

British News.

House of Commons.—The Speaker... Immediately afterwards Sir F. Baring...

The hon. baronet was received with the most enthusiastic cheering, which lasted for several minutes...

Mr. Weller gave notice, that soon after the recess he should bring under the notice of the House...

Lord Palmerston, in answer to Mr. Hunt, said he had no objection to the production of the correspondence...

Lord Russell having moved that the House at its sitting adjourn till Wednesday next, some discussion followed...

Mr. Campbell moved, that the House do resolve itself into a committee on ways and means...

Mr. Russell gave notice on Friday next, that he would proceed with the bill for the amendment of the criminal law...

Mr. Campbell moved, that the House do resolve itself into a committee on ways and means...

Mr. O'Connell asked whether the Government had received any information respecting the importation of slaves into the Texas under the American flag...

Lord Palmerston said that he had not received any information to that effect...

Mr. O'Connell expressed the pleasure which he felt at the tone and temper in which the present discussion had been carried on...

Lord Stanley was unable to bring his mind to the conclusion that any measure for giving relief to the poor of Ireland could be satisfactory...

Lord Brougham said that the House of Commons had not yet received any information...

instead of promoting peace and harmony, it had tended to obstruct the reverse.

The Earl of Harrington was glad that the Government did not intend to play a game of retention with the House with respect to the Irish bill...

WESTMINSTER ELECTORS.—Friday. This fact the result of the poll was officially declared to the electors of Westminster, in Covent garden.

Shortly before two, the two parties, accompanied by their friends, arrived on the hustings...

Mr. Leader was attacked by Mr. Hunt, M. P. C. P. Verdon, M. P. C. P. Knight, M. P. C. P. Verdon, M. P. C. P. Knight, M. P. C. P. Verdon...

As soon as the election had been declared to have fallen on Sir Francis Baring's side...

Mr. Baring presented himself to the meeting, who were the regular meeting of the electors...

Mr. Leader then got upon the rail, and was received with reiterated shouts of applause...

Mr. Leader then got upon the rail, and was received with reiterated shouts of applause...

Mr. Leader then got upon the rail, and was received with reiterated shouts of applause...

Mr. Leader then got upon the rail, and was received with reiterated shouts of applause...

Mr. Leader then got upon the rail, and was received with reiterated shouts of applause...

Mr. Leader then got upon the rail, and was received with reiterated shouts of applause...

Mr. Leader then got upon the rail, and was received with reiterated shouts of applause...

by the law that no man in the land should stain his hands with the blood of a fellow creature...

The Earl of Harrington was glad that the Government did not intend to play a game of retention with the House with respect to the Irish bill...

WESTMINSTER ELECTORS.—Friday. This fact the result of the poll was officially declared to the electors of Westminster, in Covent garden.

Shortly before two, the two parties, accompanied by their friends, arrived on the hustings...

Mr. Leader was attacked by Mr. Hunt, M. P. C. P. Verdon, M. P. C. P. Knight, M. P. C. P. Verdon, M. P. C. P. Knight, M. P. C. P. Verdon...

As soon as the election had been declared to have fallen on Sir Francis Baring's side...

Mr. Baring presented himself to the meeting, who were the regular meeting of the electors...

Mr. Leader then got upon the rail, and was received with reiterated shouts of applause...

Mr. Leader then got upon the rail, and was received with reiterated shouts of applause...

Mr. Leader then got upon the rail, and was received with reiterated shouts of applause...

Mr. Leader then got upon the rail, and was received with reiterated shouts of applause...

Mr. Leader then got upon the rail, and was received with reiterated shouts of applause...

Mr. Leader then got upon the rail, and was received with reiterated shouts of applause...

Mr. Leader then got upon the rail, and was received with reiterated shouts of applause...

long as our penitents and guns are on the wrong side of Galipoli, the Sultan cannot, in the nature of things, be his own master...

FOREIGN.—On Friday a traveller for an extensive firm in Birmingham, presented at Sir William's...

FOREIGN.—On Friday a traveller for an extensive firm in Birmingham, presented at Sir William's...

FOREIGN.—On Friday a traveller for an extensive firm in Birmingham, presented at Sir William's...

FOREIGN.—On Friday a traveller for an extensive firm in Birmingham, presented at Sir William's...

FOREIGN.—On Friday a traveller for an extensive firm in Birmingham, presented at Sir William's...

FOREIGN.—On Friday a traveller for an extensive firm in Birmingham, presented at Sir William's...

