ST. JOHN, N. B., MONDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1921.

MR. MEIGHAN'S CREED.

"More than any other country, Canada needs a protective system. She is a young country mostly undeveloped. She lies alongside a great big country tremendously developed. The United States has every advantage that Canada has and tremendous advantages besides. It surely follows, to the mind of every reasonable man, that to abandon the protective system in Canada would be simply to invite the absorption of Canadian industry in the far vaster industries of the United States. The principles of the protection of Canadian industry have been proclaimed by practically every statesman who has shouldered the responsibility of government in Canada. They are sound and they are right and the vast mass of the people of Canada know that they are sound and right."

—From Premier Meighan's Portage Speech.

THE OPPOSITION MEETING.

The Hon. Mackenzie King would indeed be difficult to please did he fail to appreciate the large audience which greeted him at the Imperial Theatre on Saturday night. The fact that he is an eligible bachelor no doubt accounted for the fact that three-fifths of those present were of the fair sex, who could not fail to be very much impressed by his suave manner and (to them) convincing arguments. He proved himself to be an able campaign speaker; there was really nothing very much in what he said, but he said it in such a way that those who do not know any better, and are not particularly conversant with the details of political affairs, might very readily be led to the belief that all he said was gospel. Mr. Foster was a disappointment. He has made a number of "meaty" speeches in the Legislature many times. He dealt chiefly with railway matters, and like Mr. Copp of old, he apparently had not prepared himself to do work of any value and his achievement was in accord with his preparation. In fact some of his remarks on the subject were childish. He began by blaming the Government because Western grain did not come in greater quantities for shipment through Maritime Province ports, although the Government could control shippers choosing their own route. Sir Wilfrid Laurier himself had provision made for all traffic "not otherwise routed"; if any other steps could have been taken to ensure this being done, why did he not take them while he was about it? Then again, he complained that the Government had failed to use the Valley Railway to bring traffic from the Transcontinental to St. John, thus defrauding the Province of the 40 per cent. of the gross earnings that traffic would have produced. He knows—po one better—that until the new bridge is built at Fredericton, heavy traffic cannot come from the Transcontinental via the Valley line to this city.

Then he talked about the large additions about to be made to the harbor facilities at Portland, informing his hearers that "the water is quite sure, but he thought he was right in saying, though he wouldn't be certain," etc., that the cost of all this work was being borne by the Grand Trunk, which means the Canadian Government. If Mr. Foster knows anything at all about this work, if he knows it in contemplation at all, he must know definitely who is going to do it. He simply could not read about the work being done, without learning at the same time who had the matter in hand. Unless Mr. Foster deliberately intended to leave a wrong impression he should have said what he did. He should know, for it has been published times enough, that of the $3,500,000 intended to be spent in improving harbor facilities at Portland, $2,000,000 will be provided by the United States Government; $1,500,000 by the State of Maine, and the balance by the local authorities. The Grand Trunk is only going to spend money on its own terminal facilities, the same as the C. P. R. has done here.

For one definite statement we are indebted to Mr. Foster. "The people are sick, sore and tired of coalition governments." Mr. King will bear this in mind if he should ever find himself charged with the formation of a government, and be unable to secure a majority without joining forces with the Agrarians. He will doubtless be tickled to death to think that Mr. Foster has warned him against taking a course of which the people are sick, sore and tired."

THE SALVATION ARMY'S GREAT WORK.

The cordial welcome accorded to the Salvation Army leaders in the Imperial Theatre yesterday afternoon is tangible evidence that the enduring character of the work of the Salvation Army is appreciated by the people, irrespective of their denominational divisions.

That which makes the Salvation Army strong and is a great factor in enabling it to do such wonderful humanitarian work is the fact that it is not particularly concerned as to its own denominationalism or name distinction. It cares not by what denominational name a man is known, so long as he becomes wholesome in his walk and conversation. To that end the Salvation Army helps men and women of every religion and every color. And it bothers with little else.

