GORDON BENNET GUILTY OF ABUSING THE MAILS

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Appearing through counsel today the New York Herald Corporation, James Gordon Bennett and Stanley W. Gilliam pleaded to indictments found against them in the criminal branch of the United States circuit court. The indictments contain eight counts, each charging the defendants with having deposited in the post office certain specified copies of the New York Herald, containing alleged improper "personals," the same constituting unlawful matter according to the U. S. statutes. The defendants pleaded not guilty, with the privilege of withdrawal within three weeks and the substitution of demurrers of other motions by counsel. No bill was returned. As a result of these indictments the other cases of the government against individual editors of the Herald were dismissed.

John Wilson, of Lorneville, had his left leg broken in two places yesterday afternoon at Bay Shore, where he was working for the C. P. R. A piece of rail which was being removed struck Wilson on the knee.

MODERN CIVILIZATION.

Through time the United States will become a Christian country; it is now a so-called civilized land, but incidents happen every day which are fully as brutal as are found in the lives of barbarous nations. Lynchings and similar horrors are of frequent occurrence but these may as a rule be ascribed to the deep rooted racial hatred existing in the Southern States. There has however, been enacted during the past few months a tragedy of deeper pathos, involving more cold blooded cruelty and heartlessness than all the lynchings within a year. A miserable and unfortunate sufferer has been hounded from one state to another, his necessarily brief life has been filled with almost unbearable agony, and last of all instead of receiving that help and sympathy which should have been accorded even to a dog he has been poisoned and burned, put out of the way because his presence was supposed to be a menace to the safety of a panic stricken community.

A young man developed leprosy, and was banished from his home. Everywhere he went the facts of his condition had preceded him and he was turned away from civilization to seek refuge in the forests or on the mountains. He was hunted by dogs, forced to flee for his life from the vengeance of the people, his only crime being that he was afflicted with what is commonly supposed to be a contagious disease. In desperation the poor creature sought quiet in a freight car. He was discovered, the car was shunted to an abandoned ballast pit, and left there for weeks with the man in it. Finally he took to the woods and after weary wandering stopped at an old shack where he has since dragged out his existence.

But the people instead of taking steps to relieve the sufferer, exhibited almost inhuman cruelty, and yesterday in order to unburden their minds, put poison in some food that was sent to him. Then they set fire to the shack, and burned the body.

This happened in Virginia, in the United States.

THE BRITISH PARLIAMENT.

The session of the British Parliament which begins today will be a notable one. Matters of the highest importance are to come up for consideration, and all the experience and tact of the leader will be required to keep his party in order. Campbell-Bannerman assumed power burdened with more pre-election promises than he could ever hope to fulfill. Some of them were wise and some were foolish, but the latter have for the most part been forgotten even by those who forced them from the candidates. In the face of grave danger of antagonizing members of all parties in the house, including even some of his strongest supporters, the premier adopted and faithfully pursued a policy which has led to the introduction and perfecting of much important legislation; old time theories have been abandoned, radical reforms in almost all departments introduced, and the end of the first session saw the government more closely united than when it first assumed power. There are a number of matters to come up over which a wide diversity of opinion exists, the education bill, and several items on the labor programme including workmen's compensation act, being among the number. But the Campbell-Bannerman government has not yet shown any desire to avoid the issue, and no doubt the legislative difficulties will all be met in due time. Just now there is a revival of the home rule agitation, and a new generation of men are taking the place of those who disappeared some years ago. They are putting forward their views with fresh vigor, and it remains to be seen whether Campbell-Bannerman will face the Irish question or stave it off as most of his predecessors have done. One thing might be said, that Ireland was never better qualified to be given home rule than she is at present.

WOMEN'S FEET.

"A woman's feet grow indefinitely," replied a well known shoe dealer. "Then in another decade you'll need need 'em," groaned his customer, "for when I was 20 my feet would go into '3s and now I wear '4s." "Many women wear '7s and '8s," replied the dealer. "Because they grow stout?" gasped the woman. "No, not necessarily, but women's feet seem gradually to become longer as well as broader for three or four years after the same size of shoe from youth to old age. Do you think that it's a quite large enough for you?" continued the dealer. "No," she admitted bravely, "they pinch dreadfully. Please give me a broader pair."

HE KNEW.

Mrs. Dixon did not wish to offend her new cook, "John," she said to the man-servant one morning, "can you find out, without asking the cook, whether the canned salmon was all eaten last night? You see, I don't wish to ask her because she may have eaten it, and then she would be uncomfortable." "I added the good soul, "If you please, ma'am," replied the man, "the new cook has eaten the canned salmon, and if you was to say anything to her you couldn't make her feel any more uncomfortable than she is."

KAISER ANOTHER HAROU AL RASCHID Wanders About Among Berlin Crowds to Study Problems of the Capital.

BERLIN, Oct. 22.—Curious stories of the Kaiser's weakness for studying the problems of his capital and his people, after the fashion of Haroun al Raschid, the Baghdad Caliph, are going the round of court circles now. It is stated that in order to obtain impartial views of the Berliners concerning many innovations that he contemplates, the Kaiser has occasionally made use of private carriages at night to drive to some frequented spot, where he has alighted and mixed with the crowd. In spite of his characteristic and marked features, he has invariably escaped detection. A few weeks ago he stood alone at the corner of Potsdamer Platz for over an hour to study means and methods whereby the enormous and congested traffic there could be best dealt with. With the exception of a single occasion, when Prince Henry accompanied him, the Emperor sallied forth on these night tours of inspection alone, not even his gentleman-in-waiting being in attendance.

