LAST NIGHT'S MEETING

A new and up-to-date Encyclopedia Britannica will shortly be added to the books at the Public Library. Mr. A. Sheldrick, chairman of the Book committee, reported to the Library Board at their meeting last night that the Board had purchased the Encyclopedia from the Everett-Wilson Co. The committee were fortunate in getting the volumes at a bargain—$7.50 for the entire set. The usual price is $90.

It was moved by Mr. Sheldrick, seconded by Mr. Humphrey, that the committee be empowered to pay the account.—Carried.

The matter of the pedestal to be purchased to place under the bust of Hon. Geo. Brown was discussed. Dr. Charteris thought that the pedestal which the Mycenian Marble Co. offered to install would give entire satisfaction.

Mr. Sheldrick inquired if their figures for the pedestal were not a little high. He understood they wanted $20 for it.

Dr. Charteris replied that it was the work on the pedestal that cost. He said that he thought the Board were getting it at a bargain.

It was moved by Mr. Humphrey, seconded by Mr. Twohey, that the Board accept the Mycenian Marble Co.'s offer, and that the Book committee be empowered to give instructions as to design and color.—Carried.

Mr. Sheldrick—it is the design which is the most important matter. It must be made to harmonize with the bust.

It was moved by Mr. Sheldrick, seconded by Dr. Charteris, that the Book committee be empowered to order the magazines and periodicals for the ensuing year.—Carried.

The Secretary of the Separate School Board wrote, informing the Board that the Separate School Board had passed a resolution asking the Library Board to subscribe for the Catholic Encyclopedia. A specimen book of this work was also received from the publishers, who solicited an order from the Board.—Referred to the Book committee.

The Deputy Minister of Education wrote, requesting that the Board forward to the Department of Education plans of the floors of the local Library building. The Department in the annual report of the Minister of Education.

Mr. Stone informed the members that Mrs. O'Dwyer, daughter of the late Judge Woods, had donated some old and very valuable books to the Library. The books will arrive shortly.

The salaries were ordered paid, and payment of the following accounts was ordered:

Gas Co., $15.03.
W. M. Draper, $1.50.
Mr. Davis, 60c.

Gives Promise Of Becom-

TALENTED CHATHAMITE

Miss MacIntyre, the subject of our sketch, is the daughter of E. J. MacIntyre, our well known jeweler. By right of birth, Chatham is not permitted to claim this young musician as her own native child, still the citizens of our beautiful Maple City delight in the privilege of entering their interest in her, inasmuch as the very early days of babyhood brought her into their midst.

Both the northern and southern parts of the city claim her as a student, the Central Kindergarten class preparing the happy mind for the reception of the preparatory studies taken up in the McKeough school, which branches our widely famed Collegiate Institute rapidly and favorably advanced, until at the age of fourteen years this young pupil received her matriculation certificate.

As time passed on, her love of music grew daily more marked and as our small city afforded but limited advantages for serious study, Miss Carmen, at the age of fourteen years, was taken abroad by her mother, who sought an interview with Heri Barma, a famous Russian violinist then in charge of a large class in Berlin. Contrary to his usual custom of refusing all mere beginners, he expressed his immediate intention of assuming full charge of the young girl's musical instruction himself, instead of assigning her to one of his preparatory assistants, and thus the study of the divine art earnestly began.

Miss MacIntyre studied under this master for a period of two years, during which time she played in some of the largest concert halls of Berlin, delighting her proud master and receiving flattering recognition from some of the most noted critics there. Feeling the need of a rest at the expiration of this time, both she and her mother returned to Chatham last May, spending the summer here.

Early in September Miss MacIntyre decided to continue the psychological branch of her art in Boston. This decision becoming known to Manager Brisco, he at once requested Miss MacIntyre to grant him the privilege of hearing her play and sing. She complied with his request, and he at once responded to the wishes of our interested citizens by engaging her services for a recital he purposes shall take place on Dec. 17th.

During her short stay in Boston this talented young musician has played several times at receptions and club gatherings. She has been heard by several of the Entertainment Bureau Managers, been visited by them personally, and public engagements offered her, but as these would seriously interfere with her college course being kept up she has felt it incumbent upon herself to refuse any and all engagements that would conflict with this. During the last month she was in receipt of a very flattering offer for the balance of the concert season, but though the temptation to accept it was very great, this, too, was wisely put aside. She has, however, accepted a two weeks engagement at Long Island, New York, during the Easter vacation, at which time her private efforts will not suffer by her public work.

It is meet also, that she should be heard in her own land, and in her own home city, where the music of her soul was first stirred and awakened, before she enters upon any large field of public recital. Her friends and fellow citizens will at once recognize and show their appreciation of this delightful bit of sentiment, giving our young artist a large and enthusiastic welcome when she appears before us.

The happiness that comes suddenly leave, ugly feelings on departure.

It is to live twice, when you can enjoy the recollection of your former life.

NOTES OF PROCEEDINGS

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON.

The County Council resumed at half-past three o'clock, after visiting the House or Refuge. There was not much business to come before them.

An account of the inquest into the cause of death of the late Mr. McArthur, who was killed on the Peace Marquette, was rendered and referred to the Finance Committee. In this case Coroner Bay deemed an inquest unnecessary, and when the body was sent to St. Thomas for burial the coroner there ordered an inquest. It was held in that place and now the County of Kent is called upon to pay the account for the expenses of that inquest.

A by-law appointing a county engineer was read a first time.

A by-law to legalize all grants made at this session was also read for the first time.

A by-law granting $300 to the town of Wallaceburg, for bridges, was referred to the Road and Bridge Committee.

Dr. Charteris, physician of House of Refuge, presented his report on that institution. Many of the inmates are old and feeble and require a great deal of attention. There have been eight deaths during the year, as follows:—Heart disease, 5; ascites, 2; stomach trouble, 1. There are at present six lunatics in the house, and it is quite probable that we will have more, as those incurable in the asylum will be turned over to the House of Refuge. The part of the building set aside for a hospital ward is useless, there being no sanitary arrangements. I would recommend that these be put in.

The report was adopted. This concluded the business, and the Council adjourned to meet on Thursday morning at ten o'clock.

THURSDAY MORNING.

The members of the County Council were in a sportive mood this morning. There was not much business to come up before them, and nothing special was done. Things were going on quietly and smoothly until The Planet arrived, and then there were doings. Those who do not know the tendency for joking which prevails at the Board might, if they had been
