

GROWING GIRLS.

OCCASIONALLY REQUIRE A TONIC MEDICINE.

IT WILL KEEP THE BLOOD RICH, RED AND PURE, STRENGTHEN THE NERVES AND PREVENT DECLINE.

Mrs. Hiram Rinkler, the wife of a respected farmer in South Pelham township, Welland county, Ontario, says:—"It is with great pleasure that I give this tribute to the health restoring virtues of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. When my daughter, Lena, (now thirteen years of age) began the use of your medicine, a little over a year ago, she was in a most wretched condition. In fact we were seriously alarmed lest she might not recover. The first symptoms were a feeling of languor and weakness, gradually growing worse. She became pale, lost flesh, had little or no appetite and was apparently going into a decline. Finally the trouble became complicated with a persistent sore throat, which gave her great difficulty in swallowing. I gave her several advertised medicines, but they did not benefit her. Then she was placed under the care of a doctor, who said her blood was poor and watery, and her whole system badly run down. The doctor's treatment did not help her any, and then acting on the advice of a neighbor, I began to give her Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The confidence with which this medicine was urged upon us was not misplaced, as I soon noticed a distinct improvement in my daughter's condition. The use of the pills for a few weeks longer seemed to completely restore her, and from that time she has been a cheerful, light-hearted girl, the very picture of health. I will always recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to other sufferers, feeling sure they will prove quite efficacious as they did in my daughter's case.

Mothers with growing daughters will make no mistake if they insist upon the occasional use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills; they will help them to develop properly; will make their blood rich and pure, and thus ward off disease and decline. The genuine pills are sold only in boxes bearing the full name, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People" on the wrapper around each box. None other is genuine, no matter what some self-interested dealer may say. If in doubt send direct to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., and the pills will be mailed post paid at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50.

LAKEVIEW AND GROVESIDE.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McConnell are spending this week at the Pan-American house.

Miss Mary Adams has returned home after a short visit with her father.

Mr. Reekie gave a very interesting lecture, on the holy land, the views were fine and those who did not attend missed a treat.

The people of Luton spent a day last week very pleasantly at E. F. C. Doolittle's lake farm. Sixty-eight sat down to tables in the woods at dinner and supper between meals rowing, and bathing, and a general good time is reported by all.

Mr. and Mrs. John Tedford's sister and family who are visiting there, are taking in the London fair.

Mrs. Carman who has been ill for some time is reported that she is slowly regaining.

Mrs. Leon Fick is on the sick list. Dr. Johnston is in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Marr spent part of last week at Toronto, Niagara, and the Pan.

Lumbago Backs Straightened.
Don't lie around the house losing time and money because your back is stiff from lumbago. Do as thousands before you have done. Buy a large bottle of that unusually good liniment, Polson's Nerviline, and rub it frequently over the sore part. It gets at the pain, drives it out, limbers you up in no time. Nerviline is quick to relieve; never fails; never harms. Try it today. 25c.

AT DEAD PRESIDENT'S BIER

Body Was Viewed by Thousands of All Classes of Citizens.

Solemnly Impressive Scenes at Milburn House, Where Religious Service Was Held—Procession to the City Hall—Graphic Description of Grief's Marks on President Roosevelt and Senator Mark Hanna—Funeral Arrangements.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 16.—Buffalo yesterday became a city of mourners. The gay and flaming decorations of the Pan-American Exposition gave way to the symbol of sorrow. The black drapery of the city's streets muffled the tolling bell of the churches. Bits of crepe appeared on every sleeve. The sorrow was indescribable. In the morning a single service took place at the residence on Delaware avenue, where the martyred President died. A hymn was sung and prayer was made over the dead body. That was all. Only the immediate family and friends and political associates of the late President were present. The scene there was pathetic in the extreme. Then the body was borne out to the waiting cortege on the shoulders of eight sailors and soldiers of the republic. The cortege passed through solid walls of living humanity, bareheaded and grief-stricken to the City Hall, where the body lay in state yesterday afternoon. There a remarkable demonstration occurred, which proved how close the President was to the hearts of the people. Arrangements had been made to allow the public to view the body from the time it arrived, at about 1:30 o'clock until about 5 o'clock, but when the body arrived the people were wedged into the streets for blocks as far as the eye could reach. Two lines were formed. They extended literally for miles. Then 5 o'clock came and 4,000 people had already passed by and the crowds waiting below in the streets seemed undiminished. It was decided to extend the time until midnight. Then for hours longer the streets were dense with people, and a constant stream flowed up the steps of the broad entrance to the hall and passed the bier. When the doors were closed at midnight it was estimated that 80,000 people had viewed the remains, but thousands of disappointed ones were still in the streets.

