A wedding supper was served at the close of the ceremony. The groom's present to the bride was a handsome set of mink furs, the bridesmaid receiving a pearl ring and the groomsmen a tie pin. The bride's father gave her a piano. The going-away costume of the bride is a tan broadcloth suit, with black beaver hat, with willow plume. Mr. Shaw has not been with any parties for a week or two, but expects to guide several hunters during the season, starting after next week.

DISASTROUS FIRE IN SACKVILLE

Business Blocks Wiped Out

Loss About $60,000 Which is Partially Covered by Insurance

Flames Bid Fair at One Time to Sweep the Town, But Help from Amherst Department Came in Nick of Time—Townpeople Did Good Salvage Work.

Special to The Telegraph.

Sackville, N. B., Sept. 30—A disastrous fire broke out here this afternoon and before the flames were under control many buildings were laid in ruins, and entailed a loss of about $60,000, which is partially covered by insurance.

At 2:10 o'clock the cry "Fire" was heard simultaneously with an outbreak of flames from the rear window on the third story of the Dowl building, occupied by George E. Wry, a furniture repairer and painter. Workmen had filled the store with dry shavings or something of that kind, and gas generated which burst from the store with sufficient force to send blazing tapers all over the floor and about which was dry excelsior, shavings and other most inflammable material, and which spread like a train of gunpowder to the paint and varnishes with which the room was filled.

So sudden was the outbreak that the workmen scarcely had time to escape with their lives, and as it was a burning more or less severely.

The removal of goods from G. W. Co.'s dry goods store was being completed when the fire broke out. The building was doomed to destruction. Working hands assisted in the work and citizens who quickly gathered on the scene assisted in the work of salvage by students from the university who one and all worked like Trojans and to their willing efforts is due much credit for saving a great quantity of stock and furniture from the flames.

It is a fact that the flames leaped to the adjoining buildings owned by Captain Peter Hanson and occupied on the street floor by Groulx, and Robert Fawcett, engaged in grocery, boot and shoe and confectionery business, and by James H. Toey, at a bakery and restaurant. At the same time the flames threatened the Copp and Fawcett brick blocks on the other side.

Four lines of hose were stretched as many streams were playing on the flames, which gained in volume and fury every minute.

A driveway separated the burning building from Ford's hotel and at first it was thought that the latter was in little danger, but the fierceness of the flames and the intense heat scorched the wooden sides of the ell on the rear of the hotel and soon the flames had complete possession.

It was now felt that the entire hotel would go, and willing hands set to work to rescue as much of the furniture from the hotel as possible. It was fully an hour, however, before the anxious throng watching their efforts felt that the main structure was safe. The ell was practically destroyed. It was occupied as a laundry and sample rooms on the ground floor, and as sleeping quarters for help upstairs.

The fact above the Sackville bakery was occupied by Abel Allen as a residence, and two flats above the Fawcett Bros. store were occupied respectively by James Briggs and Albert Knapp.

LAWRENCE STRIKERS BATTLE WITH POLICE

One Day "Demonstration" as a Protest Against Trial of I. W. W. Leaders, Accused of Murder, Results in Many Broken Heads—Rioters Trampled on Women Who Refused to Join Them.

Lawrence, Mass., Sept. 30—A "demonstration" against the imprisonment of labor leaders took place here today. After a hand-to-hand struggle between rioters and police in the morning, the rioters declared at night, the demonstration was declared off by the Industrial Workers of the World.

Several thousand of the 125,000 operatives in the cotton and woolen mills here obeyed the call, forcing out 5,000 others either through intimidation or lack of work because of the closing down of departments. This afternoon the workers were told to go back to work tomorrow morning, ready to come out again at the call of the Industrial Workers, if the leaders are not satisfied with the progress of the trial at Salem.