A meeting of the committee of the proposed Westfield sporting club was held last evening, but no business of much importance was transacted. W. C. Rothwell when seen this morning, said that another meeting would be held shortly when the name of the club and its constitution will be considered.

The Star will on Saturday next, commence the publication of a new serial by Anna Katharine Green entitled "The Circular Study." This story is one of the best, and should be read by all. In so far as possible two columns will appear five days of the week and three columns on Saturdays. The story will run for six or seven weeks.

ADMINISTERING JUSTICE IN THE UNITED STATES

Court Held in One Case on a Moving Train—In Another the Prisoner Was Disguised to Elude the Mobs.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Oct. 22.—Disguised as a coachman for a prominent citizen, Herman Thomson, a negro, who, on Friday, attempted to assault Calie Belle Cain, a white child, escaped lynching by armed men who have been scouring Alabama for him, and is now serving a twenty year sentence at Pratt, Miss. Penitentiary.

This afternoon the negro in the guise of a coachman was slipped into the Montgomery city court hall and pleaded guilty to the crime. He then drove a private carriage to the station where he was put on a special train for Pratt, Miss. Since the crime was committed Thomson has been in hiding, carefully guarded by deputy sheriffs. In order to take him to the court house in safety and thence to the train, a prominent citizen consented to have him installed temporarily as his coachman. The negro was glad to accept the job and made no attempt to escape.

MAPLETON, IOWA, Oct. 22.—Court was held on a Northwestern train at Mapleton today, and Claude Fischer, accused of assaulting Miss Minnie Baker, a school teacher, was bound over to the grand jury in $2,000 bonds which taken to jail at Quasav. The authorities fear an attempt might be made to lynch Fischer, who was barely saved from a mob last night.

SAW SEVENTY NINE PERSONS, DROWNED

Survivors From Foundering Houseboat Tell of Their Experience.

MOBILE, Ala., Oct. 22.—The Malory Line steamer, which arrived in port today has as passengers Joseph Nelson, Charles Olsen, Charles Anderson and Otto Brink, who were picked up on a raft made out of six logs and were in the water waist deep at the time. Nelson said he and the other other men were on a houseboat at Long Key when the hurricane struck them and blew the boat out to sea. It soon went pieces and out of the 125 people on board 79 were drowned before his eyes. The other 42 have since been taken to pieces of the company and Florida swamps from Miami to Key West.

DOWN ON THE FARM

A fair sized audience was present at the Opera House last evening when the Opera House presented "Down on the Farm." This play is not new to St. John theatregoers, as it was played here for three nights, recently. Last night's performance could not be termed high class, as several members of the company did not appear to be suited to their roles, and the prompter was needed on a number of occasions.

Don Bagnall as "Si" gave the best performance, among the men, and he kept the audience in a continual roar. His "Pickings from Puck" were very funny. Algernon Eden, as William Bradley, gave a creditable account of himself and played the polished villain in a capable manner. Miss Helen Aubrey, as Mabel Fulton, as usual was the star of the evening. The stage settings were good, and in the third act a winter scene was shown, which was very realistic.

"Down on the Farm" will be repeated tonight and at the two performances tomorrow.

LEADING FIGURES IN THE CONTEST FOR THE $60,000,000 WIGHTMAN ESTATE

A GREAT MISTAKE. Two pretty girls of about sixteen years each were confiding to each other their views upon life in general, and upon affairs of the heart in particular. The blonde had evidently been recently receiving some maternal advice, for she remarked with a slight pout: "I think people are just too unrea-sonable."

"Of course," they are," the other readily agreed. "What are you talking about?" "Why, kissing."

"Who is unreasonable about kissing?" "Why—er—everybody. They only begin to think it's wrong for a girl to let herself be kissed when she begins to get old enough for it to be interest-ing."

Mrs. Wister has apparently got back her courage since "the scrap of paper" threw her counsel into confusion Monday week, and has announced her intention of resuming her contest for a portion of her late father-in-law's millions. Mrs. Walker on the other hand, is determined to resist to the last any attempt to force her to share the money with other heirs. If the case does not come up at the present term of court, it will probably be tried at the next.

THEY FAVOR CLOSING THE WESTERN CHANNEL. A public meeting was held in the Board of Trade rooms last night to discuss the proposed harbor improvements. A large number of citizens were present with W. F. Hatheway in the chair. Mr. Hatheway opened the meeting by enumerating the proposed improvements, which were the closing of the western channel, the straightening and widening of the eastern channel and the building of a breakwater from Partridge Island to the Island Rock.

Capt. Potter thought the west channel should be closed and the breakwater extended to the island. He also thought that alterations should be made at the Beacon. F. T. Gordon agreed with Captain Potter that the west channel should be closed. Engineer Holt proposed that a breakwater be built from Partridge Island to Sheldon's Point and make that enclosure the harbor. Pilot Rogers was opposed to the closing of the west channel but thought that Engineer Holt's scheme was practicable.

Dr. March also spoke in favor of the closing of the channel. Dr. Pink, Engineer Armstrong, J. A. Likely and Dr. Daniel, M. P., also spoke briefly.
