THE LABOR PROBLEM.

HE OPINION OF TWO RESPECTED AND EMINENT PRIESTS ON THE KNIGHTS OF LABOR.

(From the Hibernian Record.)

The latest ruse adopted by certain politicians, capitalists and others in order to cripple the influence of the Knights of Labor by appealing to the religious convictions has connecting themselves with the organization upon the grounds above mentioned will now consider that it is a duty and not a crime. When the Knights of Labor was yet in its incipiency a similar discussion took place in Philadelphia upon this subject among members of the order who belonged to the Catholic faith, and finally a committee waited upon the late Archbishop Wood for the purpose of obtaining his opinion in the matter, which was practically the same as that of the two clergynen which we print below.

It having been stated that Catholics were not permitted by their church authorities to Graham, of St. loseph, Mo., pastor of St. Patrick's Church and editor of the Catholic Tribune, and we give below what he has to say on the subject. It is a very decided set-back to these enemies of Organized Labor, who are endeavoring to bring the K. of L. into disrepute with the church anthorities :

"A committee of Knights of Labor called " on me at the parochial residence, wishing to ascertain my views in regard to the Order. "It seems that many Catholics belong to the organization, and a great many would join "if they knew that the Order is not condemned by the Church. As far as I know, there is nothing objec-

" tionable to any Catholic joining, as the "objects are the self-protection, advance"meat and securing the rights of the working class by every legitimate means within "their power. There is no secrecy or
"tath, except in regard to a password to " seep out intruders, and no form of religious er exercise, prayers, etc., as in some orders "pretending to be non-sectarian and nonpolitical. The church, ever anxious for the welfare of the masses, will always tolerate, " nay, sanction anything that is done in a "legitimate manner for their welfare. We consider the Knights of Labor organization "a movement in the right direction, and " beartily indorse their efforts, horing that it " will run clear of anything like con.munism, "which every good citizen should oppose."

Immediately following the above, in an interview with a reporter of a prominent Philadelphia newspaper, Rev. Father Barry, paster of the Church of the Visitation, Front and Lehigh avenues, expressed himself as folllows :-

"I have many members of the Knights of "Labor in my congregation, and I do not " offer opposition to any of my parishioners "who wish to join the organization. There " is nothing in its nature, as far as I can learn, "opposed to the principles of morality and religion. The organization of workingmen "to legitimately protect their interests is commendable. The Church opposes secret " organizations that are opposed to religion " and government, but the knights of Labor " are not classed with members of such or-" ganizations."

INTERESTING LABOR NOTES. Maights of Labor motto: "That is the obtained by enclosing that amount to Mr. P. most perfect government in which an injury to one is the concern of all."

Almanac is twenty-nve cents, and it can be obtained by enclosing that amount to Mr. P. M. Haverty, No. 14 Barclay street, New York. Association of workingmen and co-opera-ion in effort must accomplish the ideas of earnest advocates of reform in the future, if ther ever are to be accomplished.

Light hours per day will be the limit of toil in the near future. The subject is now being intelligently handled, and a practical test is being made in many trades. One of the most admirable institutions connected with the Knights of Labor is its insurance bureau. To the family of a man in good standing $500 is paid at death.

The Knights of Labor do not and will not countenance any act of violence or intimida-tion, and, furthermore, will do all in their power to prevent any such act of a member. During the great strike at Galveston, Texas, the Knights of Labor had men on duty to guard property, and no damage was done during the popular protest against monopoly.

There are two ways to permanently relieve over-production. Produce less or consume Shorter hours of labor will enable more to find employment and so consume

The workingmen form nine tenths of the consuming class. Could their wages be raised they would be enabled to purchase more and that would, in a great measure, remedy the alleged "overproduction," the true name of which is under consumption.

LAND QUESTION IN WALES.

LONDON, Feb. 6.-Without doubt the land agitation is the coming difficulty with which England will have to deal. The desire for proprietorship is as intense in the peasant as in the peer, and this desire in the former has been quickened by politicians who in all pro-bability have their own more than the peasants' interest at heart. But the spirit having been raised it will not down. At present the agitation is raging with great fierceness in Wales, all the greater from its novelty in that country of fcudal fidelity. The Farmer's League has demanded a reduction of 25 per cent. on farm rents. The principal landlords have entered into a combination in opposition to the league, whose rights to represent the tenants they refused to recognize. It is feared the lrish programme of refusal to pay rents, evictions, boycotting, and agrarian outrages will be repeated on the Welsh coast.

BOOK NOTICES.

