

The Herald and Mr. Massie.

The Editor of the Guelph Herald thinks this world is a sort of Donnybrook Fair. He is always looking round for a shiny, and longing for somebody to "thrust on the tail my me coat."

For some time the Herald has been reduced to the necessity of wrangling with the Brantford papers, as The Mercury has something better to do than to play the editorial game-cock with him.

As to Mr. Massie's telegram, the publication of such a message under such circumstances was a simple matter of course. Our impression on seeing the telegram was that it was designed to correct an exaggerated statement on the part of the Herald.

Edward Blake at London.

The pressure upon our columns compels us to hold over until Monday a full report of Mr. Blake's great speech in London on Thursday evening. The Hamilton Times of Friday remarks as follows upon the subject: "The demonstration in London last night was the greatest ever held in that city, and one of the greatest ever held in Canada."

From such a man as Blake, with such a subject to treat on, a splendid effort was to be expected. The issue before the people brings back the old days and memories of the time when the people were battling against a corrupt and tyrannical executive for the rights which are now, in theory, part and parcel of the British Constitution.

Mr. Blake traced in minute detail the whole course of the plot which has culminated in the seizure of the reins of Government by a dozen conspirators, who have peremptorily refused to submit themselves to the authority of Parliament.

cheated Parliament out of its right of investigating their conduct up to the day when the grand coup d'état was made by which a Parliamentary Committee was destroyed by an act of the Crown, Parliament itself turned out of its chamber in spite of its expressed will, and the control of the country left in the hands of men who were in direct hostility to the people's representatives.

A rousing meeting of the Reformers of Townsend and the adjoining townships, was held in the square fronting the Town Hall of Waterford on Thursday. Not less than 800 were present.
