

3000 GREETED THE PREMIER AT EDMONTON

Two Huge Meetings to Bring Tour of Alberta Province to Fine Close.

WEST IS DEEPLY INTERESTED IN ISSUES

Speaker Suggests Educational Political Campaigns Should Not be Allowed to Lapse.

Edmonton, Alta., Nov. 11.—In the provincial capital, Hon. Arthur Meighen and Hon. J. A. Calder tonight addressed two meetings with a total attendance of 3,000 to 3,000 people and brought to an end their tour of Alberta, which was inaugurated at Lethbridge on Monday. Tomorrow morning the Premier and the Minister of Immigration leave for Saskatoon, where they speak in the evening and on Saturday the Regina meeting concludes the present visit to Saskatchewan.

Welcomed by Huge Crowd.

Edmonton was reached at 4.30 p.m. and the Premier and his party were cordially welcomed from the station crowd. The brief interval before the night meetings was taken up with a reception in honor of the Premier and Mrs. Meighen by the local Women's Organization, the reception at some deputations and an informal dinner.

Mr. Meighen and Mr. Calder each spoke at both meetings. The Premier speaking first said he had never seen the people of Western Canada so deeply interested in public questions.

No Election in Sight.

There was no election in sight, but meetings held by Mr. Meighen, Mr. King and Mr. Crerar had been very largely attended, and it was, he said, a very good thing for Canada that such was the case. He hoped the educational campaign would be carried on.

Mr. Calder reviewed, as in previous addresses, the war record of the Union Government, which, he said, had fulfilled its mandate to carry on the war to a successful finish.

Soldier's Statement.

The Premier was given a splendid reception. The work of soldiers' land settlement was reviewed briefly by Mr. Meighen by special request. He said: "We had to leave the trail, but after two years they saw, as a result, 'the biggest land settlement scheme in the civilized world with more practical results than secured by all other countries put together that attempted this work."

SUGAR LIKELY TO STAY AROUND THE FIFTEEN CENT MARK

But Rumors in Montreal Say it May Retail at Less Than Twelve Cents.

Montreal, Nov. 11.—There was no change in refiners' prices for sugar today, although it was freely predicted that the Dominion Sugar Company would be selling at 12 cents, less 8 per cent, or 11.04 net. The feature of interest tomorrow will be the appearance of a half page advertisement from the Acadia Sugar Refineries of Montreal and Halifax, warning consumers that the price of sugar to them on Friday, November 12, will be 16 cents, and that intervals after that date notification through the public press will be given of what the price of sugar to the consumer who buys from grocers obtaining their supplies through this refinery should be.

POILLU SLEEPS BENEATH ARC DE TRIOMPHE

All France Pays Its Grateful Tribute to Unidentified Hero of the Great War.

MILLERAND DELIVERS A NOBLE EULOGY

Marshals of France Walk Behind Gun Bearing Body of Soldier.

Paris, Nov. 11.—An unknown soldier, the symbol of France's victory in the war, was laid in his final resting place beneath the Arc de Triomphe today in an apotheosis of glory, accompanied by expressions of the gratitude of two millions of his countrymen and soldiers. Never in the history of France has a King or Emperor been afforded such honors as those rendered the unknown soldier. The body of Napoleon returned from St. Helena did not stir the French people to such a depth of emotion as did this obscure, nameless man.

France's Years All Over.

Not a cheer was heard, but not a tear was shed, the five-year war having long since dried up the wells of Paris' tears. The silence was respectfully oppressive. Today broke dull, with a heavy hanging like a pall over the silent city.

The most impressive ceremony was at the Pantheon where all the promises of political official and judicial Paris had assembled. Three marshals of France, all the generals present in the war, and the whole diplomatic corps, with the exception of the German Ambassador, listened to President Millerand's speech.

Addressing the unknown soldier's coffin, Premier Millerand alluded to the Canadian soldiers, saying: "Unknown soldier, nameless and triumphant representative of the gallant multitudes of patriots who died in our soil, in the soil of Flanders, Champagne, Verdun and so many other battlefields, famous or unknown, young heroes who came to us from the other side of the Atlantic, the British Isles and distant dominions, from Italy, Belgium and Serbia, from all points of the earth, to offer your lives for the ideal which France once made in representing, step by step, you have fulfilled your destiny." COURAGE OF ARMY SOURCE OF PRIDE PREMIER ASSERTS Indomitable Spirit Shown in Entire War Recalled by Mr. Meighen.

Red Deer, Alta., Nov. 11.—At noon today the Premier of Canada, Hon. Arthur Meighen and his colleagues, Hon. J. A. Calder, observed with their fellow citizens of the dominion, the commemoration of armistice day. The Premier ordered the Calgary-Edmonton train to be halted at Red Deer and to a gathering of citizens on the station platform. Mr. Meighen spoke, as follows:

"Two years ago today, Nov. 11, 1918, we received the welcome news that the order had been given for hostilities to cease. In reflecting on the noble part played by the Canadian army in the Great War there is only one feeling which fills my breast, namely, one of gratitude mingled with pride at the courage and heroism, and their indomitable spirit during the entire war. The record is read and known of all men, and more extended reference is not possible during the few minutes in which I have to address you. At this solemn hour I join in the heartfelt thanks of the people that victory was wrested from the grip of our foes, praying that every blessing and consolation may be vouchsafed to those whom the war has brought sadness and loss."

