

The improvements in equipment mentioned above, costing from $150,000 to $160,000, have been supplemented by minor additions made from time to time out of regular annual appropriations. Although the expenditure was not large comparatively, it has resulted in a marked strengthening of the undergraduate work and constitutes by far the most important advance in the material resources of the Faculty in thirty years.