LOOKING FOR SCOTTISH WIFE DESERTERS IN CANADA

Ottawa, Sept. 30—Sir George Melles, chairman of the local government Board of Scotland, arrived in Ottawa today. He is touring Canada looking into cases wherein old country men have deserted their wives and come to this country. There are said to be thousands of such cases in the Dominion. Sir George's mission is probably one of the most unique on which any titled visitor has yet come to Canada. Briefly it is to further an arrangement between Canada and Scotland by which husbands may be deported or falling that they should contribute to the support of their spouses.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Sept. 30—The mobilization of the Bulgarian army was proclaimed by the government today. The action was taken in consequence of alarming news received here as to the concentration of considerable forces of Turkish troops in the neighborhood of Adrianople and along the Bulgarian frontier. The Bulgarian cabinet desires to be prepared for any eventuality that might arise.

London, Sept. 30—The near-eastern situation is considered in diplomatic circles here as distinctly serious, although officials are disposed to be optimistic. This feeling is widely shared in consequence of the lateness of the season and the fact that the powers are working in concert in rendering aid to the Balkan states to keep the peace.

Belgrade, Servia, Sept. 30—War preparations are being carried on with feverish haste. General mobilization of the Servian army has been ordered and it is expected will be well under way within 24 hours. The publication of news of military movements is forbidden. According to newspaper reports the Servian minister to Turkey, Dr. Nenadovich, has left Constantinople for Belgrade. Belgrade is seething with excitement. The streets are full of men from the west to and from the west. With this end in view and becoming apparent it is spending tens of millions on grade improvements. It wants traffic from the west to come via Fort William or down over its line to Toronto, Montreal and St. John from North Bay. Traffic which would go east over the National Transcontinental from Cochrane would be that much lost to the C. P. R. Hence the motive behind the attempt to practically nullify the Laurier plan to make the road untraveled on the continent, in respect to engine-haulage, capacity and cheapness of operation in handling western exports and imports between Winnipeg and the seaboard are becoming apparent. The evidence is necessarily circumstantial, but none the less conclusive.

ONTARIO CROPS HAVE TOO MUCH RAIN

Toronto, Sept. 30—Reports received from district representatives by the Ontario department of agriculture estimate that 10 per cent. at least of the potato crop will be lost because of the continuing heavy rains. Oats are still largely uncut, buckwheat is practically untouched and fall seeding is very backward.

TORONTO CUSTOMS RECEIPTS SOAR

Toronto, Sept. 30—Customs receipts for the port of Toronto for September reached the place at Shell Park this evening to protest against home rule. The assembly numbered not less than 100,000, who are in three processions.

Liverpool, Sept. 30—A great gathering took place at Shell Park this evening to protest against home rule. The assembly numbered not less than 100,000, who are in three processions.

Some Illuminating Statistics.

New York, Sept. 30—A cable to the Tribune from London says—

An effective counterblast to the talk of the United Home of Ulster in opposition to home rule, has been made by the government by the mere republication, in blue book form, of the latest Ulster population statistics. This document recalls the awkward fact that in a population of 1,281,000, Ulster counts 600,816 declared Catholics, being 47.7 per cent. of the whole. Ulster covers 26.5 per cent. of the total area of Ireland, and has a population of 1,281,000 (770,800 males and 510,200 females, or .97 per cent. less than it had at the last census in 1901. Of the total, 898,947 are on the Belfast county borough, being an increase of 30,707 over the number in 1901.

The following statement shows, according to religious professions, the inhabitants of Ulster in 1911—

CATHOLICS.

Six hundred and ninety thousand, eight hundred and sixteen persons, 43.7 per cent. of the total population.

PROTESTANTS.

Episcopalians, 366,773, 23.2 per cent.

Presbyterians, 421,410, 26.6 per cent.

Methodists, 45,816, 3.5 per cent.

All other denominations (and religion unascertained), 82,343 persons, 3.3 per cent. of total population.

Information refused, 1,638, 0.1 per cent.

New York, Sept. 30—"The Ulsterites' demonstration against home rule at Belfast yesterday is no more dangerous than this flash-light," exclaimed William H. Redmond, nationalist member of parliament, when his speech at a large mass meeting in Carnegie Hall last night, was interrupted by the photographer's work.

"Half of Ulster is as ardently for home rule as any part of Ireland," he continued.

"Half of Ulster belongs to the ancient faith, and many Protestants in recent years have been battling side by side with Catholics in the march for Irish liberty."
