OUTLAWS RETURN TO THE FOLD PROTECTION FOR TRI-STATERS

Application Accepted by Baseball Commission at Cincinnati—Toronto Will Look for the Return of Fred Crolius.

Cincinnati, Jan. 7.—Favorable action by the National Baseball Commission today upon the application of the Tri-State League of Pennsylvania for protection under the national agreements, ends the re-urge of contract jumpers. But little difficulty was experienced in arriving at an agreement. The committee from the Tri-State League, headed by President Carpenter, presented the application. After some deliberation, terms were reached by which the Tri-State comes into the fold of the national agreements, which will meet in New York tomorrow. The delegates left for New York immediately after the conclusion of the meeting of the National Commission. The agreement entered into by the commission and the Tri-State League provides that the question of classification and eligibility of the new members shall be determined by the National Association. All players who have heretofore violated national agreement contracts will not be allowed to play with any club except those of the Tri-State League. Players from the Tri-State League, except contract jumpers, who have signed contracts with national players who are to remain with the club which signed them. All major league club players in the Tri-State League who are not to remain with them, in case of dispute over title to them, the National Commission shall decide the ownership. Minor league players coming under this rule will have their titles fixed by the National Association.
