In a case before an English Probate Court, a few days since, Mrs. Wright propounded the will of her late husband. In 1876 he executed a will, by which all his property was left to his wife, and gave it into her care. Some time afterward, in a sufferer from a severe cough and hoarse-pool with a general cargo for St. John, N. B., and after discharging proceeded thence with lumber to Australia. She sailed from Sydney, N. S. W., on the 25th of May last for Shanghai, where she arrived on the 25th of July. On the 18th of August last she left in ballast for Portland, Maine, and as already stated was wrecked on the 10th of October on the West coast of Vancouver's I-land. She broke up very rapidly, and no hope is entertained.

the notable folly, the solid sense, the improving nonsense—all the news of the busiest world at present revolving in space.

Because people have learned that in its remarks concerning persons and affairs The SUN makes a practice of felling them the exact truth to the lest provided by the state of the sense of the se of men, is powerful enough to be exempt from the strict application of its principles of right an wrong.

Because in politics it has fought for a doze years, without Intermission and sometimes almos alone among newspapers, the fight that has resulted in the recent overwhelming popular verilict agains Robesonism and for honest government. No matter what party is in power, The Evn stands and will be people against the anbition of bosses, the et croachments of monopolists, and the dishones schemes of bublic robbers.

All this is what we are told daily by our friends One man holds that The Evn is the best religious newspaper ever published, because its Christianit; is undiluted with cant. Another holds that it it the bost Republican newspaper printed, because it has already whipped half of the rascals out of the party, and is proceeding against the other half will undiminished vigor. A third believes it to be the best measured by the control of the party, and is proceeding against the other half will undiminished vigor. A third believes it to be host measured by the proceeding against the other half will undiminished vigor. A third believes it to be host in the world of thought. So every frien of The Sux discovers one of its many sides that appeals with particular force to his induvidual liking. If you already know The Sux, you will observe that in 1833 it is a little better than ever before. I you do not already know The Sux, you will find it to be a mirror of all human activity, a storehouse of the choicest products of common sense and imagination, a maintay of the cause of honest government a sentinel for genuine Jeffersonian Democracy accourage for wickedness of every species, and at uncommonly good inventment for the conning.
