SOROOL PRESENTATION.—On Friday afterpoon, December 14th, the younger pupils of S.S. No. 14, E. Wawaucah, presented their toscher, Miss Annie R. McGowan, with a photo album, as a token of the kind relation that had always existed between them. In the evening the aemior pupils and their friends assembled at her boarding place, S. Fell's where they were entertained with music, vocal and instrumental, and Miss McGowan was presented with a beautiful dressing case and several other useful articles, amounting to nearly $25, and a very flattering address. Although Miss McGowan was taken by surprise, she made a very neat speech in reply, thanking them for their valuable seems, and for their many kindnesses to her while among them, and arging them to do their duty as fatthfully by her successor, Miss Lily Dey.

Whiskey at Auction Sales.—A novel

WHISKEY AT AUCTION SALES.—A novel suit in the Division Court at Clandeboye was tried by Judge Davis the other day. Thos. Creighton, formerly hotal keeper at Lucan, had an auction sale of implements about a year ago, and as an inducement to purchasers to buy, distributed five gallons of whiskey am them. Thos. Nangle, a farmer, got a couple of drinks and bid $106 for a resper, two ploughs, and a waggon, which were knocked down to him. Ha was so drunk as to be unable to sign the note in payent, and when he did sober up he refused to sign the document or remove the goods. Hence the suit. Plaintiff held that defendant was not so drunk as he was now trying to make out, and that whiskey was a necessary adjunct of a Biddulph auction. Defendant said the liquor supplied made him sick for two months, and he thought tobacco or some other drug had been soaked in it. His honor decided in favor of defendant, and strongly deprecated the use of liquor at sales.