The measure passed without any noteworthy incident in a rather lame debate. TRAGIC SCENES AT WONDERFUL FUNERAL

Borne to Grave Like a King Britain Honors Its Gallant Soldier Dead.

London, Nov. 11.—Great Britain today immovably honored her war heroes by according a field marshal's funeral to an unknown British warrior, who was buried in Westminster Abbey, and unveiling a permanent cenotaph in Whitehall to the "glorious dead."

Aside from members of the royal family, who initiated three queens—Queen Mary, Queen Mother Alexandra and Queen Maude of Norway—the members of the British cabinet, and a few officials, including Hon. Sir George E. Foster, Hon. C. J. Doberty and Hon. N. W. Bowell, the only witnesses to either ceremony were persons who lost relatives in the great war.

Speaking United Tributes

As "Big Ben" the great clock in the tower of the parliament building began to strike the hour of 11, King George, facing the 14th century coffin of the unknown soldier, which was resting on a gun carriage, drew a card that released the Union Jack draped above the cenotaph, and after the last stroke of the hour, thousands of people, who provided Whitehall as far as one could see in either direction, remained absolutely silent, for two minutes.

This silence was broken by a choir softly beginning the hymn: "Oh, God, Our Help in Ages Past," which was followed by the Lord's Prayer, recited by the Archbishop of Canterbury.

Buglers sounded "The Last Post" and, with its escort of troops and a band, the gun carriage then moved toward the abbey, with King George, as chief mourner, walking behind it.

Maple Leaf Wreath

Lost, Strayed or Stolen—One Gun from Annapolis Royal.

Annapolis Royal, N. S., Nov. 11.—Mystery surrounds the disappearance today from historic Fort Anne of a German field gun, the unveiling of which was to have been the central feature of the local armistice day celebration.

Those responsible for today's programme, upon reaching the grounds this morning, were surprised to find that the piece had been taken away during the night. All efforts to recover it were unavailing, and one of two German machine guns also presented to Annapolis was substituted for the missing ordnance in its official programme.

TREACHERY OF IRISH MEANS LOSS OF ARMY

Plots With Germany in 1918 Show Real Character of Agitation So Premier Declares.

IRISH ARMY WOULD MEAN CONSCRIPTION

Navy for Ireland An Impossibility and Would Result in Her Own Destruction.

London, Nov. 11.—Former Premier Asquith in the House of Commons tonight appealed for advantage to be taken of the associations and emotions aroused by the anniversary of armistice day which could not be put to further use than an endeavor to find a basis for real settlement of Ireland's troubles. This was in connection with the third reading of the Home Rule Bill.

Mr. Lloyd George replying, contended that the present bill was a generous measure, but the Irish people were not in a temper to give it proper understanding and consideration. He declared that documents to be published at an early date, found in the possession of Sinn Fein leaders in 1918, proving they were involved in a German plot, would show the necessity of England retaining complete control of Irish harbors.

Cannot Have Army

To give Ireland the power to raise a conscript army, he said would be a dangerous menace to Great Britain and he warned the laborites that with an army of that kind in Ireland under full powers of a Dominion Home Rule, conscription in England would become inevitable.

The premier contended that it was equally impossible to allow Ireland her own navy, which was quite needless for her national life and could only be used for the peril of Great Britain and her own destruction. He argued that it was fruitless to talk of granting fiscal autonomy to people still demanding a republic.

Recalls Great Irish

Expressing a fervent hope for the removal of misunderstanding, which would make the future so dark, the premier closed with a note of emotion: "It may be that it was an Irish soldier we honored today. Ireland has had a great and brilliant share in the empire. Some of her greatest and most gallant warriors helped to fight for the empire. Some of her greatest statesmen—the shining wisdom of Burke and the stern leadership of Wellington—all contributed to build the empire.

"All we ask is that Ireland should not in a moment of anger cast away most gallant warriors who helped to fight for the empire. Some of her greatest statesmen—the shining wisdom of Burke and the stern leadership of Wellington—all contributed to build the empire.

"The influence of the armistice anniversary was clearly marked in all the speeches which showed a desire, as far as possible, to avoid controversy.

CANNOT BUY HOPS TO MAKE 'HOME BREWS'

Government in United States Declares Only Bakers and Traders Can Secure Stocks.

Washington, Nov. 11.—Home brewing was brought actively under the prohibition ban today when it was learned that the enforcement officials ruled against the sale of hops and malt to others than bakers and confectioners. Great secrecy surrounded the prohibition bureau's action, but it had definitely ascertained that such instructions had been issued.

WANTS AMERICA TO QUIT RHINE

Frederick, Maryland, Nov. 11.—Immediately withdrawal of United States troops on the Rhine was urged here today by Representative Kahn of California, chairman of the House Military Committee, speaking at the armistice day celebration. If he had his way in the next congress the forces would be recalled, he said, adding that United States troops were not "bill collectors for other nations, nor are they policemen for the nations of Europe."

REPARATIONS ALL AGREED.

Paris, Nov. 11.—The Earl of Derby, the British Ambassador, conferred this afternoon with Georges Leygues, the French Foreign Minister. Later it was said at the Foreign Office that all the details of the programme for fixing German reparations had been settled. No changes were made in the procedure in four stages on the question as previously agreed upon.
