

The United States Elections Yesterday.

NEW YORK, 3 This a.m. The latest returns indicate the following standing of the election: Hughes, 293; Wilson, 165; in doubt, 72. Necessary to elect, 266.

New York, Nov. 7.—The Herald flashed the election of Hughes at 7.30. The New York Times (Democrat) concedes the election of Hughes at 7.45.

The New York American announces at 7.50 that its returns showed the election of Hughes.

The New York Evening World announces that Hughes has carried New York State, and that Whitman has been elected.

The Times, which supported Wilson, concedes New York state to Hughes, estimating his majority from 125,000 to 175,000.

The New York American claims that Hughes has carried New York state by 150,000 to 160,000, and that Whitman has been re-elected Governor by from 165,000 to 175,000.

Chairman Wilcox, of the Republican National Committee, gave out the following: "The victory is greater than we had expected. It shows the American people can be trusted to settle the issues of the campaign. The present outlook seems to indicate a clean sweep. That means Hughes has been elected President, and that both Houses of Congress will be Republican. The American people are to be congratulated."

Long Branch.—When the New York papers began conceding the election of Hughes, there was a perceptible lessening of optimism by the White House Executive officers, but the view was expressed that the chances of Wilson were still good. Anxiety to hear from the Western and Middle Western States was shown. All the important news was telephoned immediately to the President.

New York.—The State of New York has been carried for Hughes by a plurality of more than 100,000. The indications are that he has also carried Illinois and Indiana by like pluralities. Returns from Ohio are insufficient to determine the result in that State. All of the New England and Michigan, have been removed from the list of doubtful States. Unless there is a substantial landslide for Wilson on the Pacific slopes, the election of Hughes is certain.

The following is an incomplete list of States and Pluralities: For Wilson—Colorado, 33,000; Maryland, 7,000; Missouri, 25,000; Ohio, 10,000; Oklahoma, 25,000; Texas, 165,000. For Hughes—Conn., 7,500; Ills., 20,000; Ind., 25,000; Iowa, 30,000; Kansas, 20,000; Maine, 7,000; Mass., 10,000; Mich., 100,000; N.J., 25,000; N.Y., 109,000; Penn., 200,000; Rhode Island, 1,500; Vermont, 20,000; West Va., 25,000.

Early returns from Illinois show Hughes leading Wilson in the race in Cook County. The city of Chicago is exceedingly close, but in down state precincts first reporting show heavy plurality for Hughes. Scattering returns from Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi, North and South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia indicate that a normal vote was cast in these States with the usual majorities for the Democratic candidates including President Wilson. The returns from two hundred and six districts out of 1,511 in Philadelphia, gave Wilson 7,958 and Hughes 24,402. Incomplete returns reported before the polls closed from 168 precincts of 2,474 in Kansas gave Wilson 12,363 and Hughes 14,840. Milwaukee thus far, Hughes leads Wilson 2 to 1.

Just before midnight the election returns, still incomplete, from many States indicated the election of Chas. E. Hughes and Charles W. Fairbanks, but the figures are very close and Democratic managers steadfastly refused to concede a Republican victory. Although the metropolitan newspapers which have supported President Wilson conceded his defeat, the Democratic managers insisted that the incomplete returns from the west would reverse the trend which steadily seemed to be piling up in the Hughes column. "Remember 1892" was the prediction of the Democratic Publicity Bureau, which pointed out that in that memorable contest, next day's returns placed Grover Cleveland in the White House.

Just after 11 o'clock Republican headquarters absolutely claimed Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois, Indiana, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Jersey, New York, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Vermont, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin and California with a total of 254 electoral votes that was 12 less than the 266 necessary for election; but the statement appended added, "advices have been received from enough States to make the necessary 266." The statement, however, did not list them. This was the first official indication from the Republicans that the result would be so close. Republican managers realized that a sudden switch in the States incomplete or unheard from might increase the Wilson figures, but were sure that later figures would add to the States they were claiming.

