that point, and as only a few of us are quite sure that we are infallible, there might be trouble in securing a unanimous judgment. On the whole, since Mr. Carnegie appears to be ac-cepted by those who know him best as neither a fiend nor a monster, it might his gift from some other standpoint than that of the means by which his wealth was acquired. Efforts are sometimes made to arouse prejudice against capitalists on grounds that do not commend themselves to thoughtful people, and there is a suspicion that comparatively few men would reject the opportunity to acquire wealth if their foresight threw the chance in their way. LYNCHING AND PROHIBITION.

The New York Sen says that lynching and prohibition go together is the south, and backs up the statement as follows:—Thus in Mississippi, most noted for lynchings, sixty-nine of the seventy-five counties are under prohibition law; South Carolina is a prohibition state, and even the limited and restricted sale of spirits is a state monopoly under the "dispensary system;" Arkansas has fifty prohibition counties out of a total of seventy-five, and in Georgia prohibition is general except in four cities; and the proposition to abolish liquor selling in these files was very nearly adopted in the tallantic Legislature a few years ago."

But one cannot see what relation But one cannot see what relation ning. Maine is a prohibition state. the typical one in the union. And Maine has no lynching.

A cable states that the labor party in Australia will seek to have a very stringent allen labor law passed by the federal parliament. Their representatives will propose a bill pushing the prohibition of contract labor to the extent that if the bill were adopted an English clergyman appointed by an Australian bishopric, or a Scotchman appointed manager of an Australian railway, would be refused admission to the commonwealth.

Up to Saturday last the shipment of cheese from Montreal for this season totalled 1,037,582 boxes, compared with 1,363,163 in the like period of 1900, and 1,255,565 in the like period of 1899. The butter shipments for the same period were:—1901, 231,321 packages; 1900, 190,008 packages; $1899, 289,284 packages. Cheese on the Ontario boards is over two cents cheaper than at this time last year.

Is Attacked as an Irsult.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—Prof. Mahasty, the well-known senior fellow of frincity College, Dublin, has given great offence to the Irtish Nationalists by an atter-dinner speech which he made recently. Responding to a toset on the prosperity of Ireland, the professor said that whatever prosperity came to Ireland they must not expect that contentment would be a sign of it. Contentment was not a proof of prosperity in Ireland, he said, and gave the following two instances:—

"In the first place there were an immense number of idle people loading about Dublin. No country, unless it was enoughly prosperous, could support the working people and those who did not work. There is another sreat, class in Ireland that has proved the enough wealth of the country, namely, a class of imposters. There is no country where imposters have flourished more thoroughly than in Ireland. The profession is so widespread that mearly everybody is an imposter, who admits that he himself is a leading member of the profession, it is useless to deny it; but he would say that if he thought he was an imposter he would long since have taken to politics."

The Irish Nationalists attacked this statement angrily as an insult to the Irish members of parliament.

cures a Victory Over Gen. Hutton, Lord Minto and Lord Lansdowne.

n Enquiry Justifies His Action in Resigning and Refusal to Knuckle Down to Gen. Hutton.

(Special to the Star.)
HALIFAX, Sept. 10.—Since the reignation of Lord William Seymout reation of Lord William Seymour are has been no general officer committee the British forces in North merica. The Halifax garrison has en without a general since his rement, the administration of affairs ing entrusted to a subordinate office. This has caused a great deal of

cer. This has caused a great deal comment.

The reason for General Lord Sey mour's retirement has been a mystery it was known that he had resigned but why no one was aware. The story of the trouble has just become known of the trouble has just become known in Halifax. It was this, that Lord William's jurisdiction as commander in-chief in North America clashed violently with the alleged jurisdiction of General Hutton, then commanding the Canadian militia, and, much as the former liked Halifax, he resigned rather than take an inferior position and submit to what he considered wrong. When the Canadian contingents came to Halifax for embarkation to South Africa, General Seymour assumed that as commander-in-chief those troops would be under his command, and he proceeded to act accordingly. But General Hutton said: "No. General Seymour, British general officer that he is, has nothing to to with those soldiers. He must contine himself to his own garrison, and have nothing to do with the embarkation of Canadian soldiers, even though bound for war service in South Africa."

General Seymour objected and ap-roling in support of General Hutton was confirmed.

General Seymour thus found himself in a high office, but with nothing to do. He refused to continue in such an anomalous position, and sent in his resignation to the war office, the public hearing nothing of the reasons. It was accepted, and Lord Seymour left Halfax: after having served for only three of the five years of his term.

Now comes the sequel to the story and a triumph for Lord Seymour.

After his return to England, Lord Seymour's friends advised him to demand an inquiry. This was granted, and a board, which comprised some very prominent officers, was appointed by the war office. This board looked into the question, and the result was that they completely vindicated Lord William Seymour, holding that he and he alone had supreme jurisdiction over the troops in question. It was a bad durn-down for Lord Minto, for General Hutton, and for Lord Minto, for General Hutton, and to Ebritish regular forces have had no general officer in command in North America. It is understood that such an officer will be appointed at an early date, on the return of officers from Africa, and when he will have the advantage of Lord William Seymour's sad experience and will know who is running the Canadian milltia and British troops, at least in circumstances such as those described.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Sept. 11.—No extempt whatever was made this morning to start the big tube mill at Mcceesport, although there was a large rowd of strikers around the mill to teep out any men who might try to st back. After the lively scenes of esterday none of the employes showed the least inclination to return. To all suspension of the National Tube nill and other plants of the National Tube company will likely follow the wo unsuccessful attempts to resume perations of yesterday and Monday. Trus have been drawn at all the Mcceesport plants of the National Tube ompany, and the firemen and a few there who have been doing odd jobs bout the mill have been notified not a teturn to work until further notice. The only profile shout the mill this moraling were the watchmen. Fires awa also been drawn at the Mational tolling mill and at the Monancahelia teel works in this city." The strikers are growing urity and assaults have been reported within the last & bourn.

My ideas, my feelings, my sympathies, my tastes remained Russian, and when we went back to St. Petersburg the year I was 15 it was going home for me. My family was Orthodox. None of my revolutionary tendencies were inherited. At least my parents were not responsible for them and were horrified by them.