Assembled in Silence.
At 9 o'clock long platoons of police officers, mounted and on foot, arrived on the ground and were posted in strong details along the streets approaching the Milburn house.

Even amid the stir of the assembling a solemn and awe-like silence prevailed, and the divisions of the escort came to their posts with silent bands. At 10:30 o'clock the military and naval detachment took temporary stations on West Ferry street immediately around the corner from the Milburn house.

Prominent Men.
Meantime the members of the Cabinet, officials high in the Government service and near friends of the martyred President, began to fill the walks leading up to the entrance of the Milburn residence. They came separately and in groups, some walking while those in carriages were admitted within the roped enclosure up to the curb.

President Looked Grave.
It was just eight minutes before the opening of the service, when a covered barouche drove up to the house, bringing President Roosevelt, and Mr. and Mrs. Wilcox, at whose home he is a guest. The President looked very grave. Word was passed up the well filled walk that the President had arrived, and those waiting to gain entrance fell back, making a narrow lane through which Mr. Roosevelt passed along to the house.

As the President passed within the house, and the services were about to begin, the long line of soldiers and sailors swung in column of fours into Delaware avenue, and formed in battalion front along the beautiful thoroughfare opposite the house and immediately facing it.

Face of the Dead.
Within the house of death was weep unspeakable. In the drawing room to the right of the hall, as President Roosevelt entered the dead President was stretched upon his bier. His head was to the rising sun. On the noble face, upturned to the creator, was written the story of the Christian fortitude with which he had met his martyrdom. "This will not come," he thought, "he had murmured when the cruel messenger of death touched and summoned him. A calm and peaceful resignation, not of death, was on the marble features. Death had emphasized the nobleness of his countenance. Only thinness of lips bore mute testimony to the patient suffering he had endured. He was dressed as he always did in life. The body lay in a black casket on a black bier, and over the lower limbs was hung the stately banner he had loved so well. The flowers were few, as befitting the simple nature of the man.

Two sentries, one from the sea and one from the land, guarded the remains. They stood in the window embrasures behind the head of the casket.

The Widow's Farewell.
The family had taken leave of their loved one before the others arrived. Mrs. McKinley, the poor, grief-stricken widow, had been led into the chamber by her physician, Dr. Rixey, and had sat a while alone with him, who had supported and comforted her through all those tough years of wedded life. But, though her support was gone, she had not broken down. Dry-eyed she had gazed upon him and fondled his face. She did not seem to realize that he was dead. Then she was led away by Dr. Rixey and took up her position at the head of the stairs, where she could hear the services.

Lead, Kindly Light.
Rev. Charles Edward Locke of the Delaware M. E. Church, who was to conduct the service, gave the signal, and there walked out from the hall the beautiful words of the "Lead, Kindly Light," sung by a quartette. It was President McKinley's favorite hymn. Half of those in the room put their faces in their hands to hide their scalding tears. President Roosevelt seemed to be swaying to and fro as if his footing was insecure.

When the singing ended the holy man lifted up his voice. He read from the word of God the 15th chapter of the first Corinthians. All had standing throughout, the remainder of the service. "Oh, death, where is thy sting; oh, grave, where is thy victory?" repeated the minister.

Again the voices rose with the words of "Nearer, My God, to Thee," the very words President McKinley had repeated at intervals of consciousness during the day of agony before he died.

As the music died away the pastor spoke again. "Let us pray," he said, and every head fell upon its breast.

