

CONTENTS

CHAPTER XII

COBBETT'S CORRESPONDENCE (1807-1808) . . .	PAGE 3-25
--	--------------

CHAPTER XIII

PROSECUTION BY THE GOVERNMENT (1809-1810)

The Duke of York and Mrs. Mary Anne Clarke—The War Office Scandal—Colonel Wardle brings the matter forward in the House of Commons—Cobbett in the Political Register supports Wardle—Organises a public meeting in the County of Southampton to applaud Wardle—The Government anxious to proceed against Cobbett—"Local Militia and German Legions"—The attorney-general files an information against Cobbett—Cobbett prepares his defence—The trial—Sentence—Subsequently transpires that Cobbett offered to stop the Political Register if he was not brought up for judgment—His address "To the readers of the Register ". . .	26-54
---	-------

CHAPTER XIV

IN NEWGATE (1810-1812)

Cobbett faces imprisonment boldly—But in his writings dwells upon the drawbacks incidental to it—The conditions of imprisonment in 1810—Comfortable lodgings obtainable—Visitors allowed to call—His gratitude for kindness shown to him—Permitted to pursue his work for the Register —"Paper against Gold"—The imprisonment ruined him—Carries on the education of his children—His letters to his family at Botley and other correspondence—He finds that he has been defrauded by Wright and other business associates—His release in July 1812—Entertained at dinner by Sir Francis Burdett—An awkward contretemps —Reception at Botley . . .	55-73
--	-------