The Wonders of Observation.
Long ago a keen observer of humanity recorded his discovery that a small borrower never leaves the bank without glancing one way and moving off in the contra direction. A rival observer has just turned up in the Christian Science Monitor to report his conclusion, after years of patient observation, that a brass band and a small boy never move in opposite directions.

Caribou.
Migrating caribou along the Yukon river near the American-Canadian border were so thick during the first week of October that the United States Government steamboat Gen. Jeff Davis had difficulty in navigating among the animals swimming in the river. Thousands swarmed the shores and waters. Members of the crew said they lassoed a dozen and hauled them aboard for fresh meat.

Wanted to Advertise.
The military authorities reject the name "Londonview" proposed to be given the new million-dollar hospital to be erected south of the city and a committee will now make a selection from a list of battle names. The military folk object to the institution being made to serve advertising purposes.

Whisky and Religion.
Leon Swift was fined $10 in a St. Catharines police court recently, the result of a quarrel over religion that developed on a G.T.R. train after the doctrinal disputants had filled up on Niagara Falls whisky.

An Actor in Khaki.
A good story is told of a young actor enlisted in Canada, and in his difficulty what was more natural than that he should turn to his profession for help, for he had been trained with the greatest actors in the land. He practiced in seclusion, and one day, when his trained recruits had been drafted and a new batch had appeared, he strode to the job in the full panoply of the Cockney drill sergeant, pungent with the wit and wisdom of the Mile End Road. He never had a greater success in any part, and if his points were not applauded they were promptly obeyed.

Oil-Burning Locomotives.
Oil-burning locomotives are now used in twenty-one states, on fifty-three railroads and on 32,000 miles of track in this country. They consume 42,000,000 barrels of oil yearly.

Carrying a Load.
Many a man who objects to carrying a bundle home from a dry goods store goes home from his club loaded.

Fifteen Planes for Canada.
At the Hendon Airdrome Sir Edward Kemp received from Lord Londonderry, representing the air ministry, fifteen airplanes, subscribed by Canadian and overseas British residents through the Overseas Club. Seven of these were presented by friends of the club living in Canada. The club during the war has given the Government a total of 172 machines.

Sir Edward Kemp, in accepting the machines, assured the donors that Canada could be depended upon to develop the air service, both commercially and in a military sense, to as great an extent as any other part of the Empire. He mentioned that the Imperial Air Service had received over 8,000 officers from Canada, 1,200 being selected from the Canadian forces, 4,280 recruited directly in Canada, and 3,000 privates transferred from the Canadian to the Imperial Air Force.

Women as Fire-rangers.
To the creditable list of occupations in which the war showed women to be efficient and faithful, may be added that of serving as observers in lookout posts on the peaks of western mountains and hills. From these lonely points of vantage watch is constantly kept for forest fires in the region roundabout. Because of the scarcity of available men during the war, this work was performed largely by women and girls, many of the latter being of high school age, who were glad of an opportunity to spend a summer vacation in the open. Usually the girls "manned" the posts in pairs, but in one instance a lone girl and her faithful dog were on duty. Whenever smoke was seen rising among the trees it was the task of the watcher to calculate the location of the fire by means of special apparatus provided for the purpose, and then communicate at once by telephone to the forest-rangers, who would hurry out prepared to fight the flames.

Reaches Front Benches.
Sir Hamar Greenwood, an expatriated Canadian, has been a member of the British House of Commons for 12 years, and by his assiduity and ability has won the Under-Secretaryship that now comes to him. As a progressively successful lawyer he should find congenial work at the Home Office, and men of all parties will welcome him to the front bench in the House of Commons.

Paint For Protection PAINT YOUR BUILDINGS

High Finance and Paint

A farm with buildings preserved with good paint is from a financial standpoint a better selling proposition than a farm which has buildings left bare of paint to all kinds of weather.

The farmer who preserves his buildings, and keeps them in good repair, will naturally leave the impression with the general public, that his farm all around is better kept than the man who lets his buildings get out of repair.

There are about 63 per cent of farm buildings of all classes in Ontario suffering from lack of paint.

A few dollars spent in painting your buildings will increase the value of your property more than you would ever imagine.

Good Roads and Good Paint

Go a long way towards promoting better farming conditions. Paint suggests general cleaning up, and when protection is the motive for painting, you can rest pretty well assured that such a farmer is taking care of his assets in equally good manner.
