

These big letters represent what improper food is to health and happiness, for the man with a growling stomach cannot be merry.

"FORCE" is the for of indigestion. It is composed of the whole of the wheat—each kernel of which contains every element necessary to the proper nourishment and regulation of each organ of the body—blended with bariey malt, the best natural tonic. In the process of manufacture both the wheat and the malt undergo the same chemical changes as are brought about during the first stage of digestion in the healthy stomach. "FORCE," therefore, saves the stomach much hard work, but still gives it sufficient exercise to keep it in first-class condition.

That's why "FORCE" is the foe to indigestion.

SIGN YOUR LETTERS.

Many People Write Letters and Forget the Signature. "Many people write letters that they forget to sign," said a postoffice clerk.

"People come to us every day with such letters in the hope that they may be able to trace the writers. Sometimes we can do so, but not often. Of course only a small percentage of such letters are brought to our attention, so the total number must be very large. "If the name of the writer is on the envelope or letter head, the lack of a signature is of less consequence, but it happens frequently that important letters cannot be traced to the writers. "A certain business house in this city brought in a letter one day minus the signature and containing a ten dollar bill to pay for certain goods ordered. It came from a village in the interior of the state, and it was sent to the postmaster of the place, with the request that he ascertain the name of the writer, if possible. He failed to do from the same town asking us as to the reliability of the firm to which the letter had been written, saying that the writer had sent the firm money for an order of goods and had received no reply. It turned out to be the person we were in search of, and the mistake was explained. But this was an exceptional case."

Premature Anxiety.

"A long time ago, when trains traveled more slowly than they do now and 'way' trains were more common, two high railway officials got on a train at Philadelphia, intending to ride out about thirty miles," said an old railroad conductor. "They had a lot to say to each other, and the train, which stopped at every woodpile, worried them a good deal.

"A man recently landed got aboard a few miles out and added to their annoyance by his persistence in asking the name of every station that the train stopped at. After they had politely answered his questions for a dozen stations or so one of them became angry and said to him:

"See here, my friend, if you'll kindly tell me where you're going I'll see that you don't get carried by the

"The immigrant reached down to a capacious pocket and pulled up a ticket with about twenty coupons attached, the last of which read Omaha.

The Old Surf Bath.

It is not so many years ago when surf bathing of a very primitive kind prevailed at the eastern end of Long Island and, for aught I know, at other points. Every Saturday morning or afternoon, as the tide willed, throughout the summer big farm wagons trundled down to the beach and were swung around abreast of the line of breakers. Old fishhouses served the purpose of modern bathing pavilions, and the sea costumes were those of last year's village street. A long rope was drawn from under the seats and hitched to the wheel, and then some sturdy ex-whaler or life crew man, in red flannel shirt and old trousers tied at the ankles, slipped his wrist through the loop at the end of this primitive lifeline and, wading out, kept it as taut as circumstances permitted, while the women and children hung to it and reveled and wallowed and shricked, rejoicing in their "Saturday tub."-Out-

Legs That Hear, One of the strangest and most unexpected of the uses to which we could imagine a leg as being put is that of an organ of hearing. Yet such seems to be one at least of the functions of the fore legs in the cricket. On the outer side of the tibia a small oval space may be seen, in which the strong armature which covers the rest of the body is reduced to a thin and membranous condition, making thus a sort of window or drumhead. Communicating with this, inside the leg, are the ends of a nerve, and it can hardly be doubted therefore that the whole apparatus constitutes an auditory organ,

"What is it?" she asked. "Will you hold me up as a model to your third husband as you now hold your first husband up to me?".

Artificial Flymaking.

The trade of artificial flymaking is the lightest fingered business in the world, and it is not one man or woman out of 5,000 who can learn to tie flies. These tyers are remarkable for the beauty and delicacy of their hands, and only the cleverest of fingers can deal with the "niggling" work of knotting hairs that can hardly be seen.

Thoughtful. "Well, be's a very thoughtful and good hearted fellow anyway." "I can't see it. I was at his home yesterday, and it never occurred to him to ask me to stay to dinner."

"That's just the point his wife is taking cooking lessons." Willie's Query.

Special from Norwich, Ont. The recovery of Mr. Norman Batty, Hardware Merchant, one of Norwich's oldest and most successful citizens, has excited much comment. For years Mr. Batty has been an unceasing sufso, and the matter rested for some ferer from Catarrhal Asthma and altime. One day we received a letter though no end of time and money was spent relief was not obtained until Mr. Patty commenced Catarrhozone treatment which perfectly cured him. This case is only equalled by that of Mrs. Bannon, wife of J. J. Bannon, Druggist, who was also cured of Asthma and Hay Fever by Catarrhozone after thirty years' suffering. Fully a hundred persons in this town have been cured of Catarrhal troubles by Catarrhozone, which is a remarkable proof of its value. Two months' treatment. Price $1. Small size 25c. Sold by all Druggists or by mail from Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

Polson's Nervilne Cures Rheumatism

The remarkable strength and marvellous soothing power of Nerviline renders it quite infallible in rheumatism. Five times stronger than any other remedy, its penetrating power enables it to reach the source of the pain and drive out the disease. Nerviline is stronger, more penetrating, more highly pain-subduing in its ac tion than any other medicine heretofore devised for the cure of rheumatism. Sold in large 25 cent bottles ev erywhere.

