THE CORONATION OATH

Exception is being taken to the phraseology of the coronation oath, so far as it refers to Roman Catholics...

THE MEDICAL ACT

A movement is on foot to bring about an amendment of the Medical Act so as to permit any physician of standing in any of the other provinces of Canada to practise in this province...

And, lastly, it was in Elizabeth's time that the seeds of civilization were planted by Drake, Raleigh and Gilbert...

To her who made such greatness possible belongs the glory. Her faults were many; she erred much in little things...

But it matters very little by whom the question has been raised. Now that it is up, it is a public matter, and should be treated as such.

GREAT BRITAIN'S GREATNESS SOVEREIGNS

It is a remarkable fact, and one worthy of note, that the two greatest sovereigns that England has ever known have been women, Victoria and Elizabeth.

Elizabeth came to the throne when England was anything but prosperous. The crown was encumbered with debts, the nobles were ambitious, the people were poor and distracted by the claims of foreign rulers.

Elizabeth came to the throne when England was anything but prosperous. The crown was encumbered with debts, the nobles were ambitious, the people were poor and distracted by the claims of foreign rulers.

While all over Europe the Church was setting her mighty self against the progress of science, in England there was freedom of thought for all. The little green island out in the sea was a haven of refuge for the men, who, persecuted far more unjustly than the Christian martyrs of earlier times, were fleeing to seek a world that was all going wrong, and whose people were living in ignorance and blind superstition.

Victoria was none of these things. Essentially womanly, she was a queen before all else; proud, with the gentlest pride; thoughtful of others always; wise, with a wisdom that appears never to have erred.

THE INVITATION TO THE DUKE

The invitation which the legislature, at the instance of the Premier, supported by the acting leader of the opposition, has extended to their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of York to visit this province, is very timely, and endorsed as it has been in advance by the federal government, may perhaps accomplish its purpose.

No man can claim to have seen Canada, who has not landed on the shore of one pebble and crossed to the other. With all respect to His Majesty, we submit that he will not be very well advised if he cuts the royal tour short of this.

Mr. Hawthornthwaite's maiden speech showed that in him the House has a notable addition to its speaking force. When he said that he intended to hold the Premier responsible for the acts of the government, he showed that he is not going to import into the consideration of the policy and administration of Mr. Dunsinuir any of the subjects upon which the people of the province have already pronounced their verdict.

RAILWAYS IN CANADA

The latest report of the Minister of Railways and Canals is at hand, and on opening it we find the following statement in regard to railway subsidies, which is reproduced as a supplement to the columns of this subject.

Table with 2 columns: Railway Name, Amount. Includes Grand Trunk, Canadian Pacific, etc.

There is no government subsidy...

A study of this return will show how very reasonable is the claim that the Dominion should deal liberally with the province of British Columbia...

THE DEBATE ON THE DEBTS

It is the general opinion that the speeches made during the debate on the debts were equal in every respect to any ever delivered in a British Colonial legislature on a similar occasion.
