

father, and had made a couple of voyages to this country, but was desirous of remaining ashore, was sent to Miss McPherson's Home, in Knowlton, and when last heard of was doing well. A great many very deserving cases have been relieved: others have been refused, as they evidently belonged to the class of Tramps, and were travelling over the country at the expense of the various national and other societies. This latter class are not anxious for work, even when it is to be had.

Many interesting details are to be found in the minute-book, which is open to all members.

The whole respectfully submitted.

W. CLINT,
Chairman.

Quebec, 5th January, 1876.

186 01

49 20

35 21

00 00

35 21

hemboveof a
port,
se, a s to ami-
ild,
ter
rri-
nee
too
ten beras
its asin
onud
n