YOUNG ROOSEVELT'S DEATH

Amsterdam, July 21.-The death of Quentin Roosevelt is confirmed by a Wolff Bureau message from the front, according to a Berlin dispatch received here. The story of the fatal encounter as told by the by the Wolff Bureau correspondent, fol-

"On Sunday, July 14, an American squadron of twelve battle planes was trying to break through the German defence over the Marne. In the violent combat which ensued with seven German machines one American aviator stubborn! ly made repeated attacks. This culminated in a duel between him and a German non-commissioned officer, who, after a short fight, succeeded in getting good aim at his brave but inexperienced opponent, whose machine fell after a few shots near the village of Chambry, ten kilometres (nearly six miles and a quarter) north of the Marne. "His pocket-case showed him to be Lieut. Quentin Roosevelt, of the aviation section of the United States army. The personal belongings of the fallen airman are being carefully kept with a view to sending them later to his relatives. The earthly remains of the brave young airman were buried with military honors by German airmen near Chambry at the spot where he fell."