When the Army first commenced its activities it was looked at askance. Its demonstrations on the streets even provoked laughter. Today its homes, its hospitals, its training schools and meeting places throughout the Dominion are a tremendous addition to the other uplifting influences of our nation.

The founder of the Army was a personality of such strength that it was feared disintegration and denominational divisions would creep into the body after his death. General William Booth selected for his successor Bramwell Booth—whose daughter it was who addressed the people in the Imperial Theatre yesterday—and today in character and ability he has proven himself a leader of wisdom and ability.

Those who have read Harold Begbie's writings on the Salvation Army in England will understand more clearly the tremendous scope of the Army's work. Its appeal is common to the whole wide world because its one object is to make humanity better.

NOTES BY THE OFFICE BOY.

Mr. King's vanity must have been tickled when he saw all the "meaty" speeches he heard at his meeting on Saturday. Right behind where I sat there were seven of them all in a row, assorted sizes, ages and styles, but all of one mind apparently on one matter. I gathered from their remarks, which were quite audible, that any one of them would have taken Willie a better or worse on the slightest provocation. Once when he turned to address the chairman, the back of his bald head said one fair one. "What's that matter," snapped her neighbor. "Praying as little Benny would say, that if you are wise, you'll take what you can get."

THE UNITED FARMER MONKEY.

Through the courtesy of the Montreal Star, we are enabled today to reproduce a cartoon which appeared in that paper a few days ago, which is designed to teach the farmers of Eastern Canada a lesson as to just where they stand in regard to the United Farmers' organization of Western Canada. This organization is an outgrowth of the Western Grain Growers', a body of specialists who have no more connection with general farming than a man who prints visiting cards has with the production of a newspaper. These United Farmers have prepared a political programme suited wholly and solely to the needs of the Western Province, and in its preparation the farmers of Eastern Canada were never consulted at all. It does not, except in one or two minor details, deal with any phase of affairs in which the farmers of Eastern Canada are in any way interested. It ignores them altogether. Its sole object is to so manipulate matters that sufficient political power will be placed in the hands of a certain group, which by swinging its influence and support one way or another, will be able to control the Government of Canada.

Emissaries of this Western organization will visit the Eastern Provinces during the coming weeks in an effort to induce the farmers of these Provinces to join hands with them in carrying out their policy. All kinds of promises and inducements will be held out to them, but before accepting

 The impression created by Hon. T. A. Crerar at his meeting here was an excellent one—among his followers, who were mostly farmers. The political farmer's leader was happy in appearing first before large bodies of rural constituents, to whom probably much of the material of his speech was new and to whom free trade is a fetish. To the general elector, Mr. Crerar had no convincing message, and to the closer student of politics the opening speech of the experimental farmer's campaign was very notable for what it did not contain. The whole content of the campaign was Mr. Crerar's original speech of the past year or more re-voiced. It has been exposed regularly.

The most remarkable feature after hearing the arguments of Mr. Crerar, as well as those of the farmer's candidate for Brandon, was that the whole policy of the political body was to consider farmers first. Each speaker wrought himself up to enthusiasm over the needs of the downtrodden, honest agriculturist, and then in an apologetic afterthought, brought in some sops for the mere common citizen. Three Brothers Made Profession

Impressive Ceremony Conducted in St. Peter's Church Yesterday.

A deeply impressive ceremony was conducted in St. Peter's church at three o'clock yesterday afternoon, when in the presence of a large concourse of clergy and lay three brothers made their profession of faith, and their vows were received by the Very Rev. Father Arthur Comblin, Provincial of the Redemptorist Order, who received the brothers into the community.

The brothers were John Harding, in religion Brother Joachim; Harold Haney, in religion Brother Dominic, and Solomon Dalmarawy, a religion Brother Vitus. The first two young men are natives of St. John, Brother Vitus, is of Montreal.

