Suggestions for Sponge and Angel Cake

In making these cakes use pastry flour. Have the bowl and beater perfectly dry before beating the whites as any moisture will prevent their beating up light, beat quicker and lighter when cool; consequently they should be kept in some cool place until needed. Add a pinch of salt to the whites, and beat. This toughens the fibre and helps retain the air. The lightness of the sponge cake depends principally on the amount of air beaten into the eggs. Care must be taken in adding the flour. It must be folded or blended in, never beaten. Beating the batter after the flour is added breaks the air bubbles, thin the pastry and makes the cake tough and heavy. Do not grease the tins. Layer-cakes do not need to be inverted out of the baking pans. Let them cool in the tins to prevent shrinking. Bake in a moderate oven.

The Farm Home

Deserves to be Made as Beautiful as Plants Can Make It.

Every farmer ought to take enough pride in himself to make the place he calls his home as attractive as possible. Nothing makes a place appear more attractive or increases its value so much as good buildings and a nice lawn with a showy flower bed or some shrubbery upon it.

Shrubs are not very expensive, and being of small size they mature quickly and are of great value on a place of small size. They are extremely useful for ornamenting the foreground or for covering unsightly objects.

The proper place for shrubbery is next to the buildings or on the outer limits of the lawn. When laying out the lawn bear in mind that the larger part should be open, nothing should be upon it except green grass, but if your lawn is large, an attractive flower bed may be placed upon it to good advantage.

A very showy flower bed can be made of tall red or bronzed leaved cannas, salvias and a border of some low-growing annual. The bed should be prepared as follows: The best shape is to have it round. If the soil is not very good it should be dug out to a depth of one foot and filled in with rich soil to which a liberal quantity of well-fotted manure has been added. In the centre of his bed plant about two doz. cannas placing their roots one foot apart each way; around the cannas plant two rows of salvias, having the plants stand about eighteen inches apart, and around the outside of this bed have a border of sweet alyssum, dwarf phlox or dwarf nasturtiums. The cash outlay for such a bed will not be great and if given proper attention you cannot get as much enjoyment out of your money in any other way.

Do not make the mistake of planting trees close to the house. When they grow up they will shut out the sunlight, and we all know that a dark house is not as pleasant or healthy as a well-lighted one.

To secure the finest effects from shrubbery, plant the taller growing shrubs in back for a background, and in the fore-ground use the dwarf growing species, while still in front of the dwarf shrubs a row of dwarf growing annuals may be planted for a border. By planting in this way you will have a continuous line of foliage from the grass to the tops of the tallest shrubs and the appearance will be much more pleasing than if the stems of some of the shrubs were exposed.

Do not make the mistake of planting your shrubs too close but consider the possible future size to which they will grow. Tall shrubs should stand five feet apart and dwarf ones three feet; until they reach full size, the empty space may be filled with dwarf plants or perennials.

All shrubs should be planted as soon as the frost is out of the ground and the soil is in good working condition. This will give the plants a chance to make some root growth before the hot weather arrives. Deep spading of the soil and a liberal application of well rotted manure will be well repaid by a strong vigorous growth of plants.

About all the attention shrubs require after they are planted is an occasional hoeing to keep down the weeds, and a little fertilizer applied in the Fall to keep up the fertility of the soil.

If you want your lawn to have a rich green color, it must be fertilized. This can be done by covering it with fine manure in the Fall, allowing it to remain there over Winter, and what is left in the Spring can be raked together and hauled off. There is no reason why a farmer cannot have his home grounds just as attractive as the man in the city. On the farm there is more room and a greater opportunity.

ROSY CHEEKS

STRONG NERVES

Should be the Birthright of Every Woman and Growing Girl

Many women and growing girls who should have bright eyes, rosy cheeks, strong nerves and elastic step, and a good appetite, are seen to decline in health. Their spirits grow sluggish, the cheeks become pale, temper fitful, and the nerves over-sensitive. They may have inherited a tendency to ill-health, or they may have over-worked, over-studied or worried until the strength of the body was not equal to the demand made upon it.

To guard against a complete breakdown in health the blood must be kept pure and rich. No other medicine can do this so well as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, for they act both on the blood and nerves, restore the appetite and keep every organ toned up. All women cannot rest whenever they should, but this strengthening medicine is within every woman's reach, and will keep them in the enjoyment of good health. And it is especially important that in every stage of woman's life the blood supply be kept pure and rich. The value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is well illustrated by the case of Mrs. David Chambers Benford, Ont., who says: "Some years ago I suffered greatly from impoverished blood. I was very pale and thin and had no strength. I took a lot of doctor's medicine without getting any benefit, and at last decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which I had heard highly recommended. It was not long before I began to feel better, and after taking the Pills for perhaps a couple of months my health was fully restored, and although some years have passed I have continued strong and healthy, and I think I owe it entirely to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

"Sometime later my daughter, then about twelve years of age, had been working very hard at school and her health gave way. She was weak and listless and her hands and face were badly swollen and we feared dropsy was setting in. However, we started to give her Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and she was soon quite well again. I always recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to any suffering as we did, knowing the benefit our family received from them."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
