with their attendant daugers may be speedily averted and remedied by the use of Polson's Nerviline. Excellent to gargle with—ten times better than a mustard plaster, and more convenient for the outside. Nerviline penetrates the tissues instantly, soothes the pain, allays inflammation, and cures sore throat and hoarseness simply because that's what it is made for. The large 25 cent bottle of Nerviline is unexcelled as a household liniment. It cures everything.

which will never get better without treatment.

It is a curious thing that nearly all treatment for cough actually makes the cough worse. Then, too, most medicines for cough have a bad effect in the stomach. This is especially true of so-called cough remedies that contain a narcotic. The true treatment for cough is one that heals the irritated surfaces. This is what Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam does. It protects the throat also while the healing process is going on. When this remedy was first compounded our old men were young boys, and all this time it has been doing a steady work of healing throats. The most obstinate hacking cough will quickly show the effect of the Balsam. People who have been trying for years to break up the mean little cough, will find a sure friend in this old-time soothing compound made from the barks and gums of trees. All druggists sell Adamson's Botanic Balsam. 25 cents. street, Mary Eliza Kennedy, widow of the late James T. but as individuals they would do everything in their power to make it a success. In 1899, the societies had a grant of $1,200 from the provincial government for the exhibition, and, notwithstanding a large attendance, there was a deficit. The sister societies are afraid of such a result, as the government grant this year is only $500. The Woodstock society, however, decided at the meeting to hold the exhibition. The grounds and buildings are in good shape for a show. Ranking Brown is president, and J. R. Murphy secretary of the society.
