When Daniel Williams of Toronto died in October last, he left a policy for $2000 in the Ancient Order of United Workmen. The policy was dated Dec. 21, 1889, and made payable to his wife, Mary Jane Williams. Afterwards, on Oct. 22, 1896, he changed the direction for payment, declaring that his first wife was dead. On June 3, 1906, Williams married Catharine Corbett, who alleges that she had no knowledge until afterwards that Williams had been previously married and had obtained a divorce in Massachusetts. Now different parties are claiming the insurance moneys, and the Grand Lodge of the A.O.U.W. asked the master inchambers to be allowed to pay the money into court until the proper parties entitled to it are determined.
