proved very entertaining, the stereopteresting.

The death of Mrs. Lester, widow of John Lester, of Dorchester Station, occurred at No. 1 Seale's Terrace, York street, between nine and ten o'clock last night, from a complication of ailments which had undermined her constitution for some time past. Deceased was a sister-in-law of Mr. Daniel Lester, of this city, and leaves no family.

On Friday evening, shortly after ten o'clock, a fire broke out in Belmont, and occupied by Mr. William White, was burned to the ground. While Mr. White was retiring to bed the time the whole structure was ablaze.

The sudden death of Miss Ann

She never rallied from the attack of heart failure from which she suffered.
The interment will take place at Dundas to-day.

A Scotch festival not much observed of late years is "Hogmanay night," the last night of the year. It used to be the custom, as soon as the celebration was over, to set out on a "first footing" expedition among one's friends, but of late years first footing has gone out of fashion, and with it has gone the Hogmanay night celebration, which was a most interesting old-time Scotchman in London reviving it—just for this occasion.

News was received last night of the death of Sydney W. Ham, of this city, by an accident on an elevator in Cleveland, where he resided. Mr.
Ham had been here spending Christmas with his parents, and had only returned on Thursday to his home in Sydney, Ham, of York street, east. He was a member of the Manhattan Club. His parents have the sympathy of their many friends in their bereavement. A press despatch from Cleveland says: "Two frightful elevator accidents occurred this morning within five minutes in buildings only a short distance from each other. Sydney Ham, of London, Ont., stepped into an open shaft and fell six stories, and Ralph Shullman, 19 years old, fell five stories.
Both were instantly killed."

Rev. M. Day Baldwin, of Montreal, preached at St. James' Church, Son-doy morning. His text was chosen from St. John 8:58. "Verily, verily, I say unto you, before Abraham I am." His argument was directed to prove that Jesus Christ had fulfilled prophecy, had stood the test of ages and could not but be accepted as the one true Lord and Saviour of the world.
The world, notwithstanding that there were many resemblances to be traced between the fragmentary suggestions preceding Him and His own positive teaching.

opening ceremony will commence at 10 o'clock at Sherwood Hall.

The numerous friends and acquaintances of the family will hear with very deep regret of the death of Mrs.
Dawson, wife of Lieut.-Col. M. D.
Dawson, district storekeeper and paymaster, which occurred at the residence on Saturday night, after a comparatively brief illness, from an attack of paralysis. Mrs. Dawson suffered from a stroke, which rendered her left side entirely helpless, about ten days ago, but during the week she was thought to be in a fair way to recovery. On Saturday, however, her condition became very critical, and she passed away as stated, deeply mourned and regretted by all who had the pleasure of her acquaintance.
In church circles she will be greatly missed, and her demise will be severally felt by all who were sharers in her unostentatious benevolence.

Mrs. Dawson (nee Miss Hearn, of Montreal), was married in 1869, and leaves a husband, three sons and one daughter to mourn the loss of one whom to know was to esteem. One of the sons, at present residing in St. Louis, was informed of his mother's death, and is expected to arrive this afternoon.

The sincere sympathy of the public generally will go out to the bereaved at their sad and irreparable affliction at this time. The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at three o'clock.

The Marks Bros. Dramatic Company closed their week's engagement at the Lyndon Opera House Saturday night with another one of the crowded audiences that has greeted the company since their first appearance.

The secret of the success of the company lies in the fact that they always give the worth of the money and send their audiences home pleased. Tom Marks is an artist in his line, but he is also a first-class business man. He realized that to make a long stay in town he must "make good" his promise in his preliminary announcements. This he always does. Being a first-class performer himself, he is able to induce to engage other first class performers, both in the dramatic and vaudeville line, and the result is a combination that cannot be excelled in America to-day. The Marks Bros. Co., under the management of Tom Marks, can be commended to any audience as giving a clean, artistic performance and satisfying all of their patrons, home satisfied.

Mr. Charles J. Wallace, for several years with Messrs. Smallman & Ingram, has secured a good position in the well known Toronto wholesale firm of Gordon, McKee & Co., and will leave to-morrow for the Queen City. Mr. Wallace possesses the faculty of making himself liked by all with whom he comes in contact, while among his personal friends he is an especial favorite. As a cricketer Mr. Wallace has few superiors in the Dominion, and in this connection he will prove quite a prize to Toronto.
Ladners generally, who are regretting his departure, will join in extending their best wishes for his success in his new field.

Evangelist Russell addressed the men's meeting at the Auditorium yesterday afternoon. In the morning he preached at the Dundas Centre Methodist Church, and in the evening at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church he gave an address on "Redemption Rights." Mr. Russell possesses a wealth of imagery and illustration seldom heard in a pulpit, and that would appear extravagant was it not the utterance of one who evidently experiences what he preaches. He will assist Rev. Dr. Saunders in watch-night service this (Monday) night.

The memorial service for the late Lieut.-Col. Lewis, held at the Dundas Centre Methodist Church, last evening, was very impressive. Rev. Dr.
Saunders preached and referred to the unimpeachable character of the deceased as one most worthy of emulation. The choir of the church redeemed beautiful and appropriate music.
Seven Chinamen were arrested at 233 Dundas street Sunday night, charged with gambling. They will come up before the police magistrate this morning.