The Rev. Father Provincial was assisted by the Rev. Father Rector, William Hogan, C. S. R., Father Wood and the Novice Master, Father Peter Costello. The sanctuary was filled by the fathers of the community and the choir novices, while the auditorium of the church was packed with laity.

Yesterday's ceremony was the first of its kind here in connection with the seminary recently established in St. Peter's parish by the Redemptorist fathers, and the second profession ever received by the order in Canada, all previous ones in America having been held in the United States.

A BIT OF VERSE

LOVERS.

As I went up and he came down,
 Upon the stairs we met and kissed,
 I and my tender joy,
 Oh! fond and true, as lovers do, we
 Kissed and clasped and held him close,
 And I went up and he went down,
 Refreshed and happy-hearted.

What need was there for any words,
 His face against my face?
 And in the silence heart to heart,
 Spoke for a little space
 Of tender, things, and thoughts on Wings, and secrets none discovers,
 And I went up and he went down,
 A pair of happy lovers.

Dival Lovers Had Furious Conflict

Vanquished Dying from 150 Stab Wounds — Victim Fought Police With Axe.

New York, Oct. 16.—Withstand the repeated assaults of an infuriated man who sought to fight off with an axe, two Jersey City police nearly this morning finally beat down their assailant with nightsticks and thrust their way into a room at 64 Williams avenue, where the axe wielder had stabbed his rival in a love affair fifteen times in the face and body.

When the biceps tried to enter the narrow hallway at the house they found their way barred by Michael Parlovich, thirty years old. Crying wildly, he struck at them with an axe. A pitched battle ensued in the hallway which provoked the policemen using their revolvers because of danger to each other. After dodging several blows from the axe, one of the policemen managed to strike the enraged man with his nightstick.

The affray in the boarding house was said to have been caused by jealousy over a girl. Early this morning George Cohen, 25 years old, of 4 Yvain avenue, Jersey City, and a companion, Steve Sapo, of the same address, made their way to Parlovich's room at the Williams street address. Cohen and Parlovich were said to have both gone with the same girl for some time and mutual jealousness had passed between them.

As a result of the fight, Cohen is in a Jersey City hospital, where it is said he will die; Parlovich is under arrest charged with atrocious assault with a dangerous weapon. Parlovich had a bruised head for his assault. Cohen was thrown from the floor and escaped from the room to notify the police.

According to an account of the affray given by the police by Sgt. Colcock ordered Parlovich to keep away from the girl. Sapo, who is 25 years old, tried to prevent trouble and tried to wrest the axe from the hands of Parlovich. He was thrown to the floor and escaped from the room to notify the police.

Parlovich was said to have attacked Cohen with a knife, stabbing him repeatedly. Fifteen wounds, some in the serious, were counted on the victim's body.

The territory in dispute police divided into zones under Polish and German supervision respectively, and while delimitation of the frontiers is not yet completed, it would be more definite if proposed by Great Britain, closely along the plebiscite line, with Brest assigned to Poland.

The British and French Governments are said to have approved the project, though Italy made some reservations.

Buenos Aires, Oct. 15.—The industrial region of Upper Silesia will be maintained as a single industrial economic union for fifteen years under the solution of the Upper Silesia dispute reached by the council of League of Nations, of which Geneva correspondent of La Nación says he has authoritatively learned substance. The industrial region to be administered during this period an international commission with political competence.

When your kidneys hurt and back feels sore, don't get scared. Proceed to lead your stomach with lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire system. Keep your kidneys clean like keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless substance which removes the waste and stimulates them to normal activity. The function of kidneys is to filter the blood of acid and waste, so we can understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much. Also get from any place about four ounces of Jad Salt, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will fine. This famous salt is from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithium and sea salts, for generations to stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in uric acid no longer is a source of irritation, ending bladder troubles.

Jad Salt is inexpensive; gets you a delightful effort. This water drink which you should take now and then to clean your kidneys clean and active, this, also keep up the water drink, and no doubt you will wonder because of your kidney trouble.
