THE EDUCATIONAL SIDE OF THE H. J. CROWE ENTERPRISE

Hampden, White Bay, Nov. 26th, 1923.

To the Editor Evening Telegram:
In connection with the operations recently opened up here by Mr. Harry J. Crowe a most enthusiastic gathering assembled in the New School House to welcome Miss May Lowrie and Miss MacAulay, who have been engaged to teach the children and carry on Welfare Work in this community of over seven hundred now comfortably settled for the Winter in about one hundred and ten little houses or shacks built within the past six weeks. This in addition to the large number of single men living in Mr. Crowe's logging camps. Mr. W. M. Balfour, the popular manager of Mr. Crowe's was chairman of the meeting and very ably executed his duties.

Never in the history of White Bay have the people shown such interest in the educational advantages now offered their two hundred and forty-five (245) children of school age who have recently settled here from La Seta, Paquet, Fleur de la Saie, Cove, Harbour Round, Woodstock, Bryans Cove, and other places on the North Coast, many from destitute homes. At the close of the meeting the large audience gave vent to their feelings by a round of ringing cheers for the leaders of this movement.

Miss Lowrie addressed the meeting with deep feeling and referred to the call she received from Mr. Crowe to come to Newfoundland, as a cry from Macedonia to "come over and help us". She thanked the people for their hearty welcome and demonstrated briefly in a fascinating way a few of the latest methods for training children in creating constructive thought and quickening their observation.

Miss Lowrie has a wide experience having taught in England a number of years, spent the last three years studying Canadian methods in Ontario, Saskatchewan and Nova Scotia. Recently she has been lecturing and demonstrating Kindergarten Primary methods to teachers in Nova Scotia. Miss Lowrie brings with her to Hamilton the most up-to-date methods and equipment for Kindergarten, Primary and also Senior Departments.

Miss MacAulay, with a pronounced Irish accent, made a most favorable impression in her address, particularly to the mothers. She is a trained Welfare Worker from Ireland and has spent the last two years in Canada where she was Superintendent of a Social Service Association at Vancouver, B.C. Recently she has been actively engaged in welfare work in Toronto.

Miss MacAulay, in addition to carrying on Welfare Work in the homes intends having a social evening each week for the men as well as the women when matters of Health, Home Economics, Demonstrations in Cooking, also Debates, Games and other entertainments will make up the programme. The women met Miss MacAulay later and appointed their officers for carrying on their Winter work.

Miss Lowrie and Miss MacAulay laid stress upon the importance of starting a new centre of the Scotch Knitting Industry among our women and girls. This work has been inspired by Lady Allardice, wife of our much esteemed Governor. In referring to this work Miss Lowrie pointed out that the fisher girls of Newfoundland had earned four thousand dollars during the month of September. Needless to say the women of Hamilton intend to be second to none in skill and production.

Messrs. Joseph and George Burton were chosen to speak on behalf of the people of Hamilton. These men were leaders in the communities from which they came and since coming here have been so recognized in religious and social affairs. They referred to the failure of the fishery which forced them from their homes and with warmth declared that had it not been for the employment offered at Hamilton many of them would have faced starvation during the coming Winter unless the Government had sent them relief. What was appreciated more than anything else in connection with their employment at Hamilton was the chance to work near their homes, thus enabling them to look after their families in providing fire wood, etc. It was for this reason they had brought their families to Hamilton and if labor could not have been secured within easy reach of their new homes they would have suffered. Messrs. George and Joseph Burton both spoke with deep feeling about the lack of educational advantages in their native villages which is evidenced by so many young and old who are unable to read and write.

Judging by the reception Mr. Crowe received on rising to introduce the teachers, our people cannot be accused of not showing their gratitude. Mr. Crowe expressed his pleasure in finding a spirit of harmony among the new settlers of Hamilton adding that never in all his experience in various parts of the island had he found a community so united in a desire to improve their conditions and with such determination to make good. He spoke of the natural gifts with which the people of Newfoundland were endowed and what it would mean to the future of the island if the children received an education through the modern methods described by Miss Lowrie. He was sure the parents would make any sacrifice in their power to prevent their children who are the future hope of the country from being under the handicap which they had to endure because of being deprived of these opportunities.

BOOZE FOUND UNDER UNUSUAL CIRCUMSTANCES

The Inland Revenue Department came in for a find Saturday evening under unusual circumstances. Mr. Alonzo McKenzie, of Four Mile Brook, was motoring near Salem, Green Hill, when his car was run into and damaged by another auto. The fault was entirely that of the second car and Mr. McKenzie assessed his damage at $25. The occupants of the second car disputed the claim vehemently and Mrs. McKenzie who was travelling with her husband, did some scouting on her own account. She observed several suspicious looking keys in the car No. two, then hurried to the nearest telephone and communicated with the Westville Chief of Police. The officers were soon on the scene and took car, booze and the two gentry under charge. They gave action names and were fined $200 apiece with the car and booze confiscated.—Eastern Chronicle.

