Ross H. McMaster, Esq.,
Vice-President, Steel Co. of Canada,
Montreal.

Dear Mr. McMaster:-

I wish to thank you very much for your letter of last week commenting on the Extension Course in Export Trade.

I shall pass it along to those who are dealing more directly with this course and I am sure they will take advantage of the suggestions you outline. This year's course is largely in the nature of an experiment and I have no doubt that at its conclusion we shall have thought of many things which, if embodied, would mean an improvement. The thing is to think of as many of these things before the course starts as possible.

I know the Committee has derived much of practical value and certainly encouragement from the meeting we had last week. I think in connection with our Commerce Course at McGill we could be well served by an Advisory Committee of business men and it is my intention to create such a committee, but of this I shall write you further later on.

Yours faithfully,

Principal.
