The forty-first Session of the Medical Faculty of McGill University will be opened on Wednesday 1st October 1873, with a general Introductory Lecture at 11 a.m. The regular lectures will commence on Thursday the 2nd Oct., at the hours specified in the time table, and will be continued during the six months following.

It affords the Faculty much pleasure to be able to announce that the beautiful and commodious new building erected by the Governors of the University for the use of the Medical Faculty, has been completed and was occupied by the Faculty during the last Session.

The following extracts from Professor Wright's opening lecture, delivered in the new building at the commencement of last Session, will convey some idea of the magnitude and completeness of the edifice.

"The stately building wherein we are met, has been built by the Governors of the University out of the funds at their disposal at a cost of $27,000, in addition to which sum the Dean and the Members of the Faculty of Medicine have contributed several thousand dollars to complete the internal fittings on a corresponding scale."

"The building is 80 feet front by 84 feet 8 inches deep, and 48 feet high to the top of the cornice, with a further elevation of 7 feet in the roof. The latter is a half mansard, broken by three pediments, and covered with slate. The walls are solidly built of cut stone."

"On the east side, facing University street, is the students' entrance, leading into the basement. The lobby leads into a passage which, like the