Mr. Crowe closed his remarks by an appeal to take better care of our bodies and went fully into the subject of the "consumption of white flour, more white flour and yet more white flour which he noticed particularly in White Bay. He referred to its food value and the effect on the body of so much of this "denatured and un-nourishing food—a ragged end of starch."

He hoped that the outcome of the efforts of the people of Hamilton this Winter and the following years of ever increasing development work which he believed would be carried on in this part of White Bay would be felt with beneficial results in all sections of, at least, this part of the Island. A campaign has been started for whole wheat bread with good prospects of success. The musical programme which was warmly applauded was as follows:

Song—"Annie Laurie" by Miss Lowrie.

Song—"When Irish Eyes are Smiling" by Miss MacAulay.

Song—"Where the River Shannon Flows" by Mr. A. A. Poole.

Mr. Poole was visiting Hamilton on business in the interests of Ingersoll Rand Company and made a valuable contribution to the programme. Miss Lowrie also gave a recitation entitled "A Frenchman's Idea of the Garden of Eden," which was received with laughter and applause. A very enthusiastic and successful meeting was held Saturday for Hamilton was brought to a close by singing the National Anthem.

CANADIAN YOUNG MEN SELLING

American treasury was just turning on its hinge.

Mr. Babson himself has made a special study of Canadian opportunities and is doing much to turn the tide of American capital northward. He is a bull on Canada.

In his luncheon address, before the Canadian Club, he repeated the optimistic arguments with which he had cheered the cabinet ministers at the Board of Trade luncheon in Ottawa. "The ultimate future of a country," said he, "depends upon its developed natural resources and its people. Canada has the greatest undeveloped natural resources of any country in the world; it lacks only people. These can readily be obtained if you go about it right, but remember one thing—that a family of character, bringing up its children in the fundamentals of righteousness, is worth as you will get if you are not careful."

But his optimism was based on a careful reading of the business barometer. There were many clouds in the business sky, and much dispute as to their meaning. Business men during the next few months should watch the storm signals closely. The storm might blow away, but there was no sense taking risks. They should cut out the grills, collect their bills, keep down inventories, reduce costs, avoid getting into any more debt, and get out of debt as fast as possible.

"We must all," said he, "work for greater confidence, more efficiency, lower taxes, and other fundamental, rather than superficial remedies. The need of the hour is to cut out false optimism and false standards, getting back to old fashioned honesty, industry, thrift and service. We must work for better business, but should not be misled by the present record breaking figures for oil production, auto output, building permits, car loadings, retail sales, high wages and bank deposits. A rapid pulse and a high temperature does not mean a healthy patient. Great care must be exercised to prevent a period of unemployment and poor business."

There were five reasons against inflation. First, the situation in basic raw materials and in wheat. There was too great a spread between the reward to farm labor and the wage of city labor. Secondly, Europe was "keeping" large standing armies and trying to dump on America the products of low exchange and sweat-labor.

Too Many Autos

The third reason was automobiles. Too many cars spoiled the market for other things. There would have to be automobile retrenchment again: high costs, labor inefficiency and exorbitant taxes were killing the goose that laid the golden egg. An increase in rents, taxes and wages had greatly increased the cost of doing business. Finally, too many people today had the wrong attitude toward life. The cry of the mass was for bread and circuses. They wanted the government to feed, clothe, and amuse them. All wanted to ride, few wanted to pull. There was also a great lack of religion. "There were more of the old New England virtues in Canada than in New England."

Mr. Babson is a bull for the long pull, but his views as to immediate trends were extremely conservative. He concluded his address with these words: "Able men such as Judge Gary of the Steel Corporation; A. R. Erskine, President of the Studebaker Corporation; the economics departments of some of our great universities, and many financial writers, are all bullish and believe that the next 12 months will be a year of rising prices and booming business. The Babson statistical organization does not agree with these men. As to who is right only the future can tell, and it would be useless for us to argue the point at this time.—Montreal Star.

FOUR CONDUCTORS ON C. N. R. DISMISSED

Me nLong In Employ Of The Railway Charged With Embezzlement.

Four conductors of the Canadian National Railway serving within the Atlantic region, and having an average of forty years of service to their credit, have been summarily dismissed from the employ of the railway, charged with embezzling funds which they have from time to time procured from the purchase of tickets by passengers aboard the trains. All these conductors are well known in the Halifax-Truro division, and while it is evident that the charges against them have been of a very serious nature and the evidence exceedingly clear, they have the sympathy of those who know the circumstances especially in view that everyone of them was approaching that time when their superannuation was due, and which would have placed them in comparative comfort for the remainder of their days.—Chronicle.
