a man named Samuel, elies Stumpy, Brown, are catcher, and notoriousponcher. A ceroner's inquest sat two days, and eleven witnesses were examined; but sufficient evidence could not be betained to prove that he had met with an unfair and, and the jury returned a verdict of "accidental death." It now appears, from the confession of a bloss under Sentence of transportation for life, named James Green, that Brown situally murdered Aythn a and that Green himself being secreted for an anisample purpose, saw him strike fatal blow. In consequence of this confee Brown has been appealended, and under lony for the relief of the sufferers by the late war.

Much dissatisfaction is expressed by the proprietors of the Cape papers at the discovery of their exclusion from the benefit of the Act of Parliament, by which the admission of Colonial journals into England is made free of postage, the act declaring that they must be conveyed in packets, and, on the Cape estation there are none. This is, however, such an obvious departure from the spirit of the act, that it will be highly diagraceful to the Post-Office authorities at home if they porsist in availing themselves, after due representation made, of so palpable an oversight in its provisions.
