

when given internally in the acute specific fevers, in erysipelas, and generally in all cachetic states with a tendency to pus formation. It constitutes an excellent dressing for fresh wounds, which are thus protected against septic invasion, but its inhibitory and destructive action on pyogenetic organisms renders it invaluable as a local application to boils and carbuncles, insect stings and bites, ulcers, and for the irrigation of abscess cavities.—American Medicine.

THE VACCINE TREATMENT OF TYPHOID FEVER.

W. H. Watters and C. A. Eaton, of Boston, Mass., give the histories of thirty cases treated by them with typhoid vaccines. They ask others to experiment in this direction. The temperature was reduced in most cases, the reduction beginning soon after the injection of the vaccine was given. Clinical improvement was seen very early, and the course of the disease was shortened. Two deaths were record-