10.30 A.M. To-Day.

HUGHES HEARS OF HIS ELECTION

NEW YORK, To-day. Chas. E. Hughes and his family received the election returns here last night in an uptown hotel which has been the Republican nominee's headquarters since nomination. When the early returns began to come Hughes was asleep. He slept until 6.30 p.m. Meantime the telegraph instruments in the adjoining room had been clicking for two hours, and a sheet of telegrams showing the trend of New York were awaiting Hughes' perusal. The first paper handed him told of the announcement by the New York papers that he had carried New York State by a 150,000 plurality. Hughes smiled. Mrs. Hughes and their three daughters, Misses Catherine, Elizabeth and Helen, scanned the returns over Hughes' shoulder. A huge electric sign several blocks away flashed the returns. At 8 o'clock Mr. Hughes congratulated her husband on his election. She told him then that he had been elected.

HOW WILSON HEARD THE RETURNS.

LONG BRANCH, N. J., To-day. In face of the returns indicating the election of Charles E. Hughes, President Wilson, his officials and family, here late to-night insisted that more definite news from the Western States would be awaited before any concessions were made. The President, surrounded by the members of his immediate family, read the returns in his study at Shadow Lawn. As he continued discouraging news came to the executive office, disappointment was generally expressed, but the President himself remained cheerful. He filled the time between the receipt of the returns by talking with Mrs. Wilson, Miss Margaret Wilson and other relatives. Wilson displayed keen interest in the returns, indicating the political complexion of the next House and Senate. Discouraging as well as hopeful news was sent him by Secretary Tamm.

HOW THE ELECTIONS WENT.

NEW YORK, To-day. The Democratic party leaders insisted at a late hour that the control of the House had not been lost and that the Senate certainly would remain Democratic. The Republican leaders, however, were claiming the House and still were hopeful of victory in the Senate. In the House the Republicans claim a net gain of three, which would reduce House majority to 18, but there were more than 200 Congressional districts to be heard from. Late returns still indicate that the Democrats would lose two Senators from Indiana. The result was in doubt in Ohio, West Virginia, Maryland and Nevada, seats now held by the Democratic Party. On the other hand the Republicans in Utah, Delaware, Minnesota, New Mexico, Washington and Wyoming were still doubtful of victory. At one o'clock this morning the Senatorial situation was too much in doubt to permit an estimate of the relative strength of the two parties of that body.

ALL ABOUT IT.

NEW YORK, To-day. Chas. Evans Hughes will be the next President of the United States. At midnight it appeared certain that Hughes had carried at least 25 states, with an electoral vote of 301, and that Wilson had carried 15 states with an electoral vote of 149; 2 states with an electoral vote of 81 were in doubt, including Colorado, Missouri with 13, and Kentucky with 12. Almost without exception the Republican candidate swept the states that have a big vote in the Electoral College. He carried New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Massachusetts, Kansas, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota and California. He won New England—easily carried the Pacific Coast states without exception, and skinned the cream of the middle west. Wilson is sure only of a solid south with Utah and possibly Colorado, Oklahoma and New Mexico. The returns from the several states that had practically been conceded to him are such that these can only be regarded as doubtful. They include Missouri, Kentucky, Ohio and Maryland. At midnight the Republicans were claiming 18, Ohio 25,990, while the Democrats state chairman was sure of 75,000, Missouri was very close, with the indications favouring Hughes with a large Republican vote. Kentucky surprised her prognosticators with such an evenly balanced vote that a possible prediction had to wait for a late hour. Wilson seems to have gained considerably over Bryan in 1908. His victory in Utah occasioned a great surprise. The vote in Kansas was remarkably close. Montana gives indications of going Democratic. Wilson's vote in the Electoral College will probably exceed Bryan's, but with the single exception of Ohio he feared no better than Bryan in the states with big electoral votes. The result was practically certain as early as 7.30 p.m. when New York and Illinois were observed to be surely in the Republican column. It appears from a general survey of the result that the President won over about 20 per cent. of the progressive vote.