"More haste, less speed," and "hasten slowly," are proverbs born of ex-perience that some things can't be hurried without loss or waste. That is specially true of eating. The railway lunch habit, "five minutes for refreshments," is a habit most disast-rous to the health. You may hurry your eating. You can't hurry your digestion, and the neglect to allow proper time for this important function is the beginning of sorrows to many a busy man. When the tongue is foul, the head aches, when there are sour or bitter risings, undue fullness after eating, hot flushes, irritability, nervousness, irresolution, cold extremities, and other annoying symptoms, be sure the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition have "broken down." Nothing will re-establish them in active, healthy operation so quickly as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It strengthens the sto-mach, nourishes the nerves, purifies the blood, and builds up the body. It is a strictly temperance medicine con taining no alcohol or other intoxicant. Given away! STRENGTH IN SOME FORM. The Quality Above All Else That Woman Admires In Man.

Women abhor cowards and still more sneaks, though I regret to say they often endure cads in a way that belies their intelligence and good taste. They have a quite pathetic desire to look up to men, to feel men their superiors in strength of body and of mind, in calmness of judgment and clearness of intellect. And it is indeed a pity that men so often seem to go out of their way to destroy their most cherished Above everything a woman admires strength in a man. It may be strength of body-she will worship a Hercules with the brain of a guinea pig. It may be strength of intellect-she will adore a savant with the body of a gibbon monkey. It may be strength of character-she will break her heart for a politician or a financier who is unswervingly wrapped up in dreams of personal advancement, and who possesses no more heart than an oyster. But strength in some form she craves unceasingly. It is a hereditary instinct that has been bequeathed to her through Eve's first disappointment when Adam was tried in the balance and found wanting. Woman, secretly conscious of her own physical weakness and lack of intellectual strength, demands strength from man to make up for her own deficiencies. Even the strongest women, strong in body and mind, well balanced as Athene herself, though they may shield and protect the weakness of the men they love and stoop to help them, will never do so without a secret feeling of contempt which is destruction of all ideals. Man, in spite of that deplorable start made by Adam, was intended to be woman's protector and refuge from all harm, upon whom she could lean and rely in every event of life's pilgrimage, and when the roles are reversed, as they often so unfortunately are, it is a bad thing both for man and woman. Strength, however is what women love in men.

PRECOCIOUS AUTHORS.

Successful Plays That Were Written by Boys In Their Teens.

Was a successful play ever written by a boy of fourteen? asks a correspondent. Yes. This seeming miracle has happened at least three times. The best known example of the precocious playwright is the celebrated Lope de Vega the most prolific dramatist known to history. He produced his first play, a comedy, entitled "La Pastoral de Jacinto," before he had completed his fourteenth year, and this was considered such a marvelous performance that he is known to this day in Spanish literature as "the Prodigy of Nature." Another Spaniard and contemporary of La Vega, Pedro Calderon, wrote his first play when he was thirteen. Metastasio wrote his tragedy "Giustino" and had it produced when he was fourteen on the stage at Bo-

Of English playwrights Douglas Jerrold, the famous author of "Black Eyed Susan," also furnishes an answer to the question. In 1818, before he had completed his fifteenth year, he wrote a very well known farce entitled "More Frightened Than Hurt." It was very successful on the English stage, and the French considered it good enough to steal. Curiously enough, this French translation was retranslated into English and again produced on the English boards under the title of "Fighting by Proxy." Another very remarkable instance of a different sort of precocity was that of William Henry Ireland, who when he was about fifteen actually produced some plays which he attributed to Shakespeare and which, although afterward proved to be forgeries, were accepted by the experts of the time as genuine.

Sympathetic.

Recently a lithographic firm received a circular announcing the death of the head of a well known business house. In reply they wrote:

"We regret to learn the loss sustained by your firm in the death of Mr. - and beg to express our heartfelt sympathy.

"We notice your circular is printed by Messrs. - We are confident that had you asked us we could have quoted you cheaper and better than any other firm in the market, and in the event of a future bereavement we hope you will afford us an opportunity of making you an offer."-London Tit-Bits.

Don't Be Foolish. Look at your friends and acquaintances. You see them deliberately acting the fool every day. Possibly you can look your friends over with less over. Are you acting the fool and causing yourself unnecessary annoyance? There are so many foolish people in the world that you often find startling things in looking yourself over with candor and fairness.

Breathing of Insects. Insects generally breathe through special pores in various parts of their bodies, and if these pores are closed by oil they are suffocated. Any one may test this by dropping sweet oil on the thorax or back of a wasp. It very soon dies. For this reason oil has been found one of the best things to use for the destruction of insects.

Strictly Business. "Have you observed that man who has been abusing you?" "Yes," answered Senator Sorghum placidly. "I've been watching him with a great deal of interest, If I wanted anybody abused, I don't know but I should hire him in preference to anybody I knew of."-Washington