FOREIGN.—On Friday a traveller for an extensive firm in Birmingham, presented at Sir William's...

FOREIGN.—On Friday a traveller for an extensive firm in Birmingham, presented at Sir William's...

FOREIGN.—On Friday a traveller for an extensive firm in Birmingham, presented at Sir William's...

FOREIGN.—On Friday a traveller for an extensive firm in Birmingham, presented at Sir William's...

FOREIGN.—On Friday a traveller for an extensive firm in Birmingham, presented at Sir William's...

FOREIGN.—On Friday a traveller for an extensive firm in Birmingham, presented at Sir William's...

FOREIGN.—On Friday a traveller for an extensive firm in Birmingham, presented at Sir William's...

THE CHRONICLE.

SAINT JOHN, JUNE 23, 1857.

REMOVAL.

THE Chronicle Office is removed to Prince William Street, in the new building erected by Mr. M. MILLAR, and immediately by the Office of J. W. HORTON, Esq., Barrister at Law.

By the Western Mail which arrived yesterday, detached Liverpool to the Island and London to the 17th of May have been received.

Lord Lyndhurst's daughter died at Paris, on the 9th of May. She was in her 10th year.

By the Western Mail which arrived yesterday, detached Liverpool to the Island and London to the 17th of May have been received.

By the Western Mail which arrived yesterday, detached Liverpool to the Island and London to the 17th of May have been received.

By the Western Mail which arrived yesterday, detached Liverpool to the Island and London to the 17th of May have been received.

By the Western Mail which arrived yesterday, detached Liverpool to the Island and London to the 17th of May have been received.

By the Western Mail which arrived yesterday, detached Liverpool to the Island and London to the 17th of May have been received.

By the Western Mail which arrived yesterday, detached Liverpool to the Island and London to the 17th of May have been received.

By the Western Mail which arrived yesterday, detached Liverpool to the Island and London to the 17th of May have been received.

By the Western Mail which arrived yesterday, detached Liverpool to the Island and London to the 17th of May have been received.

By the Western Mail which arrived yesterday, detached Liverpool to the Island and London to the 17th of May have been received.

By the Western Mail which arrived yesterday, detached Liverpool to the Island and London to the 17th of May have been received.

daily you have added that sense of grateful obligation, which contented and confidence, freshly touched, never fail to produce, and which will be most earnestly endeavored to repay in the manner which I will be most acceptable to you.

The terms in which you have been pleased to allude to my military services in the Peninsula, I need scarcely assure you, are deeply gratifying to the feelings of an old soldier; and I will add that it is a circumstance by no means unimportant, that I am connected with my present position, that I find myself surrounded by many of my former companions in arms.

With the political condition of the People of these Colonies, as well as with their wants and wishes, it has long been my anxious endeavour to make myself acquainted, and to be conversant with the interests of every Colony as themselves best informed in what their true interests consist.

I have never doubted that the deep interest which our Colonies have in the welfare of the Empire, and the prosperity of its North American subjects, is warmly and affectionately appreciated by them.

I have never doubted that the deep interest which our Colonies have in the welfare of the Empire, and the prosperity of its North American subjects, is warmly and affectionately appreciated by them.

I have never doubted that the deep interest which our Colonies have in the welfare of the Empire, and the prosperity of its North American subjects, is warmly and affectionately appreciated by them.

I have never doubted that the deep interest which our Colonies have in the welfare of the Empire, and the prosperity of its North American subjects, is warmly and affectionately appreciated by them.

I have never doubted that the deep interest which our Colonies have in the welfare of the Empire, and the prosperity of its North American subjects, is warmly and affectionately appreciated by them.

I have never doubted that the deep interest which our Colonies have in the welfare of the Empire, and the prosperity of its North American subjects, is warmly and affectionately appreciated by them.

I have never doubted that the deep interest which our Colonies have in the welfare of the Empire, and the prosperity of its North American subjects, is warmly and affectionately appreciated by them.

I have never doubted that the deep interest which our Colonies have in the welfare of the Empire, and the prosperity of its North American subjects, is warmly and affectionately appreciated by them.

I have never doubted that the deep interest which our Colonies have in the welfare of the Empire, and the prosperity of its North American subjects, is warmly and affectionately appreciated by them.

I have never doubted that the deep interest which our Colonies have in the welfare of the Empire, and the prosperity of its North American subjects, is warmly and affectionately appreciated by them.

I have never doubted that the deep interest which our Colonies have in the welfare of the Empire, and the prosperity of its North American subjects, is warmly and affectionately appreciated by them.