Canadian Press Despatch. GENEVA, March 12.-The position taken by Canada and the other selfgoverning units of the British Empire,
SHAMROCK FROM OLD was stressed by Austen Chamberlain, Great Britain's secretary for foreign affairs, in the course of his long-her-alded discourse on the famous pact for security and disarmament before the Council of the League of Nations to-day. Mr. Chamberlain made it clear that the British attitude toward the protocol was that of the Empire, and resulted from consultation and close co-operation between the Dominions and the mother country.

LONDON, March 12.—German competition with British industry is reaching such an extent as to cause general alarm. Both employers and labor are gradually awakening to a realization of the effect of this competition and are suggesting all kinds of schemes to meet it by the calling of conferences and by other means. It is revealed this morning that three more contracts have gone to Southern India and South Africa instead of Germany owing to the spread in the tendered price.

The plaintiff declared that he was instituting the action for separation on grounds of unspeakable crueity and abuse.

The Wife's Flea.

The defendant, said Mr. Justice De Lorimier, pleaded that she had always been a good and faithful wife, always loving, taking care of the plaintiff in his illness. She stated that since her husband had become incapable of looking after his affairs, she had taken charge of the common domicile, where she rented rooms for her benefit and that of her husband and children.

Great to Repair.

QUEBEC, Que., March 12.—The parish church of St. Urbain, in the Baie St. Paul region, suffered so much damage during the recent earthquake that the villagers have decided to denoish the building, and erect a new church. The church was built more than 100 years ago. It withstood the earthquake of 1854.

Damage to St. Urbain Structure in Recentified to estimates announced today. Last year's estimate was £45,000,000. Britain's standing army now includes 160,600 men, as compared to 161,600 a year ago.

Recruiting during the last 12 months is reported to be disappointing. Of the 34,000 men needed for routhe replacements only 30,000 have been enlisted, Sixty per cent of the applicants, more over, have been rejected owing to the high standard of the requirements.

Although the Lenten season makes impossible some of the social features that marked the of the social features that marked the opening of the house years ago, when the Assembly was called at an earlier date, yet today's ceremonials lacked little of the brilliancy of former openings. The Legislative Chamber presented a magnificent scene of beauty, the fashionable gowns of the ladies contrasting the sombre khaki of the military officers attending His Honor. As usual packed galleries featured the opening and all available scating capacity was taxed to the limit.

The members of the House assembled in chamber before 3 o'clock and at that hour Hon. A. A. Dysart, speaker of the House took his seat.

New Members Introduced.

Premier Veniot announced the official returns of the bye-elections held during the recess in Moncton city and Gloucester county, and then prayers were read by Very Rev. Dean Neales.

The new members of the House, Hon. I. C. Rand, Attorney General, and E. A. Reilly, of Moncton, who had previously taken the oath of office, which was administered at noon by Sig. Douglas Hazen, Chief Justice, were formally introduced. The Attorney General was presented the Speaker by Premier Veniot and Hon. Fred Magee, while Mr. Riley was presented by C. D.
