instances of what he meant. What was wanted was fair play, truth and justice.

Speaking of the other factors of public opinion Father Daly said:—"I claim that the vision of life which comes from the glare of the footlights or the dimness of the movie screen is not that episce of the movie screen is not that given to the Catholic church."
