the determined resistance of China, and the unparalleled achievements of the armed forces of Russia, the British successes in Egypt and Lybia, in August, and the landing in North Africa of an American expeditionary force in September. As a consequence of the success which has attended British and American arms, the position of the allied and the Axis powers has been reversed. The allied powers are now waging offensive warfare. The Axis powers are on the defensive. As the session closes at the beginning of a new year, the skies are brighter than they have been at any time since the commencement of the war.