The bright and attractive February Magazine of American History is filled with time-ly articles of fresh and absorbing interest. The number opens with a strong, well written The number opens with a strong, well written article by Frederic G. Mather, on the "City of Albany," with unique illustrations of the old and the new, showing the progress for two centuries of that quaint old State Capital. The Portrait of James II., for whom Albany was named, forms an appropriate frontispiece. This is our first reminder of the near approach of sult in large accessions to the membership throughout the entire country. It is, perhaps, a fortunate occurrence, in so far as many persons who have hitherto hesitated from connecting themselves with the occurrence writes elequently and with his connecting themselves with the occurrence. General "Anthony Wayne." The third contribution is one of present moment, one that will command the widest reading both in this country and in other lands; it is by Dr. Prosper Bender, on the "Disintegration of Canada," and the theme is one that speaks for itself. Mr. A. W. Clanson adds another to his brilliant papers on the Constitution, entitled, "The Charleston Convention, 1788." J. McDonald Oxley, LL.B., B.A., of Ottawa, writes an able article of romantic interest on the "Historic Aspects of Sable Island." Mr. A. A. Hayes gives a not permitted by their church authorities to affiliate with Knights of Labor, the matter Campaign of 1862," a valuable contribution was brought to the attention of Rev. Father to the Civil War Studies; and Major William Howard Mills (U.S.A.) treats of the reorganization of the "Army of the Potomac under Hooker," furnishing a letter of President Lincoln, which no American reader can afford to miss. General "Baldy" Smith adds some highly interesting and significant data in connection with Major Mills' article on Burnside," in the January number of this popular publication; and the editor discourses briefly on "The Outlook for 1886," under the general head of "Historical Jottings." Original Documents, Notes and other departments, are crowded with matters of importance and entertainment. Price $5.00 a year in advance. Published at 30 Lafayette Place, New York City. THE NORTH AMERICAN REVIEW. - The articles on the leading questions of the day by competent and able writers. It opens with a paper on "The Congo and the Presi-dent's Message," by Mr. John A. Kasson, dent's Message," by Mr. John A. Kasson, Mr. Cassius M. Clay discusses the subject of "Race and the Solid South." "Ouida," in her paper, "Some Fallacies of Science," makes a recent address by Sir Lyon Playfair before the British Association, her excuse for warning her readers of the canger that lies before the world from its submission to the demands of science, which "would change it into one vast class-room and laboratory.' Mr. J. A Desmond calls attention to "America's Land Question," showing the dangers with which it threatened our social and political well-being. Figures are given fitted to indicate the increase of great farms and the enormous acquisitions of territory by private corporations and foreign landlords. Other contents are: "The Campaign of Shiloh," by Gen. Beauregard; "Aristocratic Tendencies of Protestantism," by O. F. Adams; "England and Ireland," by Henry George; "Sherman's Ocision of Crant "by Alla Thorndika man's Opinion of Grant," by Allan Thorndiko Rice; "Letters," by Gen. Jas. B. Barton Pierre Lorillard, Eugene George C. Barton, Pierre Lorillard, Eugene Mantvert, S. S. Herrick, H. J. Chase. Published at 30 Lafeyette Place, New York.

THE AMERICAN BOOKMAKER.-The January number is full of interesting and valuable matter to printers, bookbinders, lithographers and all connected with bookmaking. The opening pages are devoted to "Some Early American Bookmakers," a fine portrait of Benjamin Franklin illustrating the article. An essay on "Country Newspapers," is full of useful hints to those contemplating a newspaper. The great typesetting contest in New York calls forth interesting contributions on fast setters and their methods, with anecdotes of the extraordinary work done.
"The Arsist Engraver" and "Short Talks on Practical Bookbinding" are continued, and some correspondence on technical subjects, from Cincinnati, Philadelphia and Chicago; also an interesting sketch of Ainsworth R. Spofford, the Librarian of Congress. Howard Lockwood publishers, 126 Duane street, New York.

VICK'S FLORAL GUIDE.-Vick's Floral Guide for 1886, the pioneer Seed Annual, comes to us this year a real gem, not a list of hard botanical names, but over thirty pages of reading matter, among which are articles on roses, house plants, cheap green house, onion culture, mushrooms, manures, young gardeners, and very interesting reading, fol lowed by about 150 pages, containing illustrations, descriptions and prices of seemingly everything that the heart could desire in the line of seeds, plants, bulbs, potatoes, etc. Any one desiring any goods in this line cannot do better than send ten cents for the Floral Guide to Jas. THE NEW YORK FASHION BAZAR.-The February number of this fashiop monthly is a very attractive one. The full page colored fashion plate has 6 figures, showing the styles of dress to be worn by those who can afford to keep up with the run of tho fashione. There are innumerable other illustrations, of the latest style of bonnets, hats, children's dresses, lace work, borders, &c., together with a large variety of reading matter. George Munro, publisher, 17 Vandewater street. New York.

The annual issued by the Catholic Mirror of Baltimore for 1886 is one of exceptional merit. It is replete with choice and interesting selections, is profusely illustrated and neatly printed. It is fully in keeping with the general excellence of the Mirror itself, which stands first in the front rank of Catholic journals.

WOMAN'S BARBARITY.

SHOCKING CRIMES COMMITTED IN ENGLAND London, Feb. 6. - Three cases of shocking cruelty are reported from different parts of the country. A woman in Mansfield, Nottingham, reasted her own child to death. She stripped the infant, for it was scarcely more, quite naked and fasteneo it with wires in front of the grate, and watched it slowly roasting to death. The woman was pronounced insane by one doctor, but as this opinion was not sustained by the medical officer of the district, she was found guilty of manslaughter. In the second case, which occurred in Bristol, there is no suspicion of mental derangement. but the strongest proof of fiendish malignity. Mrs. Burdon, who keeps a small grocery, recently took into her employ an orphan girl thirteen years of age, who apparently was not very intelligent. Mrs. Burdon treated her as a drunken costermonger does his donkey, to unlimited flag-ellatione, which she varied at times by branding the child on various parts of the body with a red-hot poker. The frequent sells which were heard by the neighbors led to complaints being laid, and the woman was arrested. The policeman who took Mrs. Burdon into custody, and the doctor who was called in, corroborated each other that the girl was a mass of barns and bruises from head to heels. The woman, when arrested, admitted having "corrected" the girl with a poker, but said she was not aware it was hot. She was committed for trial. The third case occurred in Burnley, Lancashire, where a drunken pitman, because his wife had not his dinner ready for him when he came in, took their infant child out of the cradle, and swinging it round by the legs, dashed its brains out against the wall. On the complaint of his wife the savage, whose name is Joe Moyles, was arrested this morning.