2.00 P.M.

HUGHES' NEW YORK VICTORY.

NEW YORK, To-day. New York State gave Hughes a plurality of 100,000 or more, and re-elected Governor Whitman by an eleven (?) figures vote. All the rest of the Republican state ticket was won by large pluralities, including the candidate for the United States Senate.

DRAMATIC CHANGE IN SITUATION.

NEW YORK, To-day. The result of the election still was officially in doubt early, with a decided drift toward the re-election of Wilson. Upon a dozen doubtful States, from which returns are slowly coming, depends whether Wilson has been re-elected or whether the next President will be Hughes. The Chairmen of both the National Committees claimed handsome majorities in the Electoral College for their candidate. The returns, however, show a steady trend towards Wilson.

All through the west, aside from the uncertainty of result, the most remarkable thing about the election was the sudden wiping out of the Hughes majorities piled up in the east by the returns coming in from the west. When the Republican landslide in New York became known and was quickly followed by heavy Republican victories in New England there was a veritable stampede to announce the election of Hughes and the defeat of Wilson. Hundreds of thousands waiting in the streets saw the signal lights flash the defeat of the President. The New York newspapers which have been prominent in their support of him conceded the President's defeat even before some of the Western States had been heard from. Thousands of persons in the east went to bed believing Hughes elected and woke up this morning to find the result apparently changed while they slept. Hundreds who made their plans for what they expected to happen in Wall St. to-day found them all awry. Congress returns were equally uncertain, but on their face at 8 a.m. to-day the Republicans had not been able to overthrow the Democratic majority, although they did succeed in reducing it in the House. Of the Senate the Republicans appeared to have gained 7 seats.

WITHOUT WARNING.

LONDON, To-day. The Peninsula and Oriental Line steamer Arabia, which was sunk by a submarine, was torpedoed without warning. The Admiralty announced to-day. All the passengers, including 169 women and children, were saved.

Section Man Meets With Accident.

Sectionman Patrick Walsh, 60 years of age, a native of Holyrood, met with a painful accident about 5.30 yesterday afternoon by falling from a hand cart this side of Petty Harbor, where he was working. He was picked up in an unconscious condition, placed on board the Trepassey train and brought to Bay Bulls where he was attended to by Dr. Chisholm who happened to be on the train. As the unfortunate man did not regain consciousness till his arrival at St. John's at 1 p.m. to-day, it was not possible to discover the full extent of his injuries other than he is badly cut around the legs and body. The ambulance was at the station to receive the patient and had him removed to the General Hospital.

Weakened by Anaemia Doctors Gave No Hope

Said She Was Threatened With Consumption, and Gave Her Three Weeks To Live.

Anaemia is indicated by thin, watery blood. The gums and eyelids grow pale, there is great weakness and fatigue and digestion fails.

Since Dr. Chase's Nerve Food formula new, rich blood is naturally most suitable as a treatment for anaemia. This letter proves its efficiency in the most severe cases.

Mrs. J. Adams, Port Hope, Ont., writes: "About six years ago I was taken with very weak spells and though I doctored with the family physician and used other medicines for two years, I got very little relief and, in fact, continued to grow weaker. I was so weak I could not wait on myself or raise my hand to my head and decided to go to my daughter in Toronto. When examined by Toronto doctors they pronounced me to be in a dangerous condition, threatened with consumption and other ailments and said I would not live for three weeks. One day I was looking through Dr. Chase's Almanac and read about the cure of anaemia by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I began the use of this treatment at once and am now well on the way back to health, after having used the Nerve Food for six months. I want my friends to know that my cure was effected by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food alone and after my discouragement from the use of other treatments, I feel it my duty to let everybody know about this remarkable cure." As a restorative for persons who are pale, weak and run down there is no treatment to be compared to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Gradually and naturally the red corpuscles are increased in the blood, the color is restored to the cheeks and the strength comes back to wasted nerves and muscles.
