

Deranged Nerves

AND

Weak Spells.

Mr. R. H. Sampson's, Sydney, N.S.,
Advice to all Sufferers from Nerve Trouble is

"GET A BOX OF MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS."

He says: "I have been ailing for about a year from deranged nerves, and very often weak spells would come over me and be so bad that I sometimes thought I would be unable to survive them. I have been treated by doctors and have taken numerous preparations but none of them helped me in the least. I finally got a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. Before taking them I did not feel able to do any work, but now I can work as well as ever, thanks to one box of your pills. They have made a new man of me, and my advice to any person troubled as I was, is to get a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills."

DISTRICT DOINGS.

CON. 9, RALEIGH.

The engagement of Miss Ethel Boothroyd, of concession 9, Raleigh, to Robert Bruce Fisher, of Freeport, Illinois, has been announced. The wedding will take place the 11th of June at the home of her uncle, W. C. Hea.

APPLEDORE.

Israel Chute and son Harvey, of Somers, spent a few days of last week visiting at John Shaw's.
Miss Jessie Hall spent Sunday the guest of Miss Jennie McKerrall.
Miss Cecil Higgs spent Sunday the guest of Miss Annie Early.
A very successful League meeting was held in Lonsday Road Church on Wednesday evening.

RALEIGH PLAINS.

The late showers are a source of joy to the farmers who are busily engaged getting their corn planted. L. E. Shapley is justly proud of the success of his concert, the effort being made to secure means to purchase a public school library. Notwithstanding the heavy rain that fell that day there was a good house, mostly young people. The building was artistically draped in the colors of the rainbow and beautifully decorated with flags and bunting. The program consisted of dialogues, recitations, music and addresses, mostly by the pupils of his school. The young people here deserve much praise for their manly conduct. The very best of order was observed.

TURNERVILLE.

Mr. and Mrs. Traxler, of Dawn Mills, were the guests of J. Carpenter on Sunday.

Thomas Buckingham will preach next Sunday morning, May 31st, in Dawn Mills, Wabash in the afternoon, and Lindsay Road at night.

Mr. and Mrs. Logan, of the 10th concession, Chatham, were visiting at the residence of Arthur Shaw on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. David Martin, of Chatham, spent Sunday with Samuel Shaw, Pine street.

HUFFMAN'S CORNERS.

Rev. W. E. M. Thomas, B. D., was visiting at the parsonage this week.

Our football team journeyed to Northwood on Thursday and played a losing game—so some were saying after the game was over. A long dispute took place over the goal claimed by the Northwood team. Our boys have concluded they need more practice.

Mr. McKenzie, G. W. Risenborough and Rev. Mr. Kellington all went to the district meeting held at Ridgeway on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mrs. Hugh Morrow is not well at present.

Herb Huffman is busily engaged at his barns just now.

We are sorry that Mrs. Mosey is not improving since going to the hospital.

Mrs. Wm. Provost is in the general hospital at present and has undergone an operation. We hope to hear of her speedy recovery.

The football team are all securing uniform suits, which will be a great advantage.

CAMDEN.

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin H. Norton, Camden Tp., on Wednesday, May 20th, at six o'clock, when their eldest daughter, Gertrude Rosalind, became the bride of Thos. Frederick Smith, a prosperous young farmer, of Camden Tp. The matrimonial knot was tied by Rev. J. J. Noble, of Louisville, in the presence of about 50 relatives and intimate friends. The bride was attended by Miss Maude A. Smith, sister of the groom, while Wm. C. Norton, brother of the bride, acted as best man. The bride looked handsome, being becomingly attired in white and carrying a bouquet of white roses. The wedding march was played by Miss Rhea Shaw. After the ceremony all sat down to a well prepared supper. The young bride received a large number of beautiful and expensive wedding gifts, showing the popularity and esteem in which she is held. The young couple will reside in Camden. They start married life with the best wishes of a large circle of friends.

Wonderful shells. There is a sand bank at Connemara, on the west coast of Ireland, that is the Mecca of every curiosity seeker who is fortunate enough to know of its existence. As a general thing sand banks are not a great attraction, but in this particular case the attractive power is not in the sand itself, but in the millions of extinct miniature shells which are almost as numerous as the grains of sand with which they are intermingled. The largest of these little wonders is smaller than the smallest pinhead and some of them so minute that they can easily be put through the eye of a common sewing needle, yet each is as perfect as the peery nautilus, the spider shell, the sea urchin or any other marine oddity.

They are of all shapes and forms imaginable. One will have the perfect outlines of a miniature basket, another will look like a fairy's tobacco box, while a third needs no effort of the imagination to give it the form of a bottle. The flash shells of Ceylon and Australia are the only living representatives of these conchological wonders. Naturalists who have examined the Ceylonese flash shells say that each is filled with a tiny bit of jellylike substance, which of course is the animal itself, but which is so infinitesimal that no distinction can be observed between head and heart, mouth and stomach.

Eskimo Mythology.
Among the Eskimos the sun is a maiden, and the moon is her brother who is overcome by a wicked passion for her. Once as this girl was at a dancing party in a friend's hut some one came up and took hold of her by the shoulders and shook her, which is, according to the legend, the Eskimo manner of declaring one's love. She could not tell who it was in the dark, and so she slipped her hand in some soot and smeared one of his cheeks with it. When a light was struck in the hut, she saw to her dismay that it was her brother, and without waiting to learn any more she took to her heels. He started in hot pursuit. And so they ran until they got to the end of the world, the jumping off place, when they both jumped into the sky. There the moon still chases his sister, the sun, and every now and then he turns his sooty cheek to the earth, when he becomes so dark that you cannot see him.

When he met the Senator he told him blunt and plain he was after something soft with plenty of plums. I see. He wanted a pudding.

Guessing at the heat of an oven spoils more food than inexperienced cooks. Dainty pastry and delicate cakes are ruined if the oven is too hot or not hot enough. The oven thermometer of the Imperial Oxford Range does away with all guesswork. The least experienced can tell to a certainty when the oven is ready for baking or roasting. Every housekeeper will appreciate this convenience of the

Most cooking failures may be traced to the fact that you don't know your oven. With the Imperial Oxford Range you know that the heat of the oven is evenly distributed and its exact temperature. Write for the Imperial Oxford booklet. Or better still, will you call at one of our agencies and see the stove itself?