80,000 Grief-Stricken People.
The public reviewing of the remains began at 1:30 o'clock, and was continued until midnight, by which hour 80,000 people had gazed for the last time upon the face of him who was known in life as President William McKinley.

FUNERAL ARRANGEMENTS.
Remains of the Late President Will Rest in Canton Wednesday Night.

Buffalo, Sept. 16.—The funeral procession will form early this morning and the body will be taken to the New York Central Station, where a special train will be in waiting to carry it to Washington, over the Pennsylvania Railroad through Harrisburg and Philadelphia. On the same train that bears the coffin will go the members of the Cabinet and of the President's family, as well as the committees to be appointed for the journey.

The funeral train will reach Washington this evening, and the President's body will be conveyed to the rotunda of the National Capitol.

Washington, Sept. 16.—The following official statement was given to the press last night:

In compliance with the earnest wishes of Mrs. McKinley that the body of her husband shall rest in his home at Canton, Wednesday night, the following changes in the obsequies of the late President will be made:

Funeral services in the rotunda of the Capitol will be held Tuesday morning on the arrival of the escort, which will accompany the remains from the White House. The body of the late President will lie in state in the rotunda for the remainder of Tuesday and will be escorted to the railroad station Tuesday evening. The funeral train will leave Washington at or about 8 o'clock Tuesday evening and thus will arrive at Canton during the day Wednesday.

English Court to Go Into Mourning.
London, Sept. 16.—King Edward has commanded the court to go into mourning for a week on account of the death of President McKinley.

The King a Mourner.
Copenhagen, Sept. 16.—King Edward, Queen Alexandra and other royal personages attended a memorial service for President McKinley held yesterday in the English Church.

Pope Wept at the News.
Rome, Sept. 16.—The Pope yesterday prayed for an hour for the soul of President McKinley. On receiving the news of the President's death, His Holiness wept in uncontrollable emotion. All audiences at the Vatican have been suspended. The Pope has telegraphed his condolences to Buffalo.

Who Will Go for Canada.
Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 16.—The question: Who will represent Canada at the funeral of President McKinley? is being carried pretty generally here. But in the absence of anybody qualified to speak on the subject it meets with no satisfactory answer, even in the way of conjecture. There are not a cabinet minister in town. All are in attendance with the exception of Sir John A. Macdonald, who remains in Kingston. The most likely suggestion ventured is that the solemn mission will be entrusted to Hon. R. W. Scott, the Secretary of State, who is with his colleagues in Quebec.

Warren Richards, Attorney General, has been appointed Registrar of Deeds and Local Master of Titles for Manitoulin District.

The Royal Yacht Ophir, With the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York on Board Will Cast Anchor This Morning When Guns of the Fortress Will Boom a Welcome—The Landing Will Be at Noon—The Official Program.

Quebec, Sept. 16.—The troops from outside the city kept arriving all yesterday morning.

In the morning the 65th, most of the 9th Regiment and detachments from the other corps attended a grand mass at the Seminary Chapel, at which the Rev. Father O'Leary, chaplain of the 1st contingent, officiated. Detachments from the different regiments also attended the Methodist and Presbyterian services.

At 2 o'clock a parade service was held for the Protestant troops upon the Plains of Abraham. The men were formed up on three sides of a hollow square, facing inward. On the right flank were the Army Medical Staff Corps and the 2nd Canadian Artillery. On the Centre the Prince of Wales' Fusiliers, the 5th Royal Scots, the 53rd (Sherbrooke) and the 85th (St. Hyacinthe); on the left flank the Vics., and the 8th Royal Rifles.

To do lasting honor to the Duke and Duchess Quebec has made great preparations. The decorations throughout the city are of a most elaborate nature. Flags and banners float from every house.

"Did you hear that? That dreadful accident that occurred in Missouri? No! Well, it seems that a frog found a lump of dynamite and swallowed it. Then it hopped into a nearby house and in some way made a mistake and came down so heavily that the dynamite exploded, tore the house to pieces and killed a child."
"Good. But you omit the most interesting point of the story."
"What's that?"
"When the dynamite went off, did the frog croak?"
